Phone From Moving Trains

Telephoning from the Hamburg-Berlin express trains in Germany is reported to be a success. Passengers may talk from a booth to any part of the country while traveling 90 miles an hour. All that is necessary is to give central the number and the name of the city desired. Connection is made by means of an aerial running along the roofs of the cars, from which ether waves are transmitted by electric current to the regular telegraph wires running parallel with the railway, which carry the message by way of Hamburg or Berlin.

Paper Making in Japan

Japan is rapidly taking its place among the paper-making nations, particularly in the news print field. With her huge forests and almost unlimited water-power supply, she is producing a paper independent of any foreign source of raw material. Only the United States, Great Britain, Germany and Canada exceed Japan in output.

The industry has rapidly forged to the front in the progressive and modern activities of the empire, and bids fair to be even more productive in the future.

Nervous, Weak, Lost Weight

Tacoma, Wash.—"I had an operation and could not regain my health or get strong afterwards. I was nervous and weak, only weighed eighty-five pounds. I was nothing but skin and bones. I was so weak that I would have to hold to something when I tried to walk. I went on this way for about three years during which time I took one medicine after another without getting help. Then I started using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and after taking six bottles I was well and strong."—Mrs. Pauline Thaut, 1914 So. Cushman St. (All dealers.)

THE FEATHERHEADS

Felix Is to Be Presented at Court

That's That

One morning when the children were eating breakfast, Milford put two heaping spoonfuls of sugar in his cocoa.

"I should think one spoonful would be enough," objected his sister.

"I should think so, too," he replied, "but it ain't."

STILL THINKS SO

Johnson—"Didn't you think that fellow who ran away with your wife was your best friend?" Billson—"I still think so."

His Prospects Bright

Aunt—So you're going to college? I suppose you will start in as a freshman.

Nephew—Freshman nothing. My pa pretty near owns that college. He ought to be able to get me a position as vice president of the football association.

Some Men Are Obliging

Mr. Jabbs (during the quarrel)—Every now and then we hear of some married man shooting himself.

Mrs. Jabbs—Yes, every now and then we hear of some man who will do something to please his wife.

Domestic Amenities

Mother—I can't think where Fritz got his sweet nature from.

Father—It must be from you.

Mother—Flatterer!

Father—I still have mine myself!

Between Friends

Young Wife—How fortunate I am in possessing a husband who always stays at home in the evening.

Bosom Friend—Yes. Your husband never was much addicted to pleasure.

Origin of Specie

"And do you think this town would hold me if I had $1,000 in my pocket?"

"Oh, I think it would—the police wouldn't let you leave."

He Needs a System

"What is the matter with my husband, doctor?"

"Oh, his stomach is in bad disorder."

"Yes; just what I thought." I never saw any one so disorderly as he. Have you ever noticed his writing desk?"

HAD SEEN IT BEFORE

He—"Haven't I seen your face before?" She—"Probably, it wouldn't be possible for you to see it behind."

Delighted

Chumm Citron—Was the old man violent when you told him you wanted to marry his daughter?

Sam Speck—Violent? I should say so. Why, he nearly shook my hand off.

Mayor on Crossing Duty

Emulating Napoleon, who took up a sleeping sentry's musket and walked the post, Mayor Mackey of Philadelphia assumed the role of traffic officer when he found the policeman missing from the intersection of Fifteenth and Chestnut streets. He was prompted by an unidentified motorist whose machine narrowly missed the Mackay coat tails. After telephoning police headquarters, Mayor Mackey directed traffic for the minutes between 1:15 and 1:40 p. m. A police inspector reached the scene a moment before the traffic officer, who had "stepped away for a minute to get a drink of water." The mayor spoke to the latter in earnest fashion and then departed.

The feminine styles in 1890 were not pretty, but there have been many that were.

Blessed are the peace makers. When you are in a fight, you don't have to watch them.
