Thirty years ago Col. Baker entisted for the duration of the War with Spain as a private in Battery B. Oregon Light Artillery. Upon his discharge he returned to Portland and continued in the service as a member in the Oregon National Guards. He accepted a position as railway mail clerk with a run from Portland to Corvallis, and has rapidly risen in the service until he now has charge of the personell of the railway mail service operating out of Purtland. He offered his interest and extent which the sail described in the service westerly parallel with the continuation of the west line of Salem, marked and the property is a first and superior lien thereon and superior to the rights of the defendants and each of them;

Come when he will receive the recognition due his zeal and merits.

The disasterous fire of last Friday morning demonstrated more than ever before the need of an organized and trained volunteer fire department for Turner. The citizens turned out well and did the best county. It is hard to handle any kind of grees 03 minutes 15 seconds east a job without some system and some one at the head, much less a fire What Turner needs is a volunteer fire department with regular times at the northeast corner of said Egra for drill with every man on the job. A bell located near the hose house would be a good thing. This is the first fire for several years Turner the said Olinger donation land than the said Olinger donation land th has had, but one never knows when a fire is going to happen so let's be west along the east line of the said prepared for the worst with a drilled fire department.

Community Clubs

Community Clubs are one of the big assets in the development of north 0 degrees 16 minutes east 389.5 any community. If organized on the right plan they are a valuable ad dition to any community. Turner tried the venture some years ago to an iron pipe; thence north 88 de-and apparently failed but some of the former members have retained an iron pipe, the point of beginning and docketed in and by said court on the community spirit and feel that a rightly organized club would be of land to be described; thence north a benefit to the community. The club that was organized in Turner feet to a point 433 feet east of the west line and then died a national death After holding an inquest over the remains of Turner Boosters, as this club was called we found three causes for its death .

1st. Its plan of organization. It was organized too much on the plan of a commercial club. That plan will not work in a small town or thence north 0 degrees 20 minutes cmmunity. It resolves itself onto the shoulders of a few to carry on the work. The community as a whole feels it has no interest in the organi-

It is the women in the in the small communities who back any movement for making the the proceeds thereof to be applied to community more attractive

3rd, Community Development The Turner Boosters began by try ing to obtain industries for Turner. That was a worthy move but began a little too early in the game. In the first place they were not able to give the indocuments necessary to get any large industry to locate. The better plan would have been that to have worked towards making the community a better place for those already here and make the Turner community so attractive that people would want to locate here.

Why not follow the plans of other communities, such as Hubbard, NOTICE OF HEARING OF FINAL lows, to-wit: and organize a community club with every man, woman and child a member and charge no dues, or very low ones at least. If some money is needed raise it by giving socials or entertainments. If the people sec that the money so raised is being used for the benefit of the community will patronize these activitiet.
