BRITAIN BUILDING WORLD'S GREATEST RADIO STATION London.—Great Britain is to have what is claimed will be the largest and most powerful radio station in the world, says the Daily Mail. Work is in progress on a site of 900 acres at Hillmorton, near Rugby, where 16 masts 820 feet in height are being erected to carry the aerials.
The station is designed to communicate directly with India and Australia, says the paper, although neither of these countries has any station as yet powerful enough to reply without relaying.
Ouch!
"Do you think young people should be trained for marriage?" asked Jones.
"Certainly! I have always been opposed to sending raw troops into battle," snapped Mr. Grouch.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Provide Shade for Sheep Breeding ewes and lambs kept to replenish the farm flock need plenty of shade if they are to come through the hot summer months in the best shape.
Every sheep should go into the summer months with a light covering of wool. June shearing of ewe lambs that are to be kept for breeding purposes is advisable. Fields where sheep are kept should have shade, either artificial or natural. Artificial is preferable as movable shelters can be made at low cost.

Fall Colts Preferred
There are many advantages in raising fall colts if good barns and plenty of good feed are available, says A. B.
Caine of Iowa. The fall colts can be weaned in the spring and put on pasture, at which time they are old enough to make good use of grass and grain satisfactorily. Fields where sheep are bred between the dates of October 15 and November 30, the colts are born late enough to escape the flies and there is nothing to keep them from gaining steadily.

Farm in Family 106 Years Little Rock.—Washington county farm land is worth keeping, or at least that is the belief of R. M. Morton, who lives near Farmington. Records show his farm has remained in the possession of the family since 1818, or 106 years. The land was acquired by the Mortons eighteen years before Arkansas was admitted into the Union.

Insures Against Blindness Little Rock, Ark.—The state secretary has just granted a charter to a Fort Smith company that will insure persons against blindness and deafness, and it is said to be the only company of the kind in the world. Senator Claude Thompson of Fort Smith is president of the new concern.

German Plane Shows Economy.
Munich.—German manufacturers, limited by postwar regulations, are making very few airplanes. Nevertheless, a machine built in Munich recently flew from Rosario to Buenos Aires, Argentina, 200 miles, in one third of the train time for the distance and at a cost for gasoline equal to the price of railway ticket.

Something to Think About
By F. A. WALKER

THE WEAKEST LINK
THE old story of the chain and its weakest link, quite as familiar to bright school children as are the names of William and Mary, gets but scant recognition from present-day folk, so occupied with frivolities that they have no inclination to look for the core in proverbs.
"A chain is a chain," they will tell you, so why philosophize about its weakest link or the carelessness of a blacksmith?
A good many of us are indisposed to search into the reason and nature of things because it involves a little real thinking.
We are strong and grand and noble.
We have great affairs to handle, as why bother with antiquated saws which are apt to scrape our fine sensibilities or cut off a rotten bough or two of our self-esteem, which would never do, because we should be ever disgraced before our friends.
We hear a great deal about the "missing link," but little is said regarding the "weakest link," which really concerns the truly noble men and women who are seeking to brighten the world and make it better, by giving encouragement to the weaklings of humanity and helping them to become strong and self-dependent.

It is good to meet these humane people and hear them talk, praising others but never complimenting themselves. They realize the frailties that hold them back in their efforts to do good, but keep pressing forward, deaf to tattling tongues and doing the best they can.
They know that somewhere in their physical and moral make-up there is a weak link likely at any moment to snag them from doing their full duty.

But this knowledge does not deter them from doing their full duty.
We, who doubt their sincerity, would be a sorry lot indeed if these good souls were not among us.
Without them our chain might break and our ship be lost, for we incline to obstinacy, snobbish disbelief, irreverence, extravagance, looseness of speech, selfishness, hate, disrespect for the aged and disregard of the commandments.
There is a life of love and devotion, filled with well doing and an abundance of faith.
And ours, shame upon us, is just the opposite, held here by a chain of many weak links, liable to break at any hour and set us adrift upon a storming sea, unlighted by a single ray of hope!
