

ACADEMIC ITEMS

John Crane is now working in the harness shop.

Lubova Siftsoff is now working in the hospital as a nurse.

Miss Howard, of Salem, was out on Sunday visiting Miss Skipton.

Mr. Gillett made a trip to Portland last week on business for himself.

Nich Hatch is now working on his own civilian suit in the tailor shop.

Mr. Teabo went to Grande Ronde on last Saturday to remain a few days.

The sewing room girls are expecting to finish the small girls' gingham this week.

Pearl Davis is expected to return from her home in Montana the last of this month.

Irving Shepard takes the place of Robert Downie as a "devil" in the printing office.

We all enjoyed the football game on last Saturday, played between the first and second teams.

We are all glad school started and glad to see so many boys and girls come back to the school.

Thomas Powers, who has been working in the engine room, is intending to work in the blacksmith shop.

In last Saturday's football game Reggie Downie made a good showing as quarter back for the first team.

The tailor shop apprentices are glad to have Gideon Hanbury return, for he is the ablest member of the force.

We have been having very few patients all summer long in the hospital and hope this continues all through the winter.

Miss Dohse took five girls out walking Sunday afternoon. They all enjoyed the walk and appreciated her kindness. When they came back she took them to her room and let them play some games.

LOCALS

President Taft was in Salem a few hours yesterday while on his tour of the West.

Mrs. Chalcraft has been filling a vacancy on the teaching staff during the past two weeks.

Miss Clover Miller, who taught a few days at our school, temporarily, left for Salem on Tuesday evening, having secured a permanent position as teacher in the schools of the capital city.

Dr. McGaw occupied our pulpit as usual last Sunday evening and delivered an interesting sermon. Next Sunday he will not be here owing to the fact that the synod will be in session.

BORN—To Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Fickle, at Chemawa, Oregon, on October 5, 1911, a daughter. The baby was named Susan in honor of Mrs. Fickle's mother, Mrs. Susan Stevenson.

Tomorrow evening, Oct. 14, the first "Chamber-Music" concert of the year will be given in our chapel. Mr. Mordaunt Goodnough, concert pianist, will be the visiting artist. He will be assisted by our string orchestra which consists of the following members: Ruthyn Turney, Maude Lowry, Rena Mann, violins; Pickering Chalcraft, viola; Chas. E. Larsen, 'cello, and Fannie Adams, double bass. A program and full account will be given in our next issue.