TEACHERS' RECEPTION

Last Friday evening a goodly number of the patrons and supporters of the Turner schools met at the school house to welcome the teachers who are to have charge of the schools for the coming year. All who attended report a very enjoyable time. A good program was rendered, followed by a general good time. Nearly everyone who attended expressed the idea that Turner school has one of the best faculties they have ever had.

The program opened by an attractive instrumental number by Miss Mary Miller, invocation by Mr. Clay, violin duet by the Misses Inez Barnett and Gladys Given, vocal duet by Mesdames McKinney and Martin, reading by Mrs. Earl and song by Mr. Wittercraft then followed speeches by Mr. Clay, Prof. Watson, Mr. Bond and Mr. Delseff. The new teachers were introduced to the audience by Prof. Watson, principal of the Turner school, and each one as their name was called responded by a short speech. Miss Lois Robertson played the accompaniment for the violin duet and Miss Mildred Martin for the vocal duet. The accompanist for Mr. Wittercraft was Mrs. Earl Kearcy. The program seemed greatly appreciated for it was heartily applauded and nearly every one had to respond to an encore. After the program was over the teachers were asked to come to the front of the stage and meet and become acquainted with the audience. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. M. A. Groves. Delightful refreshments were served later.

M. E. CHURCH

Two important events call for the attention of the members and friends of Turner Methodist church. First, the Santiam District S. S. convention meets at the Stayton Methodist church. All who can should attend. A good program will be provided. Go and return with new ideas and plans for the coming year. Second, next Sunday is the first Sunday of the new conference year. All who cannot go to the S. S. Convention be present at home to make the first Sunday of the new year a beginning of better things for the Lord's work here by having a good attendance and lots of enthusiasm for the work during the coming year. M. A. Groves, pastor.

OREGON STATE FAIR OPENED ON MONDAY

The Oregon State Fair opened on Monday with a good crowd for the opening day. The exhibit spaces are practically all full. There is as fine a showing of Oregon produce as has ever been shown. Practically all of the prominent livestock breeders are represented this year. Mrs. Florence El Gale Nal, formerly of Turner, is at the fair with 10 head of the Prize-winning Tiddledywink Jerseys. The fair was in full swing by Wednesday, Salem day.

The usual "catch nickle" shows and hot dog stands are in evidence. Some of the shows are good and some are freaks. The usual mechanical swings are there for the enjoyment of the kiddies.

The agricultural pavilion, the automobile building and the machinery booths are daily attractions to the many fair visitors.

PASTOR RETURNS

The Oregon Conference of the Methodist Church which was held in Salem, came to a close Monday afternoon. It was an interesting session at which much business was accomplished. There were several good speakers present from outside of the conference, among them was Dr. Clarence True Wilson, of the Board of Temperance and Morals. Several from Turner attended the various sessions of the conference and report a very profitable time spent there.

There were but few changes in the appointments. Most of the pastors returned to their former charges and Turner people are glad to have Rev. M. A. Groves returned to the Turner charge for another year. Brother Groves and his good wife have been with us for a year and have earned a warm place in the hearts of the people.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Five new high school students enrolled Monday morning, making a total of 74. They were as follows: Laura Stewart, West Stayton; Gerald Given, Turner; Tyco and Guy Larson, Crawford District; Cunda Rolland, Marion.

Miss Pearson found her Biology class so popular that she had to divide it and make two sections.

Associated students are having their annual student body ticket sale. The price of the student tickets are $1.25 per year. Adult's tickets will be on sale the latter part of the week at $1.50 for the season.

Miss Pearson and Miss Knobel were out of town visitors during the week-end.

The high school is planning several large football games to be played here this fall. Sixteen men are turning out every night.

Wednesday was the day set apart for the Turner school pupils to attend the Fair without being counted absent and many took advantage of the opportunity.

It is reported that the I. L. Robertson party, who have been touring the East, left Washington, D. C. last week on their way home.

J. F. Jones, State Sealer of Weights and Measures was in Turner Wednesday morning, testing out a new set of scales recently installed in the Portland-Damascus Cream Station at Turner.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Lewis are now located at Montello, Idaho, where Mr. Lewis is working for the Southern Pacific. They like their new home fine.
