Merry Christmas!

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell spent Friday and Saturday in Portland.

Miss Irene Campbell arrived home Monday evening from a trip to Salem.

Dr. Fulkerson and Mr. Cooper went to Portland on Wednesday to purchase the Christmas supplies for the pupils.

Mrs. Douglas arrived at Chemawa a few days ago from Phoenix, Arizona. She is here in the capacity of nurse.

Mrs. Chalcraft was quite ill a few days ago, but is now much improved and is again attending the duties of her household.

Nellie and Christine Boswell left yesterday for their home in Cordova, Alaska. They left many young friends behind them.

Work on the small boys' home is progressing nicely and in time the little chaps will be in most comfortable quarters of their very own.

We enjoyed a few mornings during the first of the week which seemed to indicate the presence of Mr. Jack Frost. The air was delightfully crisp about 6 a. m.

Sunday is Christmas and millions of children in christendom will be rejoiced on this great holiday. Some are already on the tip-toe of anticipation and can "almost" hear the bells tinkling on old Santa's reindeer now. Happy childhood! Soon the time will have passed and we hope only pleasant memories will remain.

Last Friday and Monday the girls of the school were allowed to go to Salem to do their Christmas shopping. Tuesday and Wednesday the boys had their turn at the Capital. The youngsters all had money and spent it for themselves and their friends. We often wonder if the business people of Salem have anything like an adequate idea of the money left them yearly by Chemawa pupils.

Mrs. Reuben Saunders is still in the hospital in Salem, where she has been for a couple of weeks. She certainly has had a serious time of it of late. First she had a very serious attack of cold. When nearly recovered from that she became a victim of ptomaine poisoning; then came an attack of appendicitis of most serious form. An operation became necessary and was performed. We are pleased to state that she is getting along nicely and hopes that she will soon be in good health and again entertained.

Geo. Perry has entered the tailorshop.

The gardeners sorted the apples this week.

Have you noticed John Horn's college hair cut?

Mr. Mitchell made the ice cream on Tuesday.

The paint and lumber house is almost completed.

Thos. Cox has been added to the kitchen detail.

We are all glad to see Thos. Cox back in school again.

The farmers are busy plowing behind the school building.

Arthur Van Pelt made himself a pair of basketball trousers on Saturday.

Those who are attending school in Salem are enjoying a week's vacation.
