

TAILOR SHOP ITEMS.

How about the basketball shop teams?

The tailor shop basketball team is full of ambition.

Get together and organize the inter-school league shop teams.

The tailors are busy designing a championship banner for the 1910-11 season.

Joe Demment is meeting the requirements. He is a worker.

Joe Simpson has finished a 3-button sack of blue serge for his brother. It is a very creditable piece of work and has the stamp of excellence upon it.

Marion Curl is with the tailor shop again and we are pleased to welcome him into our fold. He is a young gentleman.

George Baker reports that the Mecum boys are working in a sawmill at Coquille, Oregon.

The tailor shop received three Singer sewing machines the other day and we now have seven. They are kept "singing" all day long.

For up-to-date basketball trousers see Nick Hatch and Arthur Van Pelt, merchant tailors. For samples look at the printers' trousers.

 BREVITIES.

Roy Nicholas entered the blacksmith shop last Friday.

Rosie O'Brien is now working in the dining-hall and does her work very nicely.

Mrs. Saunders is recovering from her recent illness and is now able to be out of bed.

The plumbers are laying the steam and hot water pipes to the small boys' building.

The Winged Cs and the Chemawa Reds played a very interesting game Saturday.

We are new girls in Miss Brown's sewing room. We hope we will become good dress-makers some of these days.

We have been informed that members of the Chemawa Gun Club are arranging for a "chicken shoot" to be held tomorrow. Who says "chicken?"

During the week the part of the building which formerly was utilized as a bakery was thoroughly cleaned up and put in good order. It is now a part of our plumbing shop.

We stated recently that a coffee roaster had been installed by Mr. Van Tassel and his force. This was a mistake—Mr. Mann and his boys should have been credited with the work.

We have already selected a place to hang the championship pennant in school basketball this year. We believe it will aid and harmonize with the "color scheme" of our office.

The printers acknowledge the receipt of six pairs of white Indian head trousers direct from the tailor shop. We expect to wear them when we win the inter-school championship in basketball this season. The tailor shop has our "heart-felt" thanks for the favor done us.

General Grant's famous saying, "I propose to fight it out on this line if it takes all summer," is brought to mind by a characteristic story of President Lincoln, quoted in Joseph Choate's volume of addresses: Lincoln was being urged to displace General Grant. He fended off the insinuations that Grant was not fit for his post on account of personal habits, and when pressed on other grounds to get rid of him, the President replied "I can't spare that man; he fights."
