NUMBER 14

STATE CAPITAL JAMMED WITH PEOPLE WHO SEE JULIUS L. MEIER MADE 20TH GOVERNOR

Monday afternoon at 2:40, Julius L. Meier took the oath of office and became Oregon's twentieth governor. The oath was administered by Circuit Judge L. H. McMahan. Mr. Meier won the gubernatorial honor after the most dramatic fight in the history of the state.

In his message Mr. Meier discussed the salient issues of his campaign. Among these he recommended the abolition of the public service commission and the creation of a department of utilities to represent the people. He emphasized the development of hydro-electric power as an outstanding means of state development. He outlined a program of economy and reorganized and increased efficiency in administration of the state's affairs.

Some high lights of the governor's message were:

Urges abolition of public service commission and creation of department of utilities headed by one man as special representative of the people.

Home rule for cities in dealing with utilities; repeal of certificate of necessity.

Urges hydro-electric commission with authority over water power.

Municipal corporations to be favored in hydro development, but publicly owned plants to pay taxes; limiting capitalization of private utilities and amortization of investment out of earnings.

Strict economy; old age pensions; free school texts; no salary increases; state absorb one-mill market road tax.

Disbarment of George W. Joseph was a "disgrace to the judiciary and a stain upon the fair name of the state of Oregon."

Inaugural Ball Draws Big Crowd

Upwards of two thousand people, friends and admirers of Governor and Mrs. Julius L. Meier attended the inaugural ball held in the armory in Salem, Monday night.

People came from all over the state, in special trains, chartered busses and private autos, and from the balcony of the armory the sight of the bare back, blondes and brunettes and the baldheaded wearers of Tuxedos and swallowtails, the contrast was indeed unusual. Three orchestras furnished music for dancing in the dining room of the Marion hotel, in the armory and in the Crystal Gardens and each place was crowded to overflowing. From all reports those attending had a good time.

CLEVER PROGRAM IS FEATURE OF GRANGE MEET LAST SATURDAY

The all day meeting of Surprise Grange No. 233 was held in their hall last Saturday with a fine lunch served at the noon hour.

The conferring of first and second degrees on two new members took up a part of the morning session, and at 2 o'clock a clever program directed by the lecturer, Mrs. Ethel Gulvin, was given. The New Year being the theme.

The program consisted of the following numbers: Singing, "Smiles," by the assembled members; reading of two short articles of New Year's greetings by the lecturer; "Spring Time in the Rockies," was sung with Albert Jensen accompanying the singers on the violin; Bernadine White gave a reading giving the months of the year in verse; Raymond Titus, humorous selection; Tennyson's poem "The New Year," was read by Mrs. Eleanor Titus.

G. W. Farris, W. F. Gulvin and Mr. Trochel, legislative committee, were asked to visit the legislature and get in touch with other committees on grange work. They will make a report at the next meeting.

The rest of the program which consisted of calendar stunts was very interesting and well worked out. The month of January was cleverly represented by a snowball contest in which four persons took part. Red hearts were passed and each added an adjective to the word heart for February. March was the windy month in which children spent much wind in blowing up toy balloons. April showers came next, represented by four people with umbrellas march around the hall. A short flower guessing story represented May. June, the wedding month, and each gentleman was asked to give a description of his wife's wedding dress and each lady was told to mention a funny or sad incident of the wedding day. The July stunt pertained to firecrackers. August was represented by reminders of threshing. September, a school story. October reminds us of corn shelling and Hallowe'en. Each was asked to give their pet horror. November was represented by a word guessing contest relating to terms used at Thanksgiving time. For December "Silent Night" was sung by Mrs. Hester Crume, Mrs. T. Little, Mrs. A. Edwards and W. F. Gulvin.

Clifford Ensley is the proud father of a baby girl which his wife presented to him last Friday morning at the Bungalow Maternity hospital in Salem. The little Miss, who has been named Gaylia Floriene, weighed 7½ pounds. She is the first grandchild of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Colvin of Aumsville.

Christian Endeavor

Sunday evening, January 18, is 100 per cent Christian Endeavor night of sermon and songs at the Christian church at Turner, Oregon. Come and enjoy the evening. Everyone between the ages of one and 99 years are cordially welcomed by the Christian Endeavors. We are sure that you will enjoy our program. A brief outline is as follows: Six one-minute talks by C. E. members; special songs, followed by a fourfold sermon, title, "The Message of God to a Sin Cursed World." Part 1, Helene Witzel; Part 2, Mozart; Part 3, Hildred Bones; Part 4, Josephine Gilstrap. The 15 C. E. members taking part in this program are working with diligence with one object in view, and that is to give you a program which will be of benefit to all who may attend. This invitation is extended to you through their president, Ole Peterson.

