

LOCALS

John Sortor, an ex-student, paid the school a short visit on last Tuesday.

Mr and Mrs Henderson were Rose Festival visitors in Portland on last Wednesday.

Chemawa now has two early trains to Portland, the S. P. having adopted a new schedule.

The bugle corps have been spending their spare moments down at the side hill practicing calls.

On Tuesday Mr. Sanders and Tom Powers repainted the front porch and the seats at the office.

During the latter part of the week the hydrants about the grounds were painted green by Ross Martin.

Tomorrow our boys will line up against Gov. West's "honor men" on the prison diamond in Salem.

There was just one thing lacking about the Winona picnic and that was—not one of the boys received a handout.

Picnic—The gardeners, dairy boys, and the grass cutters spent yesterday at Lincoln enjoying their annual picnic.

A large table and a few chairs have been taken to the sitting room of Brewer Hall, and soon many pictures will be seen around the walls. This all goes to show that the boys are taking pride in their home and wish to make everything as pleasant as possible.

Supt. G. W. Beattie of Alaska visited Chemawa for a few hours on Wednesday. He is always a welcome visitor at the school.

On Thursday Messrs. Pugh and Brace went through the boys' quarters for the purpose of collecting all condemned articles.

The boys of Mitchell Hall are taking a keen interest in their building and expect to have it in tip top shape for commencement week.

Mr. Webb, who is a partner of Messrs. Mann and Van Tassel in Southern Oregon mining property, arrived at the school yesterday morning.

On last Saturday Joseph Dunbar received the sad news of the death of his father, and departed for his home at Tulalip, Wash., on Sunday.

Howell Breedan has a goodly number of pet swallows at his place of work, that have their nest built about the electric light globes around the outside of the school house.

On last Tuesday morning Robert Service and Petroleum Barrett, two of our printer boys, cleaned the walls and scrubbed the floor of the barber shop at Brewer Hall.

On Wednesday evening Mrs. C. W. Pugh started for Los Angeles, California. She has a son down there and it is probable that she will remain in the "City of the Angels" for some time.

On Monday evening the citizens of the State of Progress held a meeting for the purpose of having the building thoroughly cleaned. You can plainly see that the talks given by the various citizens are having effect.

It was the intention of Mr. and Mrs. Mann to bring their daughter, Rena, home from the Salem hospital yesterday. Rena recently submitted to a surgical operation, but we are pleased to report that she is gradually recovering.