NUMBER 8

GOVERNOR NORBLAD TO BE MAIN SPEAKER AT FATHER AND SON BANQUET

A committee of six composed of Ivan Hadley, Douglas Parkes, J. L. Webb, Ted Whitehead, C. H. Jesse and L. C. Ball met at the home of Mr. Parkes, Friday evening, and completed arrangements for a father and son banquet to be held in the Turner high school Tuesday evening, December 16.

Mr. Parkes will have charge of the program and has promised a fine evening's entertainment.

Governor Norblad will be the speaker of the evening.

Mr. Ball is in charge of the dinner and it is needless to say that there will be plenty of good eats.

Mr. Jesse, publicity and contact man, has his hands full as he will see that every man has a boy and every boy a dad—if they will give him their names.

Mr. Webb and Mr. Whitehead are in charge of table arrangements and Mr. Hadley is chairman of committees.

This is a community affair and every man is especially invited, and best of all, there will be on charge for the plates.

Stayton.—J. T. Caldwell, who prides himself on having good chickens, was the victim again Sunday night of theft. He lost 72 Rhode Island Red hens from a flock of 111. The hens were good layers and weighed around five pounds. Mr. Caldwell has just had his flock culled and every one of the 111 were laying and he had contracted for the entire output of eggs for the coming year. This is the second time Mr. Caldwell has lost chickens this same route and it looks like the work of the same parties who visited his coop a year ago.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

The deep spiritual tone in all the Sunday services was felt by everyone.

The Sunday school lesson was the basis of Rev. Gilstrap's morning sermon, "The Little Big Man." The address was enjoyed by all.

The sacred concert to be given by Dr. Epley's choir has been postponed from December 7 to December 14 as more time is needed to get ready. Dr. Epley says it will be very fine.

On Friday, November 28, the young folk of the C. E. society held their social and business meeting. They report a large crowd and a wonderful time. During the evening the new officers were elected. They are: Ole Peterson, president; Louis Fowler, vice-president; Helen Wetzel, secretary-treasurer; Lillian Peterson, chairman of Lookout committee; Max McKay, sergeant-at-arms; Josephine Gilstrap, chairman of prayer meeting committee; Nellie Barber, chairman of social committee; Lillian Peterson, superintendent of Juniors.

Frank Sacks led the C. E. meeting Sunday evening. There was a fine crowd and excellent discussion.

The congregation enjoyed very much the excellent sermon delivered by Rev. Bates of Mill City, Sunday night. It was one of those addresses that makes one feel stronger in faith.

The pastor's subjects for next Sunday are "Christian Philanthropy" in the morning, and his evening subject will be "Dynamite."

The program for Christmas is shaping up in a fine way.

The ladies' bazaar on December 10 will be one of the best they have held.

DON'T BE A CRAB

After reviewing the statement of the governor of the Federal Reserve bank of Atlanta, that "we have been living in an automobile, radio and electric refrigerator era," Messrs. William Foster and Waddill Catchings, frankly admit that it is true—and because of it we prospered. They admit that the way to restore prosperity is to buy still more of them. And bring forth more inventions. And develop more new industries. And produce more "luxuries" and, in the process, create more bank credit and pay more wages.

In short, the way to go ahead is to plan to go ahead, and not to go backward. The emblem of the United States is an eagle, not a crab.

AIR MAIL PRETTY SLOW SAYS PATRON

A. D. Hale informed The Tribune this week that he is not so sure that the air mail service is so fast as some people think. For two weeks ago he sent an air mail letter to the depot agent at Gentry, Arkansas, asking information as to when his sister would take the train for Oregon. He enclosed a self addressed air mail envelope for return information and he received a reply Tuesday, the day his sister arrived here. The posting date showed the letter was sent a week ago, but just where it had been all that time is not known. Mr. Hale says the next time he wants to get an answer quick he will send the letter by freight.

Stayton.—The wedding of Willis Potter, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Potter of Stayton, and Miss Jean Curry of Seattle was solemnized at the Potter home on Thanksgiving day, Rev. Wayne W.ight performing the ceremony. Mr. Potter is practicing law in Portland, where the couple will make their home.

Mrs. J. L. Webb will be in charge of the Christmas gift program of the Christian church missionary society. Mrs. C. T. White entertained the society at her country home the past week.

THANKSGIVING PROGRAM OF TURNER SCHOOLS

On November 26 the pupils of both the high and grade schools took part in a splendid program in the auditorium at the school, which was greatly enjoyed by parent and friends who were fortunate in attending.