H. S. LOCALS FAIL TO REMOVE JINX, LOSE TWO GAMES TO STAYTON

The Turner high girls in a rather slow, hard fought game lost to Stayton high. The score was rather close until the last half when the Stayton aggregation looped in several nice shots, taking the lead that Turner was never able to overcome. The game came to a close with the score standing Stayton 27, Turner 14.

The boys game was a dandy all the way through. The locals took the lead at the first and held it till the fourth quarter, when the Stayton squad began to score some lucky long shots bringing their score ahead of the locals. The Turner boys couldn't seem to connect again throughout the last quarter.

The boys played a fine game and should have won but old man luck was against them.

Givens and Stewart seemed to be the stars of the evening for Turner. The score at the close of the game was 17 to 23 in favor of Stayton. Caldwell of Salem was the referee.

Cascade League

The curtain raiser between the Turner and Stayton second teams was a rough battle throughout, Stayton taking the lead in the first quarter and maintained it through the rest of the game. The Turner boys fought hard but lack of practice and experience was responsible for the loss. The score was 30 to 10 in favor of Stayton. Referee, Page. The lineup:

Turner	Stayton
McKay	R.F. Jones
Thieson	L.F. Darby
Bones	C. Shelton
Webb	R.G. Fery
J. Cox	L.G. Smith

In one of the fastest hand fought battle of the Cascade league games played here at Turner, Stayton took away high honors. The game from start to finish was a wow, speed and plenty of it. In the first quarter the locals took the lead of 10 to 4 and held it till the end of the first period. After the gun for the second, Stayton launched forward and looped in several nice shots making the score 17 for Stayton and 12 for the locals. The third and fourth periods were both close, except in the fourth Stayton had a ten-point lead which Turner came within one point of overcoming. Then Thoma of Stayton looped in a long one and this was followed by a short one bringing the score 29 for Stayton and 24 for Turner at the gun for the end of the game. Referee, Caldwell of Salem; timekeepers, Peetz and Thoma. The lineup:

Turner	Stayton
E. Gath	R.F. Eggleston
M. Pearson	L.F. Shelton
W. Pearson	C. Lesley
C. Martin	R.G. Ware
C. Ensley	L.G. Thoma

C. K. Spaulding Is New Senator

Wednesday, Governor Meier nominated Mrs. Lotta C. Smith, widow of the late Dr. W. Carlton Smith, to fill the vacancy in the house of representatives, and Chas. K. Spaulding for the place in the senate made vacant by the death of Senator Lloyd T. Reynolds.

Mrs. Smith has been a resident of Salem since 1902 and has been active in civic and musical life of the city. She also was active in organizing auxiliaries of the Red Cross in both Polk and Marion counties.

Mr. Spaulding is in the lumber business in Salem, being owner of the large Spaulding sawmill and other enterprises in connection with his company. He also owns a large farm near Dayton in Yamhill county.

FIRST PRIZE IN PEACE CONTEST IS WON BY MISS JOSEPHINE GILSTRAP

C. A. Bear, president, presided at the Community club meeting Monday evening, assisted by Miss Mable Tucker who took the minutes in the absence of Mrs. U. S. Talbott, the secretary.

Mrs. Jean Pearcey presented the glee club in musical numbers from the operetta "The Gypsy Rover," with Mrs. May Hadley as accompanist.

The second number was a dialogue by Shella Delzell and one of the boys from the Turner Boys Home.

Prof. J. T. Mathews, who has been an instructor at Willamette university for many years, gave a very interesting lecture on his visit to Australia and New Zealand in 1927. He also judged the oratorical contests which followed.

The first prize was awarded to Josephine Gilstrap, who took for her subject, "The Dawn of Peace"; Leona Cook placed second with "Democracy and Word Peace," and Alvin Garner was third with "The Call of Peace." The prizes were presented by Ivan Hadley, president of the M. E. Brotherhood, who sponsored the peace contest.

At the short business meeting which followed, it was decided to have the fire marshal speak at the February meeting. Mrs. Riches also announced a Valentine program for that time.

