

THE TURNER TRIBUNE

F. H. Rowley, Editor

Issued Every Thursday at Turner, Marion County, Oregon

SUBSCRIPTION $1.25 PER YEAR. Entered at the Postoffice at Turner, Oregon, as second-class matter, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Treasury certificates in the sum of $250,000,000 bearing interest at three and one-fourth percent were offered to the public recently and the treasury department announces that subscriptions were received for twice that amount. When you compare this with the difficulties European nations have in raising money internally, you get some idea of the difference in conditions here and abroad. Uncle Sam, without any publicity campaign, can get twice as much as he needs. This indicates a state of prosperity which will furnish little consolation for the disciples of communist discontent in America.

Roads as Americanizers, says the National Republic. The editor of this paper is right. It is no uncommon fact to see a car in Oregon with a New York license, or from any other Eastern state, for that matter. Secretary Hoover recently said of the situation in the west. "I found them camping out in their automobiles in the hills and valleys west of the Mississippi. It is estimated that 5,000 are so encamped."

What is true of the West is true of the East and the South from Florida to New England and even into Canada. The people are learning something about their country first hand, and better than this they are learning something about their fellow countrymen. The Secretary of Agriculture recently said: "Communication is a great equalizer." The American automobilist glides over the splendid system of roads that are rapidly being completed, North, South, East and West. They are learning what the different parts of the country are like and they are learning that the different people are pretty much alike. Hard-surfaced roads are bringing this condition about and, if they break down sectional prejudices and cement us into one American community they will be worth all that they cost and ten times over.

Friday night we attended one of the most important gatherings that is held in Marion County. It was the Marion County Y.M.C.A. Convention, held at the First Christian Church in Salem. It was an inspiration to hear the talks from the boys as to what the different branches of the County Y work had done for them. A representative of the Hi Y. club stated that they had learned more about the Bible and how to apply it to everyday life, in the Hi Y. club, than they had ever learned before. The Pioneers put on a demonstration of the opening of a Pioneer Club meeting. With the effect of the meeting still fresh in our mind when we left this gathering, we could not help but notice the contrast when passing one of the large churches of Salem where some meeting was going on, to see some young men who, as the Governor told us at the convention, will have to face the life battles in the future, out on the sidewalk smoking cigarettes, almost in the door of the church. They couldn't even wait until they got home. Young men who cannot control their appetites long enough to refrain from smoking during a church meeting are probably among the class that jeers at the County Y.M.C.A.

The United States at present is not losing any considerable amount of trade by refusing to recognize Soviet Russia, and in remaining aloof from the Reds it is guarding something which is far more precious than trade—the constitutional integrity of the United States of America.

FARM REMINDERS

(From OAC Experiment Stat.)

The cutworm outbreak of last season did immeasurable damage to truck and field crops all over Oregon. The department of entomology advises that growers may avoid a similar outbreak next season by late fall or early spring plowing and by scattering the poison bran bait over the fields before crops are planted in the spring.

Although it is a common practice in some of the rainy winter districts of Oregon to leave dairy cows out in the rain, they are better off under shelter. It takes good feed that might better be used for production to keep them warm when exposed to the weather. The shelter is better and less expensive than the extra feed.

According to L. P. Rockwood of the Federal Bureau of Entomology Station, at Forest Grove, the Hessian Fly is not responsible for the poor crop this season. Counts made in Washington county show that the Hessian Fly was more numerous last year than this, and last year was considered a good crop year for wheat. Mr. Rockwood attributes the poor showing this season to poor preparation of the seed, weather conditions, and possibly the seed used.

Crops below points on slopes where water seeps out may be protected from drowning out by plowing furrows from these points to drainage channels. Such contour furrows should be at frequent intervals and have enough fall to keep themselves clear.

COMMUNITY RECEPTION HAS GOOD ATTENDANCE

The community band reception held at the Christian Church at Turner Friday night was well attended. There was a fine program of recitations, songs, readings and band music. Among the best on the program was Mr. Burmister in a series of readings and songs. Mr. Wright of Stayton in Scottish songs and "Pastor" Ryan of West Stayton with his ABC sermon. These three numbers probably attracted more attention than any other part of the excellent program. Just before the final number by the band, Prof. J. R. Bidgood, master of ceremonies, made a short talk for the band, telling how long they had been organized and what they had achieved since their organization. The Turner band has been organized for several years and has played an important part in the community life of Turner. We agree that if you want a good time get into a community entertainment. The cannot be beaten for good fellowship. The good offering received was only a small show of the appreciation of the people of Turner to the boys who have contributed to the entertainment of the people. The program that followed was not least by any means. The ladies had prepared a feed for the hungry in the parlors of the church. The lunch consisted of sandwiches, pie and coffee.

THANKS

The members of the Turner Commercial Band take this opportunity to thank Mrs. C. A. Davis and the others of the community for the splendid reception and liberal collection given them Friday evening, Oct. 23. They hope that the goodwill and good fellowship shown at the reception may continue and grow to the betterment of community spirit in the future.

