DAIRY PROBLEMS DISCUSSED AT CRANCE MEETING SATURDAY

The Turner Grange held an all day meeting Saturday with a dinner at the noon hour, followed with a social hour.

First and second degrees were conferred on four new members, and a report of committees in charge reported that $11.05 was realized from the play put on here by the Union Hill Grange, a couple of weeks ago.

In the afternoon Mrs. Gulvin, lecturer, called the roll which was responded to by members each giving their pet economy. Mrs. Gulvin also gave a sketch of eight noted characters who celebrated their birthdays in March, and also gave an interesting talk on the life of St. Patrick.

"The Wearing of the Green," was given as a group song; Mrs. Fred Steiger, resume of Irish music; Bernadine White told a story of the many interesting things a child would see on a trip through Ireland.

The main speaker was R. W. Clark of Salem, who spoke on dairying and its products. Chicken raising, gardening, their profits and operations, were ably discussed also. Mrs. J. W. Bones gave a reading on "Helpers in the Garden," and A. D. Hale gave a reading on the subject of peace.

A guessing contest on Ireland was conducted by Mrs. Gulvin, which was won by Mrs. A. Edwards. "Go With Me to Ireland," was played by the children, and every one present enjoyed the day very much.

The next meeting will be held in April and a poster contest on "Peace" will be conducted.

CLOVERDALE

Mr. and Mrs. Pearey, Mrs. Lola Burgoyne and son, Lester, and Larry Barham of Salem, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gunning, Mrs. Burgoyne and little Ruth, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Hadley and their three little boys, and Mrs. Olga Garner surprised Mrs. Mazie Garner at her home Wednesday evening. The occasion was her birthday. The evening was spent in music, readings and games, hugely enjoyed by all.

Light refreshments were served at a late hour.

Mrs. Williams underwent a very serious operation Wednesday at the Lebanon hospital under the care of Dr. Irwin. Last reports were that she is doing very nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Hadley attended the convention at Woodburn, Friday evening and Saturday. Mr. Hadley was one of the speakers there.

Earl Hedges has returned from eastern Oregon, where he was called on account of sickness.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hennies attended a party in Salem, Friday evening.

Miss Katherine Schampier has been home the past week with the measles.

E. Baker and his mother of Salem spent Sunday afternoon with Nellie Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Cook spent Saturday shopping in Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Cook attended a party in Turner, Friday evening.

Mrs. Mazie Garner and daughter, Olga, were shopping in Salem, Saturday.

Mrs. Louise Dye of Portland is here visiting her sister, Mrs. Fred Schifferer.

Mrs. Margaret Miller's father is reported better.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Dr. Kellem will speak next Sunday morning.

Last Sunday the pastor gave two sermons outstanding in Christian truths and spiritual fervor.

There were more than twenty young people in each of the two Christian Endeavor societies. At each there was a rousing meeting. The Intermediates were led by Ruth Gilstrap and the Seniors by Nellie Barber. Nearly half a hundred Christian Endeavorers may make some problem but they solve more.

A full orchestra rendered beautiful music at the opening of the evening service.

As a glorious climax to the evening worship a husband and wife came forward uniting a family in Christ.

A good Easter program, with beautiful decorations.

A good turnout of the choir met for practice Tuesday. Dr. Epley was hindered from attending by the illness of a relative. In his absence Mr. Hickok directed the chorus.

There will be baptismal services at the close of the next Sunday morning worship hour.

Sunday School Convention Here

The regular meeting of the Santiam Sunday school will meet at the Christian church in Turner on Sunday, April 12th. Owing to the regular date falling on Easter Sunday, the date has been changed to April 12th.

M. E. BROTHERHOOD VISITS STAYTON TUESDAY EVENING

Tuesday evening eight members of the Methodist Men's Brotherhood of Turner journeyed to Stayton and assisted in the organization of a brotherhood in the Stayton church. The meeting was in charge of Ivan Hadley, president of the local brotherhood.

A long table, set the full length of the dining room was loaded with good things to eat, around which gathered 26 men. West Salem was represented by four men—the pastor, M. A. Groves, A. N. Merrill, editor of the West Salem Clarion, and Messrs. Wright and Simmons.

Following the banquet the meeting was opened by prayer by Rev. W. S. Burgoyne of Turner, after which Chairman Hadley called on the different members of the Turner Brotherhood to tell what the organization had accomplished in Turner. Those coming from Salem also responded.

The Stayton Brotherhood was organized with the following officers being elected: President, L. H. Wright; vice-president, W. C. Pelham; secretary-treasurer, H. E. Bennett; chaplain, F. F. Foster. The second Monday in each month was selected as the meeting dates.

Within a few years the public war debt of the United States will probably be reduced to the point where the foreign war debt payments to this country will gradually wipe it out. That is the sort of cancellation that we learned in the old home-town school.

HELEN CHANDLER, BELA LUGOSI and DWIGHT FRYE in "DRACULA" UNIVERSAL SUPER-PRODUCTION

Screen actors have again become natural. This is the declaration of Tod Browning, one of the industry's most successful directors of strange and unusual motion pictures.

"Up to two or three years ago," said Browning recently, "film actors were entirely natural, and perfectly at home in the environment. They had thoroughly mastered screen technique—which, by the way, differs very materially from the technique of the stage. Even though the actor must always go through his actions with the location and limitations of the camera in mind, there was nothing to indicate that he even realized its existence."

"Then came the talking picture, introducing a new feature which must be kept constantly in mind—the microphone. On account of the mechanical limitations of the earlier instruments, and the limited field of their reception, the actor could only speak his 'lines' at some particular point or points on the 'stage,' or 'set,' instead of being allowed the latitude that had always been possible in the silent picture. As a result there came a certain restraint on the part of the film player, and there was even a tendency to glance upward, to make sure that he was standing in the proper place.

