

LOCALS

The boys were reseated in the dining hall on Monday morning.

The having season ended this week, so far as Chemawa's hay goes.

The herrypickers returned from the yard on Saturday evening to stay.

A large force of boys was put to cleaning the campus of all trash on Saturday afternoon.

No work was attended to this week, the work indulged in being that which was necessary.

Mr. Dan C. McGill arrived at the school on Sunday morning for a visit with his children.

Henry Shaw and John Hunter returned on Saturday, having been out working on a hay bailer.

Ethel and Inez Brewer were made happy a few days ago by the arrival of their mother for a short visit.

Mr. George Fickle, who has been visiting his cousin, Harry L. Fickle, at the school, left on Sunday for his home in Ohio.

William Bean and Walter Regan, former pupils of Chemawa, came down to the school on Sunday evening from Chautauqua with the band and base ball team for a short visit.

SAUNDERS-BENDER.

At the Episcopal Church in Salem on Saturday afternoon, July 23, 1910, the marriage of Miss Anna Bender and Mr. Reuben Saunders was solemnized in the presence of a few friends; Rev. Barr G. Lee was the officiating clergyman. Immediately after the ceremony the newly wedded couple went to Portland for a brief honeymoon.

Both of the young people are employees at the Chemawa School, the bride being an assistant clerk, which position she has held ever since coming to the school a couple of years ago. She is a very capable and affable young lady. Mr. Saunders is the industrial teacher at the school and is known all over the country as a record-breaking athlete. Both of the young people have many friends here and elsewhere who sincerely wish them all the joys of life, in which wish The American joins most heartily.

SENIOR RECEPTION.

One of the events this week which numbered on our commencement program was the senior reception on Monday evening given by Mr. and Mrs. Campbell at their cottage. After the band concert which was given at the bandstand, the guests, in groups of two or more, marched to and found the place beautifully decorated and well prepared for the occasion. Seats were placed on the lawn among the rose bushes. Here Mrs. Campbell received and welcomed the guests, and to each member of the class she presented a miniature pennant of black bearing an initial S in gold at the center. Several Japanese lanterns were hung on the porch, giving soft, green, blue and red light to the happy throng on the lawn.

Later in the evening the cold, boisterous sea breeze drove the banqueters into the house where the rest of the evening was enjoyably spent in conversation, refreshments and music.

The cross-country run over a 5-mile course resulted in a victory for Walter Haight.
