

PUPILS' ITEMS

We all enjoyed the band concert Sunday.

Willie Ready entered the tailor shop a few days ago.

The Alaskan children had a sociable last Monday night.

The engineers and plumbers are giving the plumber shop a general clean up this week.

The girls of the graduating class can be seen very busy every day sewing for themselves.

Mr. Campbell, Mr. Smith and Mr. Larsen gave the relay boys "medicine" talks on Monday.

Mrs. Liphart's daughter Minnie came down from Portland to visit her mother last Sunday.

We are all glad to see Lawrence Smith back again after having his long vacation at his home in Grande Ronde.

Mary Loftus and Eleanor Lynch are progressing rapidly in duet playing. They have several duets in their repertoire.

Viola Ferris is taking music lessons on the mandolin and she is getting along very nicely. She practices every spare minute she has.

Last Sunday Miss Nicholson took a number of girls out to spend the afternoon in the woods. We all had a nice time gathering flowers.

The sewing-room girls have finished both sets of summer uniforms for the girls, and are now making some nice curtains for Brewer Hall.

Dollie Case appreciated the first strawberries of the season and grape juice that Misses Grear and Faris brought her while she was in the hospital.

Father Paul Datin, of Brooks, Oregon, is now coming down every Monday to instruct all of the Catholic pupils of Chemawa. We all appreciate his kindness very much.

You can hear Olive Picard early in the morning practicing on the piano. She is one of Miss Campbell's best musicians. She has a new piece, the name of it is "Forget-me-not."

The Estelle Reets had a nice picnic Saturday afternoon and every girl that went enjoyed playing in the woods before eating her supper. And we thank Miss Faris and Miss Grear for the nice time we had.

Ellen Tohet and Millie Friedlander are busy every spare moment they have making sofa pillows in order to have a cozy corner. Ellen says she loves to sit and gaze around at beautiful things, so she is trying to have a corner which will be attractive to those who may visit her.

Mr. Abbott, who is interested in Sunday school and Bible classes, visited the school rooms on Tuesday afternoon. He gave the seniors a few encouraging words. Esther Napoleon and Harry Jones then told him what the members of the Y. W. and Y. M. C. A. were doing.

Mr. Marsden an Indian Missionary of Alaska, gave the girls and boys a very interesting talk. He spoke about the opportunities that we have at the present time, and hopes that we will make the best of them. We also learned that he is trying to uplift his race. In closing his talk, he wished all the boys and girls success.
