The Turner high school played their first game of the season Friday night with the Eugene Bible university. While the local boys were defeated, no special significance is to be attached to the game unless it will be the selection of a regular team for the high school. There was some good playing and though the locals were outclassed in both size and experience, made a good showing and a larger percentage of the goals tried. The Eugene boys led with the highest score nearly all through the game. The score at the half was Eugene 25, Turner 16. During the third quarter the locals made 8 points to their opponents 8. During the last quarter Eugene came out with a little more dash and ran the final score up to 34, while the Turner boys had to be satisfied with 20 points. Cecil Martin refereed the game.

Both the girls and boys teams won over Scotts Mills in a hotly contested game there last Friday evening. The girls game was easy for the locals who rolled an 8-0 score at the end of the first quarter and at half time it was 20-0.

Scotts Mills scored one basket in the third quarter, the locals getting three, but in the final canto Aumsville walked on their opponents and the game resulted in a score of 34-2.

The boys game was more even and gave the fans a run for their admission price and it was by hard work that Aumsville won with a small margin of 14-11.

Scotts Mills ran up a 4-0 lead in the first quarter but Lee and Johnson, local forwards, got busy the next quarter and gave their team a 6-4 lead at half time.
