

LOCALS

Miss Grear has recovered from her recent illness and is again attending her duties in the school room.

Miss Brown went to Portland on Saturday. Miss Leader was also in or near Portland at the same time.

Supt. and Mrs. Chalcraft dined on mallard ducks last Sunday, thanks to the marksmanship of their son, Pickering. A dinner of wild duck is one much appreciated the world over.

Haines DeWitt came out from Grande Ronde for a day's visit this week. He is working on a house for Mr. Joseph Teabo, which he expects to finish within a couple of weeks. He will be here again for Thanksgiving.

At the close of the chapel service on Sunday evening Supt. Chalcraft spoke a few minutes to those assembled. He wished to endorse the sermon of Dr. McGaw by testimony of conditions he had seen as the result of being caught in the liquor trap. His statements were quite impressive.

Mr. Enright accompanied a number of boys who wished to purchase citizen suits of clothing for themselves to Salem on Monday. This was a good move, as Mr. Enright's knowledge of clothes—workmanship and material—would safeguard anybody who trusted to him in the selection of a suit.

Mr. Gray, a gentleman who has resided in Yakutat, Alaska, for many years, visited us last week and placed his adopted daughter in the school. He expressed amazement at what he saw in the way of academic and industrial equipment at Chemawa. This was Mr. Gray's first visit out from Yakutat in twelve years.

The discourse of Dr. McGaw last Sunday evening was both interesting and instructive. His sermon was somewhat illustrated and dealt with the traps and snares set to enmesh mankind. The dominating traps are tobacco, cards and whiskey. The various conditions of life arising from being caught in these traps are simply appalling.

Rev. Mr. Goudge was out from Salem last Friday for a visit with his numerous Chemawa friends. Mr. Goudge supplied our pulpit regularly for a number of years, but at present he is in the field at large and is supplying various pulpits near here, as the necessity arises. He has his headquarters in Salem, is getting along nicely and feeling well.

Asst. Supt. Campbell arrived home last Saturday. While in Portland he was interviewed by an Oregonian reporter and Sunday's Oregonian contained quite an extended article on Mr. Campbell's views of land leasing, diversified farming and stock-raising for Indians possessed of land. Mr. Campbell's many years in the service have given him great opportunities for observation.

Mr. Chas. E. Larsen went to McMinnville on Saturday to attend a conference of College representatives who are identified with The Willamette Valley Basketball League. Representatives of every league team were in attendance and the schedule was fixed and other matters of importance given attention. Our first game will be in January. Mr. Larsen was elected president of the league for the ensuing year. He is in every way capable and worthy the honor and has our congratulations.