The pageant, "The Light of the World," which has drawn tremendous crowds at the four presentations at the American Lutheran church in Salem, will be given again next Sunday evening. Henry Ahrens of Turner is cast in the leading role.

METHODIST CHURCH

Two fine services Sunday, preceded by a very profitable Sunday school hour.

Subject of the morning discourse was "The Parable of the Soil." Say! if your heart is hard or stony, that is no excuse for not receiving the seed—or word of God—for your creator has offered to give you a new heart—"and I will take the stony heart out . . . and will give them a heart of flesh" (or a soft, tender teachable heart) but He never does these miracles for us unless we really truly want them. Don't worry, God is not going to force you into heaven. The only thing you need to do to keep out is—nothing. But we cannot afford to be idle and let the weeds of any description choke out the very best of all. Even cares of this world a worldly pleasure may choke out the spiritual. Let us guard carefully the gardens of our hearts.

In the evening we had an exposition of the eleventh chapter of Eccl., "Reading the Clouds." It was exceptionally good. Come out and hear Rev. Burgoyne.

Aid society will meet Thursday of next week with Mrs. C. Guning. Everyone invited.

The Men's Brotherhood plan to go to West Salem, Friday night of this week and help Rev. Groves in his special meetings. Everyone who wants to go should be at the parsonage by 6:45 p. m.

The peace contest given at the Community club Monday night was excellent. All three contestants did remarkably well both in the composition and in the delivery. Prof. Mathews of Willamette university was the judge, and his was a hard task for they were all so good. Josephine Gilstrap was awarded first prize, $7; Leona Cook, second prize, $3; and Aloin Garner, third prize, $2.

ALL DAY MEETING HELD BY THREE LINKS CLUB AT HOME OF MRS. GEORGE CRUM

The three Link Club of Ideal Rebe-ka Lodge No. 223 met at the home of Mrs. Geo. Crume in an all day meeting on Thursday, January 9. A delicious pot luck dinner was served at the noon hour and a very pleasant as well as profitable day was spent piecing quilt blocks for a friendship quilt. This is the second quilt the club has made since beginning their regular meetings recently. The first, a beautiful applique butterfly pattern, was given to the Odd Fellows Home in Portland. The next meeting of the club will be in the I. O. O. F. hall on February 13 when Mrs. Lucille McKinney, and the Misses Muriel Salisbury and Mable Walker will be joint hostesses. Guests present were Mrs. Will Harris, Mrs. Walter Harris, Mrs. E. McKay, Mrs. Stella Miller and Mrs. Ray Baker of Salem. Members present were Martha Barnett, Susan Jaridian, Muriel Salisbury, Mable Martin China Bones, Lucille McKinney, Gayette Barnett, Mabel Walker, Hazel McKay and the hostess Hester Crume. Miss Mable Tucker was also a visitor for the day.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Wipper spent the past week at Grand Island with a niece, Mrs. C. A. Rockhill, and family. While there they motored to Roseburg and visited Ira Pierce on his 81st birthday, taking him a nice cake and cigars. Mr. Pierce, who formerly lived here, is enjoying splendid health.

Clifford Ensley, whose truck burned a couple of weeks ago, is now driving a new Chevrolet truck which he uses on his milk route and custom-hauling.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Mrs. Ruth Riches reported 30 attending her department (primary) Sunday. There are three splendid teachers in this part of the Sunday school.

Bro. Gilstrap spoke on "Christ, the Ideal Teacher," Sunday morning. There was a fine audience and the message was well received.

Anna Johnson led the C. E. meeting Sunday evening. The topic was "Ideals for Young Men"—no one but the girls were allowed to take part. The boys sure heard what the girls think a young man should be. It was not easy for them to keep still. Next Sunday they will have their turn. There was a fine attendance.

One of the most charming services of the season was given Sunday night. Dr. Epley led in the old hymn, then sang his own "Oregon, Queen of the West." Then the pastor introduced an old pioneer, Grandfather Pearson. This splendid old man is a good speaker, and has a clear memory. He gave all a refreshing glance back over three quarters of a century. The house was well filled and all were pleased.

This is a busy week at the church again, choir practice, W. C. T. U. and committee meeting. The church lives to serve.

Next Sunday evening the young people have charge of the whole evening service. They will not disappoint us. Ole Peterson is president and is in charge.
