

THANKSGIVING EXERCISES.

On Thursday morning at 10 o'clock the pupils and employes of the school assembled in chapel for Thanksgiving exercises. The chapel was beautifully decorated and there was quite a display of fruits and vegetables. Evergreens adorned the rostrum and the school colors, red and white, were in evidence here and there. The exercises were memorable in every way and were as follows:

Hymn	Come Thou Almighty
King		School
The Lords' Prayer		School
The Twenty-third Psalm		School
Hymn	All Hail the Power of Jesus'
Name		School
Thanksgiving Proclamation
	Read by James Benjamin
Hymn	We'll Bring Him Hearts
That Love Him		School
Remarks	by Employes and Pupils
Hymn	We Plough the Fields
and Scatter		School
New England's First Thanksgiving
	Eugene Anderson
Doxology		School

Supt. Chalcraft presided over the exercises and as he called upon the various employes and students present each arose and made remarks appropriate to the occasion. Among those who made remarks were several visitors at the school.

DINNER

At noon all repaired to the dining-room, where after grace by Supt. Chalcraft the students were served with a fine turkey dinner. The employes of the school carved the turkeys and acted as waiters. The dining-room certainly presented a fine appearance. Evergreens, colored papers and pumpkins were used in the artistic and beautiful effects produced and were certainly a fine testimonial for those who had the work in charge.

Following is the menu served on this occasion: Roast Oregon turkey with cranberry sauce, giblet gravy, pickle relish, salad, mashed potatoes, mince pie, pumpkin pie, fruit cake, jelly, apples, bread and butter and coffee

CHEMAWA VS. ALBANY HIGH

The above is the way the game was advertised and was also the way we expected to play but, if it had read, Chemawa vs. Albany High, Albany College and Alco Athletic Club, it would have been advertised correctly. The game went something like this: Albany and our boys played about an even game in the first quarter, but in the second quarter our boys, for a reason unknown, could not stop the man behind the combined A. H. S., A. C. and A. A. C. interference and they made two touch-downs, one by line plungs nine seconds before time was up and the other by a forty-five yard run by an Albany man after receiving a forward pass from the quarterback of that combined lay out. He carried the ball to within 10 yards of our goal, but was then downed. The next three rushes put the ball over the line and

The Thanksgiving dinner at the employes' quarters was very nice in every way. We had an unusually large gathering at the "festive board" on this occasion and hospitality and enjoyment of the occasion were in evidence on every hand. The dining-room was beautifully decorated, even to the tables, evergreens being in profusion on all sides. Miss Troutman, manager of the "Mess," and her assistants are certainly deserving of praise in making such ample provision for the occasion.
