

DEAD OX FLAT IRRIGATION DISTRICT HOLD MEETING

At a meeting in the Ontario city council rooms yesterday Swendsen and Swendsen, of Boise engineers for the Dead Ox Flat Irrigation District, outlined before a laage audience of prospective irrigators tentative plans for the proposed project of irrigating the flat.

Briefly described the plans are as follows: From a point on the Payette River, water will be divertee through a 10 foot pipe 4100 feet long, 1160 feet of which will be tunnel, to a point on the south fork of the river where a drop of 184 feet will develope 9000 kilowatts, or approximately 14,400 horse power.

From the power plant here power will be transmitted 46 miles to a pumping plant on Snake river, located in all probability, in the vicinity of the old Muller plant near the mouth of Jacobson Gulch.

Ten units, a motor and a turbine pump constituting a unit will be installed at this place, it being the contention of the engineer that a large number of small units necessarily must work smoother than a few larger ones.

Water will be lifted to a secondary pumping plant, where it will be distributed into three ditches located respectively on 210, 290 and 360 foot levels.

Altogether there will be 20,000 acres under the project. In the neighborhood of 28 miles of main ditch will be constructed. The cost, it is said, will not run over $50 an acre or one million dollars for the whole project. It has not yet been determined whether the laterals will be built by the district or by individuals.

The board of directors will pass on the plans in the near future.

Most of us are very much like the rest of us. We look in the glass and discover we are not particularly beautiful—then we talk and we know that we are not clever. We realize that we like to play better than to work and we like to lie abed late in the morning, despite poetic rhapsodies on the beautiful sunrise. In all parts of the world people have the same impulse to do about the same thing at the same hour every day.
