Col. R. N. Pringle, supervisor of the engineering department, and wife, and daughter, Marian, were at Chemawa during the month. Marian is a bright and sweet little girl and made a friendly impression to all those she met.

Matilda John writes from her uncle's at Tacoma that, "George Kross, Andy Walker and myself are counting days, getting rather anxious to go back. We are planning on leaving here on the last Wednesday of September.

Approximately eighty tons of hay have been put up this year. There are 24 acres of sweet corn for the table use of our boys and girls. The forty acre potato patch looks very promising. Mr. Westley stated that there are more vegetables this year than we can use.

The engineers and plumbers are hard at work connecting hot water pipes to the kitchen. After this they shall also make the same connections with the Brewer Hall, Mitchell Hall and Small Girls' Home, removing the hot water boilers from these buildings to one central point, at the base of the tower, where steam shall be used for heating water. This will be a great improvement over that of the furnace system. When this is completed all these buildings will be supplied with hot water at all times.

Miss Irene Campbell arrived at Chemawa last week from "The Breakers," Washington, where she took part in the Invitation Tennis Tournament held at that place. We are glad to inform our readers that Miss Irene was successful in winning two beautiful silver cups at this tournament, one in the ladies' doubles, first prize, and the other in the ladies single, second prize. Mrs. H. E. Judge, of Portland, being her partner in the ladies' doubles. They also won the first prize in ladies' doubles at the Fall Irvington Tournament in Portland. The papers stated, "They have a clear title as one of the best teams ever seen on the Irvington courts."

It is with the deepest regret that we record the death of Mrs. Antoine M. Caise. It was a great shock and an unpleasant surprise to her many friends here at Chemawa, when the sad news reached us, as she was visiting here a few weeks previous of her death. She died in Portland on the 26th of August. She is survived by a husband and four children, two boys and two girls. Mrs. Caise had been a pupil of Chemawa for many years and Mr. Caise filled the position of a clerk. The American joins the many sincere friends in sympathizing the bereaved family.
