UTILITY HATS MOSTLY SMALL
 Headgear for Dressy Occasions Goes to Other Extremes and Large Shapes Have Call.

Utility hats for early wear are mostly small, says a milliner. For dressy occasions styles go to the other extreme and are very large. Seen in profile the crown is large and dome-shaped, the back brim about half the width of the front. The front view shows a broad brim much wider from side to side than from back to front. The hi-corn and tri-corn are favorite shapes, and some models are boat-shaped, with the brim or coronet rolling up close to the crown. A good many models have a narrow visor-like brim and others come out a little over the forehead, which, milliners say, is apt to be more becoming.

In the moderate sized hats poke shapes have reappeared. What their reception will be is hard to say, but if skirts become longer the future of the poke bonnet looks much more promising than it would otherwise.

There is still the tendency to let the brim or the trimming drop on the side, and all side trimmings are extremely good. On some of the large hats wide ribbon is used. Wide moire ribbon embossed is one of the ultra-fashionable notes in which fashion is indulging herself this season. The becoming, up-rolling brim is still with us.

FASHION NOTES FROM PARIS
 English or eyelid embroidery in taffeta or crepe de chine is important. Organdie, white or colored, is used for collars and cuffs, gilets and blouses of all kinds.
 Evening dresses are largely of beautiful beadwork with panels that cling to the ground work.
 A set of shell pink and orchid silk pajamas has the trousers of orchid piped in pink and the jacket of pink piped in orchid.
 The cape-back sleeve, a straight piece of lace or material, which goes from one wrist across the back and down to the other wrist, is much used for evening and afternoon frocks.

THE SANDMAN STORY

OLD SUN MAN SCOLDS
 They would have a warm place to stay until the sun shone again.

Teddy Squirrel began to think of the time he had wasted, for he had no more nuts in his nest and he was too cold to go out for some that he knew were hidden under a rock in the woods.

By and by the old Sun-Man peeped out from behind a cloud and looked at the Robins and Sparrows. He peeped into Teddy's hole in the tree, too, and then he began to scold.

"Why do you all think I made the days so nice and warm, I should like to know? I gave you two sunny days and you wasted them in quarreling over a tree."

"Here are trees enough for you all, and many more besides, but you foolish ones must pick out one tree and insist that there is no other. Get to work every one of you or I will go back behind the cloud and not shine again for a week."

They all went to work, you may be sure, and there was no more fussing, for none of them wanted to have the old Sun-Man scold again or go away and make the earth cold and wet.

Then along came three Sparrows, and when they found that some one wanted the tree very much they all decided that they wanted it, too, though they were comfortably located behind the attic blinds of the farmhouse.

All day they quarreled, and when night came the two young Robins had to sleep in the branches without a nest. They had wasted the time in disputing and no work was done.

But the first thing the next morning, when the sun came up, they all began quarreling again.

The Sparrows should have been repairing their nests instead of quarreling over something they did not want, for the winter winds had broken their homes and they were very ragged looking, indeed.

Teddy Squirrel, too, should have been at home making his nest clean from the shells he had left from his winter meals, but he, too, came back to say the tree was his because he had been looking at it all winter out of his hole in the tree at the edge of the woods.

And so all these silly creatures wasted two warm spring days in quarreling and the next morning they awoke to find the sky all gray and the air cold and damp.

The two young Robins began to shiver. They did not feel at all like quarreling. The Sparrows wished they had repaired their broken nests so

"WHILE there's life there's hope."
 No truer statement ever was made. Every one has heard it and nearly every one believes it. But to judge by the pitiable lives of many even to believe that a large number fail to put their belief into practice.

"TACT"
 Sir Chartres Biron, London's chief magistrate, once gave a lecture on "Tact" and incidentally related a story of a Scottish minister who on one occasion thus addressed a condemned criminal: "Donald, man, the gallows are ready, the hangman's ready, the rope's ready—are ye ready?"—Chicago Herald.

Spiritualistic Mania.
 From Southern Bavaria comes the report of an entire family of 11 members going insane through spiritualistic experiments. The neighbors found them, after destroying their furniture, about to offer up an infant as a sacrifice to the "spirit of pure light."—Scientific American.

Swallowed Each Other.
 A perfectly formed hard-shell crab about the size of the end of a person's thumb was found in an oyster shell. The crab had evidently been swallowed by the oyster, but presumably it proved too much for the oyster, as there was no oyster in the shell when it was opened.

Boxwood Hard to Obtain.
 In this country we once used tons of the Turkish and Persian boxwood for engraving, but this finely textured wood, is now difficult to obtain and very high priced. Ordinarily we use 3,000 tons of it annually.

