SCHOOL NOTES

William C. Jones of Willamette university gave a very interesting address Tuesday, April 21, to the student body. Following this he addressed the senior on college. He told them of all the advantages the college had and an outline of what subjects were taught also what athletics were given. Any senior who wished, could talk to him personally, after the class was dismissed.

Miss Josephine Gilstrap entered the extemporaneous speaking contest held at Silverton, Friday, April 17. The

One Ting After An Udder

By Max McKay

Hello people, looks like we're having a little dust storm or something. By-golly, we hope it don't rain or the sidewalks would be so muddy we'd have to wear our gum boots to see our girls. That ud be bad.

By thunderin' lightning this is the worst storm we've seen in forty years, Yes, sir.

Extra! Extra! The city council will raise the levee a foot higher around the town. That's a fine idea council but whatcha gonna use, screw jacks or ford lifters?

Say, why the heck don't you just raise the town instead, it would be a much easier job or you might pass an ordinance to have the town moved upon a hill. That would be better yet. Still everybody would be trying to get right on the very top, like a bunch of fleas on a drownin' dog's nose, so the other guy wouldn't drain the water down on him. That would be too first place was carried off by Salem high school. Miss Gilstrap received second place.

Mr. Fox, assistant superintendent, presented the prizes. First place received a gold pin. Second received a silver pin.

The grade schools were holding a contest the same night.

Miss Gilstrap will enter the extemporaneous contest held at Corvallis, April 23, 24 and 25.

Turner played Jefferson high school Friday, April 17. The game started with Jefferson at bat. They made five runs before Turner came up. Jefferson made a home run during this inning. Turner struck out with no runs.

The second inning Jefferson made one run. Three Turner men were walked during this inning and one run was scored.

Several flies were caught throughout the game by our outfielders. The Turner men were walked frequently throughout the game because of being hit by the ball. Garner made a three-base hit during the seventh inning. He played his first game in the catcher's position. Mitchell replaced Tappan in the pitch's box during the latter part of the game.

The outcome was 16-4 in Jefferson's favor.

The next game will be played Friday, April 24, with Jefferson at Jefferson.

The senior play will be given May 29. The play selected is the Ulster. The cast was picked this week. Practice will not begin until the first of May because the play books ordered will not be here before this date. Mrs. can Pearey will direct the play.

little cinder came from, so we just dismissed the idea.

You bet, nothing like having a bigger and better village.

As the fellow once said in speaking at a chamber of commerce meeting, "the chamber's right behind you and were all ready to carry it out."

We think you boys ought to build a big concrete building in some good district of the business section to handle your firms business in. We'd like to have a job as private secretary or what not, and a lot of the other boys might like a job too.
