

THE TURNER TRIBUNE

F. P. Rowley, Editor

Issued Every Thursday at Turner, Marion County, Oregon

SUBSCRIPTION $1.25 PER YEAR. Entered at the Postoffice at Turner, Oregon, as second-class matter, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Some of the internationalists in this country have been harping on the fact that the European nations would not be able to pay their debt to the United States unless the immigration restrictions were broken down.

"Immigration is not necessary, now that there is employment in Italy. If Italians go to America the price of labor will be higher."

This ought to be surprising news to these internationalists who have been claiming that unless the immigration restrictions are broken down and our tariff lowered so that floods of labor and European goods will flow into this country the foreign nations will not be able to pay their debts.

In the meantime, Great Britain and France are disagreeing over the Geneva disarmament procedure. France wants warships included in the list of things to be disarmed and Great Britain is objecting because she is an insular country and needs her navy.

The muscular channel expended by a woman who tries to swim the English channel would darn 456,233 pairs of socks, or sew on 532,282 buttons, or patch the bosoms of 83,211 pairs of trousers.—Omaha Bee.

Supping in 1917 we had said to Europe: "Sure, we'll come across—in about 62 years."—Detroit Free Press.

MRS. C. A. HANSEN

Lena Grace Denyer was born May 3, 1881 at Turner, Oregon and died December 26, 1925 at Salem, Oregon.

She was educated in the public schools of Turner and at the State Normal College at Monmouth. After a few years of successful teaching she was married to C. A. Hansen August 15, 1915. Three children, Everett aged 9 years, Eva aged 6 years and Constance aged 3 years with their father and grandmother are in the bereaved home mourning the loss of a devoted and beloved mother, wife and daughter. Besides these there are three brothers and five sisters with other relatives, and a host of friends who sorrow, but not as those who have no hope. The funeral services were held in the Methodist church in Turner, Rev. Pogue preaching from the text "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends."

Then amid flowers and song loving hands laid away all that was mortal of our loved one in Twin Oak Cemetery.

M. E. CHURCH

CAMPING AND PROBLEM OF FOOD

There is no healthier sport than camping during the warm and balmy spring and summer days. It is real recreation. To get out in the fresh air and sunshine, free from worry and care, enhances the health of anyone, be he office man, salesman or what not.

But due to the entirely inadequate means of food preservation and refrigeration found in the majority of camps, there is the ever present danger of sickness from infested foods. The utmost care must be taken in order that this may be avoided. Butter and eggs should be bought only as used. The milk is a problem in itself. Perhaps the solution lies in the use of a milk other than market milk, in order that purity and sterility may be assured. For such use, evaporated milk is ideal. Many people are wont to confuse evaporated and condensed milk but there is no similarity between the two. Condensed milk is a combination of sugar and milk and can be used only when both of these substances are desired. Evaporated milk is merely pure, fresh milk with about sixty per cent of the water removed and the nutrient content left intact. It is absolutely sterile and pure, having been sterilized before leaving the factory. The water, removed by evaporation, may be replaced very easily and the milk returned to its original volume. Evaporated milk may be obtained in small cans, containing six ounces or in larger ones containing sixteen and can be taken to the camp in quantities sufficient for the needs of the entire period, thus assuring a constant supply of pure, fresh milk without the worry of the danger attached to the use of the market product.

Following are recipes for a few dishes that are best adapted for camp consumption because of ease of preparation, purity and food value.

Tomato Soup. 1 pint tomato pulp 1/4 cups water or canned tomato soup 1/2 cup salt and pepper 1/2 cup evaporated milk 1/4 cup sugar 1/4 cup butter 1/4 cup flour

Bring tomato pulp or soup to the boil, add the seasonings and salt. Heat the milk and water and combine slowly with the tomato mixture.

Stirred Eggs. 1/4 cup evaporated milk 1/4 cup water 1/4 cup sugar 1/4 cup butter 1/4 cup flour 1/4 cup milk 1/4 cup water 1/4 cup sugar 1/4 cup butter 1/4 cup flour

Beat the eggs, add the milk, water and seasonings. Melt the fat in a frying pan. Add the egg mixture and stir until the mixture is creamy and almost done. Sprinkle with grated cheese. Serve on slices of bread, toast or crackers.

