

LOCALS

Felix Isadore returned to Chemawa July 20 from his home in Washington.

The engineers have erected a turning bar in the coal shed for use when not busy.

Miss Dohse has been in charge of the dining hall for the last three or four weeks.

Felix E. Isadore, who returned from his home recently, is now working in the baker shop.

Alex Melevedo resigned his position as a telephone boy and Peter Nelson has taken his place.

Mr. Sanders and his painters are kept busy these days painting the roofs of the various buildings.

John, Robert, Louis, Tillie, Addie and Florence Horn left recently for their home in Washington.

Jay Hawley left the school on Tuesday, July 23rd, for Montana, where he will spend his vacation.

Mr. Larsen has been making things merry of late with the few band boys who are still at the school.

Since our last issue Ernest Brewer was here from Tacoma for a few days visiting relatives and friends.

Bennie McLeod received a letter recently stating that his brother would be here next fall to attend school.

Irving Shepard and Charles Wadsworth are employed by Mr. Henderson, selling the Saturday Evening Post.

The latest thing in social circles at Chemawa is the Moose Club. You will be compelled to join to get the particulars.

Gussie Corville and Geo. Roberts left for their homes on Tuesday evening. We wish them a happy journey and a good vacation.

Irving Shepard, one of our printer boys, had charge of a number of small boys recently while working in the berry patch of Mr. Liphart.

The crop of hay which grows annually about the grounds of the academic building was cut and gathered recently by Mr. Pugh and his detail.

Jake and Charley Hilburn left recently for their home in Idaho where they will spend their vacation. They expect to return to school in the fall.

Last week Miss Troutman made a trip to Seattle with a party of small children who were returning home. Everything incidental to the trip went nicely.

The school boys who constitute a section gang on the Southern Pacific have done a lot of good solid work at the station in the way of putting in new ties, etc.

At the Salem Cherry Fair on July 12th, Tom Powers took third in the 100-yd dash. Tom and others think that he really took second, but the decision of the judges settled the matter.

Nick Hatch, one of our tailor boys who has been employed of late at the Woolen Mills Store in Salem, burned his hand quite severely recently and spent his recuperative period at Chemawa.

Loulin Brewer came down from Tacoma, Wash., last week and after a brief visit returned north accompanied by his sister, Sara. The report is that Ernest and Loulin had become very lonesome and Miss Sara has gone to the Tacoma home to cheer them a bit and act the role of "lady of the house".