

BREVITIES.

Frank Feliz entered the bakery this week.

Frank Rosenberger is electrician at the laundry.

Joe Demmert, of Alaska, is now on the kitchen detail.

Willie Lee is now holding down a place at the laundry.

Elmer Parker is fireman in the bakery these days.

Mr. Zimmerman came to the school on business Tuesday.

New blocks were cut this week to be used in the butcher shop.

The inside of Brewer Hall was given a general cleaning this week.

The wagonmakers cleaned a number of gopher guns for Mr. Westley this week.

Tony Reed made some very delicious buns Wednesday morning in the bakery shop.

A wheelbarrow and a barber chair were repaired by the wagon-makers this week.

On his trip to Salem last Saturday Mr. Swartz purchased a new set of teeth for the hay rake.

Mr. Reed of Siletz spent a few hours at the school visiting his sons, Tony and Elmer, this week.

The blacksmiths are very busy this week making a stairway leading down into the tower well.

Nels Charles and his bakery force gave the front part of the bakery shop a general cleaning on Wednesday morning.

Mr. Campbell accompanied the band and ball team to Gladstone Park on Monday and remained to see them settled in camp.

Mr. La Follette of Mission Bottom came to the school on Tuesday evening to sell peaches and quickly disposed of fifty crates.

After having finished plastering the kitchen caldron partition the plasterer has again taken up the work to be done on the skylights in Brewer Hall.

The members of the forenoon printing force had quite a change of work on Tuesday afternoon when they were sent to the hay field to shock hay. O, you blisters!

"Our hardest work now is keeping the truck garden cultivated while engaged in pea picking," said Mr. John Westley, the gardener, when talking to reporter on Tuesday morning. "And," he continued, "the apple crop this year will be the largest, compared with previous years, while the peach plums are abundant and have already begun to show ripeness."

Mr. Egan a prominent Willamette Valley peach grower and friend of the Indian, who, last year made a promise and carried it out by treating last year's relay team to a box of peaches for winning the annual Salem-Portland race, also made a like promise this year when he treated this year's team likewise. The boys appreciate this very much and as Mr. Egan has promised them a box every time they win the race another one is expected next year.