The program included the following numbers: "Pilgrim Maids," Beradine White, Fernel Gilstrap, Ruth Burgoyne, Lorraine Barnett, Hazel Peterson and Lanore Myers in costume; group of school songs, high school chorus; "The Origin of Thanksgiving," Rev. E. J. Gilstrap; piano duet, Lolita Skipper and Emma Denyer; "Thanksgiving Dinner," 7th and 8th grade pupils; "Thanksgiving Song," primary pupils; comic skit, Herschel Peterson, Allee Pearcey, Alfred Crawford and Wilbur Carson; humorous solo, Mrs. Pearcey, with Mrs. May Hadley as accompanist. The school orchestra played several numbers as a part of the program.

Prof. John Cox announced the Hi School Frolic for December 5 and the Christmas program on December 19.

The singing of "America" by the audience brought to a close a very interesting program.

SCOTTS MILLS TO BE HOSTS TO MARION CO. PARENT TEACHERS

The Marion County Parent-Teacher Association will meet this Friday evening with the Scott Mills P. T. A. in the high school auditorium, beginning at 8 o'clock. County President Dr. B. F. Pound will preside. Plans for the coming year will be outlined by the different presidents at the meeting.

Mrs. Arduthnot, president of the Silverton P. T. A. and Mrs. Niccolson of the Aumsville association will report on the recent fall regional conference held in Portland.

Miss Clarabelle Nye, state home economics leader from Oregon State college, will be present and give an address. There will also be a musical program to be offered by the Scotts Mills organization. This will include a piano number by Bobby Schmaltz, vocal number by Miss Phyllis Macy with a violin obligato by G. W. Taylor, piano duet played Mrs. LaVerne Dixon and Miss Corrine Moberg.

HEALTH LECTURE AT J. M. BONES HOME

On December 2, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bones opened their home to a group of their friends and Mr. Ambrose of Salem served a 6:30 o'clock dinner and gave a health lecture. The tables were decorated in mistletoe and varicolored chrysanthemums with ships of health as placecards. Mrs. Margaret McKay and the Misses Hildroth Bones and Helen Pertz, in clever little caps and aprons, served.

Seated at the long tables were Rev. and Mrs. Gilstrap, Mr. and Mrs. Vester Bones, Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Pearsons, Mr. and Mrs. Bert McKay, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Peterson of Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brasher of Salem, Mr. and Mrs. John Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Joe McKinney, Mrs. Ada Sparks, Mrs. China Bones, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Elston and daughters, Edna and Blanche, of Brownsville, Miss Alice Peterson, Charley and Hollis Bones, and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bones.

Stayton.—Mr. and Mrs. Thurston Kearns entertained with Thanksgiving dinner their son, Ivan, and wife and daughter, Mrs. June Bartow of Seattle and their nephew, Guy P. Kearns, who has spent the past ten years at Fairbanks, Alaska.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos L. Harris, Sr., and sons, Ralph and Jos., Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Charley R. Sims of Stayton, spent Thanksgiving at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brooks and Mrs. M. E. Chambers. Mrs. Sims is a sister of Mrs. Brooks and a granddaughter of Mrs. Chambers.

WILL RESIDE HERE

Mrs. Bettie Leggett arrived Monday from Gentry, Arkansas, and will make her home here with her brother, A. D. Hale. It has been twenty-five years since Mr. Hale had seen his sister and the meeting was indeed a pleasant one. The following news item is taken from the Journal-Advance, printed at the home of Mrs. Leggett, and has to say of her departure for Oregon:

"Mrs. Bettie Leggett, familiarly known to the citizens of Gentry as 'Aunt Bettie,' left Monday night for Turner, Oregon, where she will make her home with her brother, A. D. Hale. Mrs. Leggett sold her residence just north of the Methodist church to Joe. Eldridge."

You can get your winter's reading and one of these dolls by subscribing to your home paper.

This offer applies to either renewals or to new subscribers.

This offer is only good for a limited time, so come in and put your name on the list and take home one of the beautiful "Kiss Me" dolls.

SCHOOL DIRECTORS TO HOLD MEETING

County Superintendent Fulkerson announced Saturday that plans have just been made for a school board convention for representatives of Marion county district school boards to be held at the court house in Salem, Saturday, December 6. Grant Murphy is president of the county organization, Director Marshall of Swegle is vice-president and Mrs. Fulkerson, secretary.