GOVERNOR WALTER M. PIERCE SPEAKS AT CO. Y

The sixth annual Marion County Y.M.C.A. convention was held in the parlors of the First Christian Church at Salem, Friday night. The banquet was served at 6:30, following which was the reports of the officers and several short talks by prominent Salem men and County Y. leaders. Among those of out of town to speak was Ross Condit, who spoke of the Pioneer work in Aumsville, and Wayne Ransom spoke of the Hi Y. work in the Amos Davis high school at Aumsville. There was a demonstration of the opening of a Pioneer Club meeting by the Lincoln Pioneers of Silverton. Representatives of Troop 1 Boy Scouts of America, of Silverton, told of the friendliness between the B.S.A. and the Y.M.C.A. and of the help they had received from the County Y. There were short-to-the-point talks by Dr. Walter Brown of the Marion County Child Health work, Dr. F. E. Brown, Rev. Dr. Tully, Rev. J. A. Bennett of Silverton, C. A. Kells of the city Y., who all testified to the good work being done by the County Y. there. There were solos from the Chemawa Indian School. Last and by no means least on the program, was the talk by Governor Walter M. Pierce. The governor emphasized the fact that the boys of today must have the right kind of training and influence or they will be where many a boy of 20 is today, in the penitentiary and the jails. He urged the press to be careful in publishing crime news and cited some instances where this was responsible for the downfall of boys. The report of the secretary was unique in that he had his report posted on the walls around the room in the shape of pictures and diagrams.

MARION COUNTY CORN SHOW NOV. 19, 20 AND 21

The annual Marion County Corn Show will be held in Salem Armory November 19, 20 and 21 under the direction of the Salem Chamber of Commerce cooperating with the Marion County Community Federation. There will be an industrial exhibition in connection with the corn show showing the leading products manufactured in Polk and Marion Counties. There will also be an exhibit of walnuts and filberts. Every corn grower in Polk and Marion counties is urged to exhibit and attend the show. There will be no entry fee for exhibits. Write to the Salem Chamber of Commerce for information. There will be prizes from $1.00 to $15.00. The following consolation prizes have been added: tallest hill of corn shown with roots $1; largest squash $1; largest five ears of corn, any variety, $1; largest half dozen potatoes, any variety, $1. Let's show the people of Marion and Polk Counties that Turner community can take prizes on corn.

EDWARDS-SANDE

At the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Edwards, on Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock, occurred the wedding of their daughter, Ruth Helen, to Mr. J. Lester Sande, son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Sande, of 1865 Trade St., Salem, and brother of Earl Sande, America's most widely known jockey. Forty relatives and friends were invited to witness the ceremony, which was read in a very impressive manner by the Rev. H. C. Stover, pastor of the central Congregational church.

The bridal couple took their place in the arch between the living room and dining room, beneath a bower of autumn colored boughs of vine maple and dog wood which blended beautifully with the baskets and low bowls of flowers placed profusely about the room. The bride's only attendant was Mrs. Vivian Brown Leffingwell, as matron of honor, with Mr. James Lockett attending the groom as best man.

After the service a delicious luncheon was served. Large bowls of flowers of the pastel colors formed the center piece of each table. Those assisting with the serving were Mrs. Robert F. E. Schaefer, Miss Lucile Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Lewis of Portland; Miss Frances Sande, sister of the groom; and Miss Marvella Edwards.

Mrs. Sande was a graduate of the Sale mhigh school in the class of 1921. She has been employed in the United States National Bank for the past four years. Mr. Sande is teller in the First National Bank of Independence. Mr. and Mrs. Sande left for a honeymoon trip to the Puget Sound cities, after which they will be at home to their friends in the

CHURCH OF CHRIST

Mr. Bales of Eugene delivered a fine sermon Sunday morning. Taking the radio as his theme he very aptly compared the Christian and this new invention—with its broadcasting an deceiving. The evening sermon was "Excuses."

Brother J. Michael Shelley will be with us next Sunday, the man of the hour in the art of painting pictures with words. He makes you really see them. The subject for the morning sermon is "A Challenge and a Promise;" for the evening "Help for the Tempted." These are very important sermons and apply to you. Come in and welcome him. Give him the right hand of fellowship.

Brother Shelley is a man who could easily hold down a pastorate in one of the large churches, but he wants to see our church grow and he will succeed.

Attend Sunday school at 10 o'clock. The superintendent is back. Come in and give him your support as the Banner is hanging in the balance. A record attendance is planned for next Sunday. Everybody welcome. Do you wish to see the banner go? Help us win.

C. E. CONVENTION NOV. 5, 6 and 7

The Marion County Christian Endeavor Union will hold its annual convention on November 5th, 6th and 7th at the Central Congregation Church of Salem.

Several state C. E. Workers will be present as speakers. Dallas Rice, field secretary, will officially represent the Oregon Union. Marion County was particularly fortunate in securing as principal speaker, Alvin J. Shurtle of Boston who is treasurer and field secretary of the United Society of Christian Endeavor.

Salem Endeavorers will entertain the delegates from the societies throughout the county. Advance registrations should be sent to Miss Ruth Draper, 1185 N. 18th St., Salem, Oregon.
