

PUPILS' ITEMS

Patsie Barrett has entered the printing office.

Grace Benjamin made very nice bread at the hospital.

Tom Cox is now the afternoon janitor in the school building.

Hugh Jackson is taking lessons on the guitar and he is learning very fast.

Mr. Burdett left Wednesday for Idaho, where he will make his future home.

The girls of the Sixth Grade are very glad to see Ruth Brewer in school again.

Olive Harris and Lenore Rainville are the best bread cutters in the dining hall.

Alice Chalcraft has a new piece to play on the piano. Its name is Meditation.

Mr. Fickle gave the fifth grade a very interesting talk last Friday about the growing of corn.

Miss Evelyn Woods has been the victim of an attack of pleurisy during the past week, but we understand that she is now convalescent.

A sad letter was received from Mrs. Joe McArthur, nee Elfen Olney, saying that Josie Gunyon, one of our ex-pupils, is very sick and not expected to live. We are all very sorry to hear of Josie's illness, and we hope that she will recover.

We sixth grade boys extend a hearty welcome to Luther Clements, Gideon Hanbury and Geo. Carran, who were promoted from the fifth grade. We were glad but sorry to lose Ben. Wilcox and Geo. Howard who were promoted to the seventh grade.

THIRTIETH ANNIVERSARY.

The Chemawa Indian school celebrated the 30th anniversary of its establishment Friday. As is the custom of the school, the employes and the pupils of the institution assembled in the school chapel in the evening. More than 40 impromptu speeches were made by the pupils of the school, showing their appreciation of what the school and the government has done for them and their race.

The Chemawa school was established by Captain M. C. Wilkinson, U. S. A., February 25, 1880, at Forest Grove, and the school was moved from there to its present location in 1885. Chemawa was established almost simultaneously with the Carlisle school.

The records show that Oregon's school has had more industrial successes than any school in the Indian service. Among the graduates and ex-pupils are a bank president, a bank teller, a capitalist, an executor of $300,000 estate, lawyers, clerks, a general land office clerk in Washington, merchant, tailors, blacksmiths, harnessmakers, tailors who have their own shops; dressmakers nurses and telephone girls; chief engineers in the Indian service, on steamships, in large manufacturing plants, in logging camps; carpenters, blacksmiths, tailors, bakers, printers harnessmakers, journeyman numbering more than 300, and farmers over 400.

Since the establishment of the Chemawa school, it has been visited by four presidents. President Hayes, called in 1880; President Harrison in 1891; Roosevelt in 1904, and President Taft visited the Institution last year.—Oregonian.
