

sitates the use of at least two one-cent pieces, for if a five-cent piece is rendered, two cents must be returned.

Perhaps this growing demand for a coin smaller than the five-cent piece will again call into use the three-cent piece made of nickel or the copper two-cent piece reduced in size. As conditions now are the nimble penny leads all its kind in popularity.—Ex.

WOOD BUTCHERS.

Everything is moving along fine. We just received a shipment of wagon rims—twenty sets. They look to be all O. K.

If you ever want to make sandpaper take common window glass; that which has a green tint is best. Powder it and sift through sieves of varying fineness, for coarse and fine sandpaper. Then any coarse paper is covered with glue and the powdered glass is sifted upon it. After standing a day or two the refuse sand is shaken off and the paper is ready for use.

Dissolve two ozs. of dextrin in five ozs. of hot water and one oz. of acetic acid and one oz. spirits of wine and you have the formula the Government uses to gum postage stamps.

If any one is interested in how to make thirty-three kinds of solder he can get the formula from the wood-butchers. We are always looking up these things while some are playing.

You may see Nellie Roswell studying every spare moment she has to herself. Nellie says that she wants to catch up with her chum, Ella Flemming.

Minnie Clark is working on the floor again. Miss Troutman is very glad to have her.

LOCALS

Dr. Clausen and son, and Roy Bradford from Siletz, were here on a visit Sunday.

Mr. Herbert J. Campbell came down from Portland on Saturday night and spent Sunday and Monday with his parents.

Attorney E. D. Wilcox, of Tacoma, Wash., was a visitor at the school on Tuesday. Mr. Wilcox is the guardian of Ruther Jake and as he had business in Portland he concluded to come on to Chemsawa and see Ruther.

It is a very poor compliment to any one who is kind enough to get up a musical program for the pleasure and entertainment of boys and girls, to have those same boys and girls misbehave during the rendition of fine music which has been specially prepared for them. Shame!

Ernest Brewer arrived at the school on Saturday from his home at Tacoma, Wash., for a visit with his mother and sisters. He is looking well and reported that other members of the family at the Tacoma home are in good health and getting along nicely. Ernest returned to Tacoma on Monday afternoon.

Nell, one of the horses which made up the faithful team of Ladd and Nell of the Chemsawa farm, had the cords of its hind left legs cut by a scraper on Monday while leveling off land east of the school. A horse doctor was summoned from Salem, but upon seeing that there was no hope of healing the leg, shot the horse to put it out of misery.