Words to Be Avoided.
 There are two simple words in our language that have caused more misery than all the plagues of history. They have broken lifelong friendships, set brother against brother, separated lovers and caused children to weep. These poisoned words have sent innocent persons to the gallows and have turned the debutante into a demimondaine. Think well before you let them pass your lips. They are "They say."—Exchange.

Removing Scratches From Glass.
 Slight scratches in glass can be partially polished out by rubbing with rough wet water, upon a piece of soft leather. Deeper scratches must be ground out with flour emery. A buff wheel is useful for work of this kind. Another formula for a powder to rub into scratches is 60 parts powdered chalk, 30 parts tripoli and 15 parts bole; wet the surface of the article slightly, then rub with linen cloth dipped in this powder.

The "Strike" Is On.
 The customer called the waiter. "There's a chunk of wood in my sausage," said he. "I expect to be served with the dog, but I'll be hanged if I'll eat the kennel, too."

 "If you want to succeed, son," said Uncle Eben, "you gotta learn to get 'er as busy as you does over a crap game."

THE HAND OF A SOLDIER
AS MIGHT almost be expected, the hand of a successful soldier must be square and firm. The top phalanx of the thumb must be strong, to indicate will power and ability to command. As the soldier—that is, the officer—must frequently use tact and diplomacy, the second phalanx of the thumb should be well curved.

Ambition is indicated by a line running from the line of life to or toward the mount of Jupiter, under the forefinger. A star on the mount of Jupiter reveals distinctions gained in the field or elsewhere.

If there is present in the hand what is called a second mount of Mars—that is, a mount lying between the line of life and the mount of Jupiter—it indicates unusual bravery and daring. A short line running from the line of fate, which runs vertically up the palm of the hand to Saturn, shows a government appointment. The mount of Mars—about the middle of the palm, on the outside—should be strong, to express endurance.

"What's in a Name?"

Dr. MILDRED MARSHALL
FACTS about your name; its history; meaning; whence it was derived; significance; your lucky day and lucky jewel

LENA
 LENA or Lina, as it is frequently spelled, is one of the most conflicting of feminine names. Etymologists find it derived from the same source as Helen and also discover it through the evolution of Charlotte. Who shall say which is correct?

It is not difficult to understand how Lena or Lina came to be a contraction of Helena, but preference is generally given to the theory that Lina is the correct form and that its real course is identical with the great Karl of the Franks who was the forerunner of the feminine Charlotte.

Charlotte of Savoy, who married Louis XI, introduced her name to French royalty, whence it traveled quickly to Germany. There it changed form, becoming first Lettchen, then Caroline, and finally Lina. Meanwhile Charlotte d'Albrst of France, who was given in marriage into the House of Tremouille, was responsible for the brave Lady Derby carrying it into England. The queen of George III, bringing the name from Germany, established in England the popularity of the distinctive Lina.

The Spanish make Lela from the contracted form of Charlotte or Carolina, as they call her, and the French have an equivalent Lolette. Caroline, the form from which our own Lina is probably most often derived, was popular in Germany and was brought to England by the wife of George II, who gave it vogue among the nobility.

The lovely mysterious lapis lazuli is the talismanic stone assigned to Lena. It promises her freedom from danger and disease; indeed, it is said to be a cure for fever. Friday is her lucky day and 5 her lucky number. The morning glory of contentment is her flower.

EACH IS A GENUINE GOODYEAR

Each of the two tires illustrated above is a genuine Goodyear through and through. One is the famous reliable 30 x 3 1/2 inch Goodyear All-Weather Tread Clincher.

Its companion is the popular 30 x 3 1/2 inch Goodyear Cross Rib.

The Goodyear Cross Rib is built of the same high grade Egyptian cotton fabric that goes into the All-Weather Tread Goodyear.

It has a long-wearing but differently designed tread, and sells for less money.

More than 5,000,000 of these tires have been sold in the last five years.

Their fine performance has demonstrated the folly of buying unknown and unguaranteed tires of lower price.

Ask your Goodyear Service Station Dealer about their advantages.

SURE TO HELP SICK WOMEN
Mrs. Baker, So Much Benefited by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Anxious to Help Others

Lebanon, Indiana.—"I was completely run down from women's troubles and for a long time was hardly able to do my work. I had some friends who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and they told me about it. I know what it has done for me and I recommend it to others, as I am sure it will be a great help to all sick women. It is a wonderful medicine, and I give you permission to use my testimonial and my photograph."—Mrs. EMMA BAKER, 310 S. East St., Lebanon, Indiana.

These letters recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound ought to convince women of the great worth of this medicine in the treatment of ailments to which they are often subject.

Mrs. Baker calls it "a wonderful medicine." If you are suffering from troubles women often have, or feel all run down, without any ambition or energy for your regular work, take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It is a natural restorative and should help you as it has Mrs. Baker and many, many other women.