"But now, through growing familiarity with the new medium, as well as the heightening of its sensitiveness and the consequent widening of its field, the actor is again moving about naturally. Relieved of the necessity of literally toeing a mark, he is free to give his entire thought to the playing of his role, and this fact has brought a vast change in the quality of acting on the talking screen. The talking picture now displays a smoothness and an unconscious precision which were never exceeded in any silent picture ever made."

Tod Browning was the director of "Dracula," Universal's startling drama of human vampires and their strange life after death which comes to the Elsinore theatre starting Saturday through Tuesday with a cast which includes Bela Lugosi, Helen Chandler, David Manners, Edward Van Sloan, Dwight Frye, Frances Dade, Herbert Bunston, Joan Standing and Charles Gerrard.

METHODIST CHURCH

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Hadley brought back a fine report of the county Sunday school convention which was held in Woodburn, Friday and Saturday of last week.

Our Santiam district convention will not be held until the second Sunday in April on account of the first Sunday being Easter. The convention is to be held in Turner this time and it is our turn to entertain them.

Our Sunday school will have a fine Easter number during the Sunday school hour two weeks from next Sunday and an Easter pageant entitled "In the Garden" during the regular church hour in the evening.

Last Sunday morning Rev. Burgoyne brought a stirring address on "The Value of a Soul," that which no mathematician can compute. Jesus is the only one with the proper comprehension of its value, and he told us it's worth more than a whole city! a nation! no the whole world! And He by hanging on the cruel cross made a bridge twixt God and man whereby we poor souls may be saved from our lost condition. Wonderful, wonderful Saviour!

We missed Sister Burgoyne so much from our services Sunday. Her friends will be glad to hear she is recovering from the flu and hopes to be with us next week.

The Epworth League was led by Russell Denyer and a very profitable time was had considering the most practical subject, "Really Getting Acquainted With Jesus." The social department is beginning to function already and the society is getting a fine start.

The Brotherhood had charge during the evening church hour and "The Steps to Salvation" was their theme. Each speaker brought out his "step" so clearly! That service was their best yet.

Tuesday night eight members of the Brotherhood went to Stayton and helped them to organize up there. Our Brotherhood is certainly proving a real asset to the church.

Regular services next Sunday every one is most cordially invited to worship with us.

West Stayton Meet With Seed Men Monday

The Growers club held a special meeting Monday evening to make out lists of seeds for their gardens. Very few were ready to turn in the lists at that time as they hardly knew what amount they needed at the present time. A plan was discussed on a market for the produce raised here, but no definite action was taken at this time. Mr. Helgerson, of Lilly's Seed company, was present and is giving a lot of his time helping the members of the club with his advice.

Last Thursday the Women's Alliance met at the home of Mrs. Belle Woosley. The quilt on which they have been working for some time was almost finished but lacked three rows of blocks which were pieced and handed in at the meeting. They plan on a program and special evening when the basket quilt will be raffled off. The club will meet at the home of Mrs. Peggie Comstock, Thursday, March 26.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wise received the sad news of the death of their brother-in-law, Mr. Chetford, last Friday. He had been sick for several weeks and passed away last Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Wise went down to stay until after the funeral which was held Saturday. Mr. Chetfield had been a fireman for the last 23 years and the firemen conducted the fu-

ATTEMPT TO ROB CHICKEN COOP NIPPED IN THE BUD

Last October, William Musgrove, who lives on the C. F. Hein place south of Aumsville, lost about 70 fine chickens by thieves and he made up his mind he would put in a burglar alarm and replenish his flock. He purchased a number of high grade chickens, put in a burglar alarm and waited.

Last Saturday night just as he was getting ready to retire, the alarm sounded. Mr. Musgrove grabbed his gun, climbed out the window and spied three people who evidently heard Mr. Musgrove get out of the window and they were making their getaway. Mr. Musgrove gave them four charges from his gun, but does not know whether he hit any of them or not, but the supposition is he did as a doctor was called into the neighborhood Sunday morning.

Chicken stealing has been going on in the neighborhood for some time. Raymond Titus lost 50 fine hens a short time ago, and rumor has it that the chickens have been taken to Portland, dressed and sold on the market there.

The shooting of last Saturday night will probably put a stop to the chicken stealing in that section, for some time at least. It's just too bad that Mr. Musgrove's aim wasn't a little better.

Mrs. Mary Forrette had a family dinner at her home last Sunday. The occasion honoring three birthdays which were very near each other. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Forrette and children, Vincent, Cyril and Bernadine, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Porter and daughter, Helen, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Terers and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Forrette and the hostess enjoyed a bountiful birthday dinner and had a very pleasant visit.

The social meeting of the West Stayton Community club was held in the hall Tuesday evening. The main attraction was the "fish pond" where each one "fished" just most any kind of a "fish" you could imagine. After the fish pond was all fished out genuine "Irish stew" was sold. Mrs. Irish and daughter, Martha, and Mr. McClendon sang some Irish songs before the fish pond opened.

Mrs. Lora Rand and baby, Georgia Ellen, are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stewart. Mrs. Stewart has been on the sick list the last few days.

Harold Firschel, who had such a bad case of poison oak is much better and was able to return to school Monday morning.

Miss Martha Irish, who has been quite sick for a few days, was able to return to school Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Comstock and family went over to Newport, Saturday evening, returning home Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrette were visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hankel last Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Bruce Bowne has been on the sick list for the last few weeks.

Mrs. Shields a former resident of this place left for her home in Idaho last Saturday.

Mrs. Thurston Kearns was visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Royce, Friday afternoon.

Mrs. H. W. White went to Portland last Saturday where she will spend a week.

T. Y. McClellan has been quite sick for several days with the flu.