Tentative plans are for the main theme of discussion to be for a better use of the Smith-Hughes act in the schools of the county. In addition reports will be received from various districts on work of the school boards and out of these will come further matters for discussion on problems co-incident to the work of the various boards.—Capital Journal.

Stayton.—The Woman's Club and Chamber of Commerce will again sponsor a community Christmas tree. The Chamber of Commerce has also decided to give prizes this year for the best decorated homes. A booth will be in the bank where the voting can be done, as last year the awarding of prizes did not seem to meet with the approval of some. It will be done by voting this year and not by judges. The committee on home decorations is Mrs. Gen E. Fox, Mrs. M. Shields, Mrs. Eliza Taylor and Mrs. H. Champ from the Woman's Club and H. J. Rowe, Wayne Wright, O. L. Baker and W. A. Weddle from the Chamber of Commerce. These organizations assisted by P. T. A. will have charge of the Christmas tree at the school house.

C. F. Smith and his mother left Wednesday, December 3, for their home in Glen's Ferry, Idaho. After visiting their daughter and sister about three weeks. We wish them a safe trip home.

RETURNS FROM EAST

E. Robinson and his sister, Mrs. Asquith, arrived from Thiesville, Wisconsin, Friday morning. It has been eight years since Mr. Robinson left Turner and he says he has been contemplating moving back here for the past three years. When he left Wisconsin there was a blizzard raging and snow was 12 inches deep, and Minnesota was having one of its blizzards also. He says Oregon looks good to him and he will stay here this trip. At present Mr. Robinson and his sister are stopping with Mrs. Geo. Barr.

E. Robinson is the first man to subscribe on the doll offer and this week took a subscription for his son in Wisconsin. He took the doll, so he said, for his sister.

STATE TO OBSERVE DECEMBER 7TH AS UNIVERSAL BIBLE DAY

Governor A. W. Norblad urges the observance next Sunday, December 7, of Universal Bible Sunday in the churches throughout Oregon. The American Bible Society, an organization which issues annually over eleven million copies of Bibles Testaments, and Portions in close to two hundred languages, has been sponsoring Universal Bible Sunday over a period of years. Thousands of churches throughout the United States as well as many Christian churches abroad join in this movement which was conceived and is promoted to emphasize the essential position which the Bible occupies in the spiritual life of men and women.

In endorsing Universal Bible Sunday, Governor Norblad says: "The Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments have played a most important part in the development of the civilization of the entire world. In the great state of Oregon, a vast empire of over 96,000 square miles, the Scriptures have been a vital factor since the arrival of the early pioneers. These hardy pioneers, when hard pressed by the troubles of the long journey across the country and the suffering found in the new land, turned to the Scriptures for comfort and guidance. Among the very first buildings were those for worship and even before that was possible the early settlers often gathered together beneath the trees for religious services.

"In view of the greatness of the Scriptures and the important part played in the civilization of the entire world, I do most heartily endorse Universal Bible Sunday and urge all to cooperate in making the day a most successful one."

METHODIST CHURCH

"The Righteousness That Exceeds," (Matt. 5:20) was the subject of the morning's devotions. Let us measure our beliefs and connections by the words of Jesus. What is the "more" that Jesus requires? Many there are who outwardly appear as good and sometimes better than some Christians but they lack fellowship with God—and the deep peace which nothing but vital touch with the Christ can give. So the "more" that Jesus requires is "forgiveness, peace, fellowship and expectation a fuller life beyond."

Much interest is being worked up in the Sunday school through the memorizing of scripture verses. The boys class reported 70 verses learned last week—needless to say they were awarded the banner.

Volleyball will probably not meet till Wednesday next week as the Community club is on Monday night.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Elton Ball, 11, was the honor guest when his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Ball, entertained with a family dinner Sunday. A large birthday cake centered the table which was laden with good things to eat. Circling the table were Elton, his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wipper, Mrs. Frank Lyle, an aunt and daughters, Eleane and Jeanne, of Portland; and uncle, Ben Wipper; his brothers Bobby and Keith, his father and mother, the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Ball.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Fhelman and Miss Thelma Dalzell, all students at Oregon State college, were here for Thanksgiving at the F. C. Dalzell parental home. Other dinner guests were Alvin Schirman and Robert Miller of Salem, Mr. and Mrs. Ulwin E. Denyer and children, Russell, James and Emma.
