IRON WORKERS ARE FOUND GUILTY

All But Two of Defendants Convicted By Jury After Forty Hours' Deliberation.

Indianapolis.—Thirty-eight defendants, including Olaf Tveitmo and E. A. Clancy of San Francisco, in the so-called dynamite conspiracy trial, were found guilty by a jury in the United States court here on every count in the indictments charging them with illegally transporting dynamite. Only two of the defendants—Daniel Buckley of Davenport, Iowa, and Herman Seiffert of Milwaukee—were acquitted.

Almost the entire executive staff of the International Association of Bridge & Structural Iron Workers was convicted.

At the head of the list of those convicted stands Frank M. Ryan, the president.

It was of this union, with 12,000 members, that John J. McNamara was secretary-treasurer while he conducted the dynamite out of which the present convictions grew.

The convictions, coming on a scale unprecedented in a federal court, were an aftermath of the killing of 21 persons in the blowing up of the Los Angeles Times building on October 1, 1910. McNamara and his brother, James B., the Times dynamiters, are convicts in California.

Two of those convicted were not affiliated with the Iron Workers' union, but they were found guilty of joining with the Iron Workers' officials in promoting the conspiracy. One of these is Olaf A. Tveitmo, of San Francisco, a recognized labor leader on the Pacific coast.

Washington.—Charges that the prosecution of the dynamite conspiracy trial in Indianapolis was directed more against organized labor than against the defendants were voiced here by United States Senator John W. Kern of Indiana, of counsel for the convicted union men.

"Because the prosecution was aimed at labor," said Senator Kern, "all organized labor should stand firmly behind these men while the case is being appealed. I believe this will be done."

BISHOP FLOURS PILGRIMS

Suffrage Marchers Called Lot of "Silly, Exaggerated Women."

Albany, N. Y.—The suffrage pilgrims' well-earned day of rest here was enlivened by a difference of opinion over the usefulness of their long march from New York city between Bishop William Crowell Deane, of the Episcopal diocese of Albany, and "General" Rosalie Jones.

In a statement Bishop Deane declared the pilgrims were "a lot of silly, exaggerated women," and that he had no faith in them, and that the trip from New York to Albany was "inspired by the same motives as actuated English suffragettes—the desire to attract attention."

When told of the Bishop's remarks, "General" Jones said: "I'm a good Episcopalian, but I'm afraid the good Bishop is excited."

WILSON CELEBRATES 56TH BIRTHDAY

Staunton, Va.—Virginia welcomed home Saturday Governor Wilson, the eighth of her native sons to be chosen president of the United States. From the moment the president-elect crossed the state line at Alexandria until he reached the little parsonage where he was born 56 years ago the reception was one of great enthusiasm, noisy demonstration and spectacular display.

The president-elect proclaimed the hope that his administration might mean the final obliteration of everything that in the past divided the north and the south.

Standing on the porch of Mary Baldwin Seminary, in the chapel of which he was baptized, he spoke to a great crowd. The presidency, the governor said, he regarded "as an office in which a man must put on his war paint," but he added that his visage was such that he "did not mind marring it, for a man can keep his manners and straight."

A great number of men who have taken the part of legislating for sections would have to be made. The governor pointed out, in regard to the inauguration, that it may be the instrument of mercy."

NEWS OF GENERAL INTEREST IN IDAHO

James Flaherty, the man caught, was walking from his cabin to a spring a few feet away when he was killed. He had no warning and no chance to escape.

O'NEIL PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Former Wallace Banker Arraigned on Nine Counts in Shoshone Court

Wallace.—Judge W. W. Woods Thursday issued an order calling for the immediate arraignment of B. F. O'Neil, former president of the now defunct State Bank of Commerce, on nine counts charging the issuance of false reports. Following the session of the grand jury, which indicted the banker on six counts, Prosecuting Attorney James A. Wayne filed additional informations charging that the banker committed an offense each day he allowed the institution to run after that date.

The arraignment of O'Neil occupied but ten minutes in district court Saturday morning. With formality and superfluity omitted by the prisoner's consent, but one of the nine charges were read in its entirety. The differences in the eight other complaints were detailed. As each of the number was called he pleaded not guilty. The setting of the cases has been left until the coming term which begins in February.

O'Neil's bond on these nine counts continues under the ruling of the court at $2000 on each. This makes the total bond $18,000.

Many Corporations Delinquent

Lewiston.—In the state of Idaho there are 4336 delinquent corporations according to an instrument filed in the office of the county recorder. In a total compiled recently only 110 have paid their corporation license levied by the state. These business concerns have been delinquent since November 30. The Northern Pacific railroad, the Northern Express company and the Clearwater Short Line railroad will make a test case of the new law enacted last year by the legislature.

SAYS AMENDMENTS LOST

Former Governor McConnell Declares Vote for Them Was Not Enough

Moscow.—Ex-Governor W. J. McConnell has issued a letter protesting against the adoption of the eight amendments, voted upon at the last election, to the constitution of Idaho, and points out the fact that under the rule by which all these amendments have been declared carried that it would be possible to amend the constitution if the amendment only received a dozen votes.

The reason assigned for this suggestion is that the supreme court in 1896 held the women's suffrage amendment to have carried when it received less than a majority vote of all the electors voting at that election.

"The supreme court held," says Mr. McConnell, "that a majority of those voting upon a proposed amendment adopts it, and this is, in my opinion, absurd."

"That is just what section 1 of article 20 of the constitution prohibits when it provides that such amendments must have received a majority of all the electors."

The amendment receiving the largest vote got 43,957 affirmative votes out of a total of 165,746. Ex-Governor McConnell contends that this amendment, to be legally adopted under the provisions of the constitution, would have had to receive 82,871 votes, a majority of the 165,746 electors voting at that election.

Meridian Man After Job

Meridian.—John F. Baird, publisher of the Meridian Times, has announced his candidacy for the position of assistant chief clerk of the house of representatives at the coming session of the Idaho legislature.
