

The Sandman Story

Martha Martin

NEWS IN THE ZOO

"WHAT is the news?" asked the Camel.
"The lioness just had a tooth pulled," said the Zebu with two lumps.
"I heard a great roaring some time ago," said the Camel. "Was that what was bothering the lioness?"
"Oh, she feels all right now. Her jaw feels a bit sore, of course, but the toothache has all gone, for the tooth has gone."
"She was roaring with the toothache. That was the trouble."
"Oh, I see," said the Camel.
"Any other news?" asked the Camel after a moment, as she moved her mouth from side to side as though she were chewing.
"None that I know of," said the

"I Don't Believe I Have Any More News for You."

Zebu. "Oh, yes, come to think of it. I have some news."
"Well," said the Camel, "why didn't you think in the first place?"
"Now look here, Cam," said the Zebu, "don't be so fussy or I won't tell you the news."
"Oh, very well," said the Camel quite pleasantly. "I would like to hear the news."
"They say that they're bringing to the zoo some of the smaller animals

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

"DIVULGE"

ON THE offensiveness of gossip we are all agreed. But that the word "divulge," which means merely "to make known," should have close relationship with "vulgar" as a surprise to those who learn for the first time how it started! Yet both words hark back to the same derivation.
"Divulge" comes to us from the Latin "divulgare," which consists of the prefix "di" plus "vulgus," the name which the Latins gave to the people or common people. Hence the word means literally to spread among the people, and so to make common or "vulgar."

If your ears burn the next time you are about to divulge some information it will be because of this little column which delves and tells—let the chips fall where they may!

"It isn't more bringing up that the children of the day need," says Observing Olivia. "It's more taking down."

Veteran Still Active

Sixty-three years have passed since the close of the Civil War and two of its veterans still are members of congress. Senator Francis Warren of Wyoming enlisted in the Union army at eighteen. Congressman Charles Stedman enlisted while a student. He served under Lee.

Browns Are Winning

Despite the demand for grays and blacks for evening, for greens and blues for semi-formal afternoon wear, the browns are coming into their own for sport costumes, as is usually the case in the fall.

Hats Fall

The newest felt hats for autumn wear have long white hairs through the felt, which gives a soft and blurred look to the felt.

such as a flying squirrel, a chipmunk a few rats."
The Zebu stopped for a moment. "You're supposed to say 'Oh, rats!' when I say that."
"And then I am supposed to answer, 'Yes, rats!'"
"Why should I go to all that trouble?" asked the Camel.
"Just for fun," said the Zebu. "But no matter. I see you don't want to make any silly little jokes."
"Perhaps it is just as well."
"Then there is to arrive in the zoo a white-footed mouse, a bat, I believe, and a long-eared owl."
"Of course this is just what I hear. I can only tell you that."
"I believe a new Red Fox is coming to the zoo, too, and that the fox has sent word that he must have good food awaiting him of both meat and fruit."
"He also has sent word that he is bringing his mate with him."
"They're clever—those red foxes—and very smart—but they're good to each other, I'm told. Yes, fox mates are always very happy together."
"I don't believe I have any more news for you," the Zebu said.
"Well," said the Camel, "you've done very well. I couldn't do any better. In fact, I haven't had any news to tell you."
"But then, of course, I have been so much interested in watching my small son grow up into being a fine Camel like his Daddy that I haven't paid much attention to anything that was going on."
"I just thought today I'd like to know what the news in the zoo really was. As a matter of fact, I've thought there was no other news in the zoo except that of the birth of my son."
"That happened some time ago, too. But still it seems like news to me, great and glorious and wonderful news."
"I have been able to think of nothing else."
"I know that," smiled the Zebu. "I am in the yard next to you. I know you haven't been interested in anything or anyone else."
"Your son has been the most important thing to you."
"But he's not a 'thing,'" said the Camel.
"You'll admit he is important, won't you?" asked the Zebu.
"Oh, that is very different," grinned the Camel, as she turned to her son. "Of course you're important. You're the most important Camel that ever lived. And you are your mother's pride and her camel joy!"
(Copyright.)

