

LOCALS

We are having very little sickness at Chemawa.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith were among Chemawa's recent visitors in Portland.

A general clean-up at Chemawa accompanied the opening of school.

Edward Ainsworth, a former Chemawa pupil, was a visitor at the school on Monday.

Last Friday evening a social was given the pupils and the usual enjoyable time is reported.

Paul Kininook arrived back at school on Monday from a visit to his home at Ketchikan, Alaska.

On Thursday evening of last week the school societies met and an effort was made at organization for the coming school year.

Gideon Hanbury is back at Chemawa again after a visit at his home in Metlakatla, Alaska. He is again at his old haunt, the tailor shop.

Our football squad will try conclusions with Willamette University in Salem tomorrow. Do not show any weakness, boys. Play fair, but hard, and to win.

Last Saturday saw the end of the task of gathering and drying prunes at Chemawa for the year 1911. It was a bumper crop and was well cared for in every particular.

Arthur Van Pelt, a tailor shop apprentice while at Chemawa, is now working at his trade in Healdsburg, California. An item of this nature ought to stimulate a lot of other boys to master a trade that they, too, might do something worth while in the world.

ATHLETICS.

A new athletic council has been appointed for the year, Mr. Mann, Mr. Teabo and Mr. Smith representing the faculty, while Thos. Powers and Walter Miller represent the student body. Mr. Smith was elected chairman of the committee, Mr. Teabo secretary and Mr. Mann will handle the financial end of the work.

At a recent meeting of the council Mr. Smith was elected football manager, Mr. Larsen basketball manager, and Mr. Teabo baseball manager.

The present outlook for football is very good; most of the old players are back and are now hard at work on the field, under the leadership of Mr. Pendergrass, the All-Northwest guard and captain from O. A. C. Smith and Teabo are helping to whip the team in shape. New goal posts were put up, which are made of iron pipes, and they present a nice appearance with their coat of white paint.

At this stage of the game the old men, Scott, Douglas, Sortor, Minesinger, Clements and Jim, are the backbone of the team. The new men are working hard and faithfully. With careful coaching this coming week we will see some football. Downie, the new quarter, is doing well and with more ginger and snap will bid fair to grace the position. We are all waiting to see Walker return from his vacation. His punting and speed will instill more snap, speed and determination into the team. His slogan is "I don't care how fast you run, but run stout." So one and all, let's run, and every move we make on the field let it be good and stout. By doing this we will stem the tide of defeat and go through the season with victory after victory.
