

THE TURNER TRIBUNE

F. H. Kemley, Editor

Issued Every Thursday at Turner, Marion County, Oregon
SUBSCRIPTION $1.25 PER YEAR. Entered at the Postoffice at Turner, Oregon, as second-class matter, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

"I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States and the country for which it stands. One nation, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Do you remember the good old days when the women had enough hair to have a genuine hairpulling once in a while.

A Boston fisherman saw a deer three miles from shore headed straight for the middle of the ocean. The animal must have swallowed a bottle of synthetic Scotch which had been washed ashore.

The wets lost out in the Missouri referendum, but then the apple crop out there this fall is said to be a bumper one.

Both the wets and dries were satisfied with the result of the election which is more than can be said of the Republicans and Democrats.

A whole county ticket of redskins was elected in South Dakota, which is much better than electing a ticket of ordinary reds.

Explorers say that the remains of the ancient Mayan cities reveal that these people had high culture. But we won't believe they were really civilized until some explorer excavates an antique saxophone.

French wine makers are said to be hopeful that the success of Al Smith and the wet referendum in New York will soon lead to the exportation of champagne from France to America. Which show just how well those Europeans understand America.

Prospectors in Northern Mexico have found a mineral that explodes. Sounds like they'd come across a case of petrified home brew.—Buffalo Courier and Express.

Pedestrians are reminded that while they have the technical right of way, it is of little use after a serious collision with a fool motorist.—Washington Star.

Dispatches relate the story of a school boy who ran away and became an aviator. In the 90's he would have turned cowboy.—Detroit Free Press.

The United States as she is today: About a hundred and twenty million people dorking 25,000,000 automobiles.—Jacksonville Times-Union.

Gene Tunney says he is now ready to fight anybody at any time, but we notice he remains a bachelor.—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

Nothing changes except definitions. It is "personal" now, but used to be "brass."—Bridgeport Telegram.

Senator Borah says the failure of the best citizens to vote endangers the United States. He's wrong. If they don't vote they are not the best citizens.—Houston Post Dispatch.

TURNER BEATS STAYTON

Turner took the honors away from Stayton in their annual Thanksgiving day football game by a score of 19 to 6. The local men crashed through the Stayton forward wall repeatedly, keeping the ball in Stayton territory most of the time.

Turner carried the ball to the Stayton 2-yard line in the first period, only to lose it on a fumble. Scramble of Stayton fumbled behind his own goal line attempting to punt and was downed for a safety, scoring two points for Turner.

The Turner eleven piled up two touchdowns later by straight line plunges.

Thursday's game was the last on the schedule for Turner, which has now won four straight games out of the five played. Loretz, quarterback, and Bones, right tackle, played their last game for Turner.

LOCAL MAN IS VICTIM

IN AUTO ACCIDENT
Ralph Chavez and wife of Turner met with a serious accident in Salem Thursday evening. Mr. Chavez was approaching an intersection and had slowed down to allow another car the right of way, when another car swung in ahead of him and crowded him up over the curb and against a tree. The car was badly damaged and Mrs. Chavez was badly bruised about the face and head.

LOCAL DRUGSTORE IS THE HEADQUARTERS FOR GIFTS

The local drugstore is a veritable wonderland on Christmas gifts and fine holiday goods. They have a fine display of gift goods from book to the pinhead that the kiddies enjoy. It will be worth your while to look this display over, whether you buy or not. The proprietor is always ready to greet you with a smile.

TIDDELDYWINK JERSEY WIN

INTERNATIONAL HONORS

Mrs. Florence Gale Neal and sons, proprietors of the Tiddeledywinck Jersey farm of Oregon City, were winners of several prizes at the Pacific International show at Portland last fall. They had some fine stock at the show which were the winners of the following prizes: grand champion and junior champion bull, 6 firsts, including first get of sire, 2 seconds and 3 thirds.

At the Oregon State Fair they won first junior yearling bull, first junior yearling heifer, competing against 77 entries; first junior calf against 22 entries, 3rd bull and fourth junior calf against 24 entries. Bull from the Tiddeledywinck herd are heading some of the fine herds in the Eastern states. Mrs. Neal and her three sons were formerly proprietors of the Meadow View farm at Turner, going to Oregon City about a year ago.

DISASTROUS WRECK

AT COTTAGE FARM

Last Wednesday night several cars were piled up at the foot of the hill at the Cottage Farm. Ball Brothers' service car was called to the scene of the wreck earlier in the evening and had left their car parked at the side of the road when a car occupied by four young men said to be from Stayton came down the hill at high speed and ran into the Ball Brothers' car, causing it to swerve and take to the ditch. The car struck a telephone pole, breaking it off near the ground. The car was a total wreck, one of the passengers receiving some broken ribs and other light bruises.