"I know that," smiled the Zebu. "I am in the yard next to you. I know you haven't been interested in anything or anyone else."
"Your son has been the most important thing to you."
"But he's not a 'thing,'" said the Camel.
"You'll admit he is important, won't you?" asked the Zebu.
"Oh, that is very different," grinned the Camel, as she turned to her son. "Of course you're important. You're the most important Camel that ever lived. And you are your mother's pride and her camel joy!"
(Copyright.)

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

By F. A. WALKER

MENTAL SUNSHINE

THE title of this is stolen boldly and boldly from a tobacco advertisement, which is proof that it really pays to read the paid-for publicity, often the most useful as well as the most interesting part of our newspapers and periodicals.

Just what ordinary sunshine is we do not know.

We know that from it we get light and heat and that both are made up from vibrations in the ether and the atmosphere which separates the earth from the ether.

We know that a pane of glass will allow the passage through it of a maximum of the light and a minimum of the heat, and we know that a sheet of black iron will allow the passage of a maximum of the heat and a minimum of the light, but the cause of the vibrations and what makes the difference between the light and heat vibrations are among the many unsolved problems of science.

Mental sunshine offers us no such enigma.

There is nothing through which the light of a smile will not penetrate.

There is nothing which will not show the effects of a warm hand-clasp.

There is nothing which will not reach into the depths of sorrow but mental sunshine will lighten those dark places and warm the coldness of a soul.

All that we see in this world is made visible by reflected light. The green of the fields, the blue of your sweetheart's eyes, all color and all form are visible to us only by the light which reflected from them and falling upon our retinas is telegraphed by our optic nerves to the opposite side of our brains. The reason we cannot see objects in the dark is because they reflect no light.

The man who cannot and does not reflect mental sunshine is living in the dark, a lonesome and pitiable creature.

We cannot cultivate sunshine in the heavens, but we can encourage it in ourselves. We strive and deny ourselves for money. We make little or no effort to increase our mental sunshine. Yet money without happiness is an empty and useless thing, while happiness without money is a wealth we can spend unceasingly and never lessen the supply.

What do you say to spending five minutes a day letting our mental sun radiate its light and warmth on whoever and whatever is within its radius? If we begin with the five minutes it will shortly shine all through the 24 hours.

(© by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Far-Sighted Man
"Wrap a fruit cake in oiled paper if it is to be kept a few months and cover it with sugar if it is to be kept a year," says the Woman's Home Companion. "And what do you do," asks the mere man, "if you are going to put it in the corner stove of the new county courthouse?"

Cynical bachelor says there is now only one thing that shows the difference between a woman's street dress and negligee, and that is the street.

A western washing machine magazine has given his employees $130,000 in celebration of his birthday. May he live long and prosper more, is the earnest wish of his employees.

The Swedes are said to be shipping matches to London in coffins as an economy measure—from coffins to coffin-nails.

The Swedes are said to be shipping matches to London in coffins as an economy measure—from coffins to coffin-nails.

The Swedes are said to be shipping matches to London in coffins as an economy measure—from coffins to coffin-nails.

President Attends Outdoor Masonic Services

The President and Mrs. Coolidge were guests of honor at outdoor Masonic services on Temple Heights where, in the future, a great Masonic temple will rise. In the photograph the President is shown arriving with Grate E. Dunkum, grand master of the Grand lodge, district of Columbia.

Film Companies War Over a Choice Location

Two film companies engaged in a war over a choice "location" near Cedar City, Utah, recently, each claiming prior rights to its use. This photograph shows a sheriff's posse that guarded the place with shotguns for four days.

May Be a Real Pilot at the Age of Ten

This is nine-year-old Betty Lou Coupe about to climb aboard the plane she's learning to pilot with skill and daring. She is a student in the school of Ray J. Solomon, aviation instructor of Los Angeles, and has already handled the "stick" while far aloft. According to her teacher, she shows unusual aptitude; and when she completes her course—which in all probability will be within a year—she'll qualify as a full-fledged pilot.

