TURNER BOY VICTIM OF PAINFUL ACCIDENT

One day last week, while some of the Turner boys were playing in Riches Brother's confectionery, throwing pin wheels at each other, Maxwell McKay was hit on the knee with one of them. The pin came out of the carboard and embedded itself in the flesh, inflicting a painful wound. The injured lad was rushed to L. Brewer of Stayton. It was necessary to make quite a deep cut in order to remove the pin. The wound is much improved.

BAKER HOME SCENE OF FAMILY GATHERING

The E. C. Baker home was the scene of a happy Christmas gathering. Several of their children besides several friends were present.

Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Gower and children of Newberg, Mr. and Mrs. George Nichols of Portland, Mrs. Barbara Snyder of Gervais, Mrs. Fred Stewart of Salem and Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Jarman and family, also of Salem, who with the regular guests of the Baker hotel, partook of the annual Christmas feast.

TURNER PLEASUED WITH CHRISTMAS TREE

The community Christmas tree program which was put on at the high school auditorium came up to all in discussion of an all important question of those who sponsored the affair.

The house was crowded almost to capacity. A fine program was rendered by the pupils of the school and members of the two Sunday schools, composed of songs, recitations and short plays. The school orchestra played several musical selections and the school glee club sang two of the old Christmas hymns.

Following the program jolly old Santa Claus appeared on the scene dressed in his fur trimmed robes and distributed the presents to those present after which a candy treat was on hand for every one present.

It was said by several of those present to have been one of the best community gatherings ever held in Turner.

1ST QUARTERLY CONVENTION HELD AT TURNER

The Turner Christian church was the host of the first quarterly convention of the Santiam Council of Religious Education held here Sunday.

There were delegations from practically every Sunday school in the district. A good program was given in which nearly every Sunday school in the district took part. Dr. E. S. Hammond, of Kimball College, gave the morning address from the convention theme, "Faithfulness in the Home."

He cited many examples that he has observed in his experience as a pastor of both the faithfulness and the unfaithfulness in the home. Miss Eleanor Moor, of the Turner Methodist Sunday school, favored the convention with a solo. There were other special numbers including a quartet from the North Santiam Sunday school and a quartet from the Stayton Baptist Sunday school. Miss Anna Peratrovitch, of Chemawa Indian school gave a report of the National Older Girls' Conference at Geneva, Glens, Colorado. Miss Peratrovitch is a native of Alaska and is fitting herself for religious work among her own people in Alaska.

Rev. D. C. Whitaker of the First Christian church, of Salem, gave the afternoon address from the theme, "Religious Education." The local pastor, Rev. John Garinger, of the Christian church and Rev. M. A. Groves, of the Methodist church, had charge of morning and afternoon devotional services.

A bountiful basket dinner was served at noon to those attending the convention.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

The writer is unable to express in suitable words the joy which was ours, as a church, last Sunday to have with us that goodly number of untiring and consecrated christian workers in the discussion of an all important theme, "Faithfulness in the Home." Home is the dearest spot on earth to everyone everywhere and is what we make it every time. Blessed are we and our posterity if ours is a home of sunshine and helpful christian influences. Those who missed that splendid fellowship and interesting program of last Sunday, are much the losers for their absence. We hope these good people can meet with us many times.

Sermon themes for next Sunday are morning: "Three Christian Memorials"; evening: "Christ the perfect standard."

$29,686,214 in Dairy Products and Eggs Shipped Out of U. S.

Dairy products and eggs valued at $29,686,214 were exported from the United States in the year ending June 30, 1926, according to a statement on the export situation issued by the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation. Canned milk topped the list, with eggs second, cheese third and butter fourth. The principal export market for these products proved to be Cuba, which took two-fifths of the eggs shipped abroad and was next to the United Kingdom as a buyer of canned milk. Great Britain was the second largest customer for these products, with the Philippine Islands in third position. Mexico, Germany, China and Japan, Panama and Canada were the other markets which bought the surpluses of these products.
