

LOCALS

Alex Wallace is now playing solo alto in the band.

Mr Cooper was busy on Tuesday cutting the tall grass around his house.

George Wilson was down from Grande Ronde last week and paid us a short visit.

Mr. Mitchell and his boys are back of the lawn mowers and are making the grass look short.

The Chemawa juniors are to play the Salem Y. M. C. A. juniors a game of basketball in Salem this evening.

John Horn is now working on the garden detail after working in the bakery department for some time.

All of the five states of the United States of Chemawa have been organized and are now in full swing. We have seen a few good results already.

The band will practice every morning before school. Mr. Larsen has received some new music which they will practice and expect to play in public.

The tailors are making 13 new suits, out of Indian Head cloth, for the dairy-men. Mr Cooper and his boys will appear on the platform in the chapel to give demonstrations of their work soon.

On Tuesday the larger boys, who are interested in baseball and the big relay race, met in the Mitchell Hall reading room and discussed many things. Louis Dan was elected captain of the relay team and Luther Clements captain of the baseball team. The ball team will play anything that comes their way this season. Watch the relay team win.

The boys started last Monday to run the five-mile course and to get into trim for the big annual relay race against the Portland Y. M. C. A. which will be run on the fourth of May. Get right in and dig boys, we want to show the Y M. C. A. that they can't defeat us again. A try-out will be held tomorrow and most likely you will get on the training table.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kelly arrived on Monday evening from Bowling Green, Ohio. Mr. Kelly is a brother of Mrs. Van Tassel of Chemawa and he and his wife will visit here for a week or two. They are on a very extended tour of the country, having come from Ohio here via New Orleans and Los Angeles. They will return by way of Seattle and the northern route. Mr Kelly is an attorney-at-law in a well established practice.

JR. Y. M. C. A.

The junior Y. M. C. A. convened in their regular place of meeting on last Tuesday evening. A number of songs were sung and a few jokes and riddles were given by the members. Some of the members read Bible verses. A program was made out for the next meeting.

After adjournment Mrs. Brewer, our critic, was kind enough to take us to the kitchen and serve us with refreshments for which we were very thankful.

The membership now numbers thirty-three.

Lydia Bauer is now sergeant in the third company in McBride Hall.

We were all glad to have Chemawa win both games of basketball on Saturday.

James Whitehead is now working in the kitchen and intends to be a good cook when he goes home.