CHIEF EAGLE

Lloyd Lille, nineteen-year-old boy scout, is now a full-fledged Indian chief with the title of Chief Eagle. He is the only white man with the exception of President Coolidge who has ever been so honored by the Blackfoot Indians of Montana.

War Maneuvers on Governors Island

In the shadow of cannon that have remained silent since the Revolution, small sons of army officers on Governors island wage vigorous warfare with their leaden troops. Donald Campbell, right, son of Colonel Campbell, is launching his attacking party against the forces commanded by Trevor Dupuy, son of Capt. R. E. Dupuy. A soldier referee stands by to see that the international rules of war are not violated.

JOTS FROM HERE AND THERE

Farmers of Spain are taking to American automobiles.

More than 20,000,000 bags of coffee were raised in Brazil this year.

Symptoms of hookworm disease were described by physicians of ancient Egypt.

Earthquakes are being made by a Frenchman, who carefully times and measures the explosions to produce the tremors.

The first horse car was run in New York city in 1825.

Sixty American manufacturers exhibited at the Prague sample fair this year.

Output of the British rubber industry in the past year was more than $100,000,000.

A Liverpool hookmaker recently arrested could not read or write, and kept all his bets in his head.

The BABY

No mother in this enlightened age would give her baby something she did not know was perfectly harmless, especially when a few drops of plain Castoria will right a baby's stomach and end almost any little ill. Prefeetness and fever, too; it seems no time until everything is serene.

That's the beauty of Castoria; its gentle influence seems just what is needed. It does all that castor oil might accomplish, without shock to the system. Without the evil taste. It's delicious! Being purely vegetable, you can give it as often as there's a sign of colic; constipation; diarrhea; or need to aid sound, natural sleep.

Just one warning: It is genuine Fletcher's Castoria that physicians recommend. Other preparations may be just as free from all doubtful drugs, but no child of this writer's is going to test them! Besides, the book on care and feeding of babies that comes with Fletcher's Castoria is worth its weight in gold.

Coughs and Colds

are not only annoying, but dangerous. If not attended to at once they may develop into serious ailments.

Boschee's Syrup
is soothing and healing in such cases, and has been used for sixty-one years. 30c and 50c bottles. Buy it at your drug store. G. G. Green, Inc., Woodbury, N. J.

For Barbed Wire Cuts
Try HANFORD'S Balsam of Myrrh
All dealers are authorized to refund your money for the first bottle if not satisfied.

DR. STAFFORD'S OLIVE TAR
for ASTHMA
Boschee's Syrup

SKIN BLEACH
Removes freckles and spots. Also cures all cases of ACNE. It contains the most careful selection of the finest chemicals. It is the most perfect skin bleach ever made. Sold everywhere.

Henpecked Husbands
Despite the secrecy of the proceedings of H. A. O. H. H., the success of this year's meeting is causing the membership to grow. The initials stand for the "Honorable and Ancient Order of Henpecked Husbands." Every Easter Monday the members escape from their wives to spend a convivial day together. This year's festival was held at a secret meeting place near Halifax, England, and the program of doing things that are forbidden in members' homes was so attractive that the waiting list is growing.

The Modest Maid
The Lady-Mary, why don't you dust that statue?
Mary—Really, madam, I thought it looked better a bit covered.

Keep Your Butter Uniform and Hold Your Customers

Don't wait for your customers to complain about the variable color of your butter. Keep your butter that golden June color everybody likes by putting a few drops of Dandelion Butter Color into the churn. It is purely vegetable, wholesome and absolutely tasteless. It meets all State and National Food laws. All large creameries have used Dandelion Butter Color for years. It does not color or buttermilk. You can get the large bottles for 35c from all drug or grocery stores.

Send for FREE Sample
Wells & Richardson Co., Inc.
Burlington, Vermont