FEEDING BABY DURING SUMMER

Milk is recognized as the ideal food for young children. It should be carefully guarded during the warm summer months, to insure its freedom from germs or bacteria that might cause harm to the child. Because of its nature, it is under certain conditions, a breeding and propagating ground for germ life and may soon become unfit for use unless it is handled with the utmost care and vigilance. Perhaps the ideal way to obviate this risk is through the use of evaporated milk. This milk is only pure milk with sixty per cent of the water removed from it and is absolutely sterile. It is of double richness but may be modified by the addition of water, which will return it to its original volume with a greatly enhanced food value.

Evaporated milk is sterilized and has a high nutritive content. This causes it to be a very excellent food for the young child and the infant. In fact, many of the leading pediatricians of the country advocate its use after the child is deprived of its mother's milk. A formula evolved by these pediatricians through experimentation, is as follows:

From Sixth Week to Third Month. Milk, evaporated 10 ounces Lime water 3 ounces Milk sugar 3 ounces Boiled water 25 ounces Seven feedings in twenty-four hours: 4 to 5 ounces at three-hour intervals during the day and four-hour intervals at night.

From Third Month to Fifth Month. Milk, evaporated 10 ounces Lime water 3 ounces Milk sugar 3 ounces Boiled water 25 ounces Five feedings in twenty-four hours: 4 to 5 ounces at four-hour intervals during the day and four-hour intervals at night.

From Fifth to Seventh Month. Milk evaporated 10 ounces Lime water 3 ounces Milk sugar 3 ounces Boiled water 25 ounces Five feedings in twenty-four hours: 4 to 5 ounces at four-hour intervals during the day and four-hour intervals at night.

From Seventh to Ninth Month. Milk, evaporated 11 ounces Lime water 3 ounces Milk sugar 3 ounces Boiled water 25 ounces 7 to 9 ounces at four-hour intervals during the day. Last feeding at ten at night.

From Ninth to Twelfth Month. Milk, evaporated 12 ounces Lime water 3 ounces Milk sugar 3 ounces Boiled water 25 ounces 8 to 9 ounces at four-hour intervals during the day. Last feeding at ten at night.

On Cleaning Day. If you want to clean phonograph records never use a damp cloth. Take a soft cloth and rub on it a little vasoline and use this to wipe off the discs on either side. Be sure that it is well rubbed off. This cleans them without doing any possible harm, and is said to improve the tone of old records.

Health and Home CARE OF CONVALESCENT IN-SUMMER

For those who are just recovering from a serious illness the problem of food is a serious one. The patient, though well on the road to recovery, is usually weakened by the rigors of disease and the excessive heat is wont to sap his energy. Hence, the foods that are consumed during this period should be considered carefully as to digestibility, food value, ease of assimilation, purity and sterility. These are important in any food but especially so when the consumer is not strong and healthy.

In most cases, the one who is convalescing consumes milk in large quantities. This food contains all of the elements that are essential to the body. If milk is pure and germless, it is easily digested and assimilated.

Where the milk supply is uncertain or the quality not of the best, evaporated milk should be employed. It is sterile; it is just pure milk with about sixty per cent of the water removed. Its double richness may be modified, if desired, by the addition of water or it may be used just as it is, where rich, creamy dishes are desired.

Many people make the mistake of confusing evaporated milk with condensed milk. They are not at all similar in appearance, composition or taste. They cannot be used for the same purposes; condensed milk is a combination of sugar and milk; evaporated milk has no added sugar, being pure milk of double-rich quality and food value.

Following are recipes of easily prepared dishes and foods that are well suited for the invalid and the convalescent.

Loganberry Cream. 1/2 cup evaporated milk 1/2 cup water 1/2 cup lemon juice 1/2 cup sugar 1/2 cup vanilla 1/2 cup cream

Put all ingredients in a Mason fruit jar and shake thoroughly. Chill and serve in glasses filled 1/2 full of ice chips. Raspberry, blackberry, and cherry juice may be used instead of the loganberry.

Iced Cocoa. 1 tsp cocoa 1/2 cup sugar 1/2 cup water 1/2 cup milk diluted with 1/2 cup water 1/2 cup vanilla 1/2 cup evaporated milk 1/2 cup water

Mix cocoa and sugar thoroughly; add the 1/2 cup water and boil over a low flame for 15 minutes. Blend the diluted milk and add cocoa syrup and salt. Continue cooking for 15 minutes in double boiler. Add vanilla. Chill and serve with whipped cream.
