SUBSCRIPTION $1.25 PER YEAR. Entered at the Postoffice L. Swartz, Edwin J. Swartz, and Marat Turner, Oregon, as second-class matter, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Col. Edwin M. House, whose responsibility for some of Presdent Wilson's most serious errors at the Peace Conference were recognized by Mr. Wilson through the exclusion of Mr. House from the late president's friendship, has come to light again with an article in Collier's in which he declares that the United States is "blocking the road to peace", presumably to peace in Europe, since we have peace and no fear of war in this hemistructure. We "have lost moral prestige in the eyes of the world because of our selfish timidity." The European powers want peace, but we refuse to let them have it, thinks Colonel House. Probably no more stupid and unjust accusation was ever made against this country than the one frequently on the lips of our segment this country than the one frequently on the lips of our segment the security described in said mort real property described in said mort.

We are responsible for the lack and the will to peace in Europe because we do not supply it. Could inverted logic go farther?

We notice headlines in all the papers regarding the hot weather in the East. Many have already died from the heat.
