

THE TURNER TRIBUNE

Turner, Oregon, Thursday SEPT. 19, 1929
S. J. Roddy, Editor

Issued Every Thursday at Turner, Marion County, Oregon

SUBSCRIPTION $1.25 PER YEAR. Entered at the Postoffice at Turner, Oregon, as second-class matter, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

"I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States and the country for which it stands. One nation, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

SENATOR HALL FOR GOVERNOR

Chas. Hall, of Coos county, has announced his intentions of coming out for governor. Mr. Hall ran once before but failed to reach the nomination. While he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor he has not as yet announced his platform. He will make this announcement about the first of the year. Judging from his past records it will be of a constructive character. Senator Hall was a candidate for the office in 1922 and lost by a handful of votes. At that time he was up against the opposition of three candidates for the nomination, ex-Governor Offutt, Governor Patterson and the late Public Service Commissioner Boon.

He has served as president of the Hood River and Marshfield Chamber of Commerce, and in 1919 organized the state Chamber of Commerce of which organization he served as president for two years.

What planks Hall will incorporate in his platform is of course problematical but we are certain it will contain a plank dedicated to the development of the state's resources. Other planks that may appear are cheaper power, lower telephone rates and a cabinet form of state government. He was a member of the special committee that drafted the cabinet form of state government constitutional amendment which will be submitted to the people at the next general election. It is said that this form of government will save the people $1,000,000 annually.

From the above it will be seen that Mr. Hall will do all in his power for the benefit of the state if nominated and elected. Cheap power and lower telephone rates are something that the people need. If the cabinet form of state government will save the people $1,000,000 it is something worth having. During his term as senator Mr. Hall has succeeded in getting things done.

A Future Of Miracles

On Lummi Island, Washington state, Farmer W. A. Granger has a 100 acre lot. He has seeded it in one hour, 40 minutes, by using an airplane. The job, ordinarily, requires two weeks' labor by three men. The plane flew at 5500 feet and at about 95 miles per hour, scattering 800 pounds of seed.

A tremendous stunt in pioneering by that Zap Erormore the commercial and transportation possibilities. But, aviation farming by airplane!

Four a. m. on the old farm, Hiram, son, get up Gas plane No. 5 and sow the 200 acre lot down next the wood. Hurry, boy! You've only two hours to do it in!

They are disinfecting and seeding farms by airplane. Plowing, stump-pulling and milking cows by airplane to come?

All of man's affairs, including Zaps, depend upon the farms. The farmer of 1930 may be of the royalty.

Judge It On Its Merits

President Hoover's suggestion that the various states take over the 190,000,000 acres of public lands now held by the federal government is a proposition that needs serious consideration.

It is rather unfortunate that wet and dry, in many cases, are trying the thing up with prohibition. It has been suggested that this may be a "twiler" a pretense to suggesting that the individual states take over, in the same way, the matter of prohibition enforcement.

Those who see it in this light of course, judge the public lands proposal by their prohibition sentiments. If they are wets, they will favor it; if they are dries, they will oppose it.

But the question is so important that it should be considered strictly on its own merits. It will be disastrous if a major policy like this should be decided on because of its supposed connection with an utterly unrelated issue. Portland Daily News.

An Addition

We always take delight in reporting any addition to our fair city and feel it an asset to our community; but last week an addition was created in the south part of town west of the main highway that we class as an unsightly obstruction. Everywhere cities and civic organizations are working and striving to make their cities as attractive as possible and will not tolerate any huge sign boards to mar the scenery, but apparently some in our city feel otherwise. They allow their property to be defaced to say nothing about obstructing their neighbor's view. We are always stood for the beauty of nature and have fought vigorously against the placing of nature by huge sign boards, to say nothing of a lot of the additions on these sign boards. Amity Standard.

We remember if this will not apply to several of the Oregon towns, but observation the main thing seen in most of these towns is sign boards.

Fire Fighters Return

Walter Winslow, prominent Salem attorney and Chief of Police Pinto, of Salem police force went to the mountains in advance of the hunting season to await the release of the governor's mandate closing the hunting season until the fire menace is over. Word went forward to the fire wardens of the district to draft them into the service and put them to fighting fire. The men were located and immediately requested to take up their new duties. The pleaded urgent business at home and were released after one day of hard work. Mr. Winslow has been in the limelight before in the defence to the governor's orders regarding the postponement of the hunting season on account of fire conditions.

METHODIST CHURCH

Sunday school and church services were well attended last Sunday. The pastor delivered two good sermons which was enjoyed by all who heard them.

Next Sunday will be the last Sunday before the conference. All members and friends of the church not connected elsewhere should attend and give the pastor a good hearing at what may be her last service with us in the little church around the corner.
