

BREVITIES.

Jennie Luke is laundry sergeant this month.

The gardeners are busy picking apples this week.

Thomas Williams has returned and has taken up baking.

Lee Evans and John Adams have returned from Siletz.

Neva Souvignier and Minerva Meeum are now taking vocal lessons.

Mrs. Fickle's sewing-room girls are very busy making dresses for the new girls.

Jake and Charlie Hilburn, of Rockford, Washington, were enrolled this week as pupils.

Some water pipeing was hauled to the to the plumber shop this week from a car on the switch.

Reginald and Robert Downie returned to Chemawa yesterday from Tacoma, where they spent the summer.

George Kross and Ruther Jake returned to school on Tuesday from Tacoma, where they spent their vacation.

The football team has done a little rough work in the way of practice, but will soon settle down to steady work.

Alex Cajete is an example of what a boy can accomplish if he will. He is "making good" as a tailor in Salem. He paid us a visit on Sunday.

Six new pupils arrived on Wednesday evening from Ketchikan, Alaska. They are: Paul Keninook, Peter John, Frank Williams, William Dell, Andrew Williams and Mary Kean.

A very nice thing on the part of Buford Spencer on finding a watch on one of the walks last Sunday morning was looking up the owner so promptly as he did. Miss White proved to be the distressed owner and Buford's action in this matter will not soon be forgotten by her. In fact, Buford's good action was noted by all of us.

It is a matter of congratulation and pride to those who are connected with the school to see so many old and new pupils coming in at this season of the year and enrolling. This fact speaks volumes for the school and its value to pupils and the entire country.

The beginning of school is always certain to entail more or less confusion. This must be expected, as numerous new pupils have to be examined and assigned places in the academic and industrial departments. However, we find at the end of only the second week of school that everything is quite well organized and running smoothly.

A boy who is proving a credit to himself and the school from which he graduated, Chemawa, is Thomas McCully. He is steadily employed in Salem, is saving up his money, and maintaining himself in respectability. He proves his regard for the school, too, by coming out on a visit on Sundays and such intervals as he is not otherwise engaged. He is setting a good example for other boys to follow and we are proud of him.

A Berlin compositor, Hans Hinke, employed by the Deutsche Tageszeitung, has, our Berlin correspondent states, just taken the degree of Ph. D. at the University of Berlin. Dr. Hinke attended lectures at the university and studied in his spare hours, the proprietors of the Deutsche Tageszeitung having facilitated his task by allowing him to work at such hours as were convenient to him.—London Standard.