NEWS OF GENERAL INTEREST IN IDAHO

Important Occurrences Of The Past Week From Cities In Our State

Farrell is Freed.

Boise.—J. R. Farrell, of Payette, formerly of Denver, Col., arrested and bound over to the district court of Canyon county to stand trial on the charge of bigamy, and Mrs. Gertrude Farrell, No. 1, of Fort Lupton, Colo., held as a material witness against her husband, have been ordered released by the supreme court on a writ of habeas corpus.

The court held that Mrs. Farrell could exercise the exemption right not to testify against her husband. She left Idaho for her Colorado home.

Farrell owes his release to the fact that Otto F. Thum, of Colorado, authorized to issue a marriage certificate, failed to sign his own name to the certified copy of the marriage certificate issued at Denver in 1907, when Farrell was married to Mrs. Farrell No. 1. The certified copy was in regulation form, but was issued by a deputy who signed Otto F. Thum's name in typewriting. The court ordered Farrell released from custody. Canyon county officials expect to be able to hold him on the bigamy charge.

Bit by Rattler; Makes Long Trip.

Lewiston.—Harry Snyder, employed on a cattle ranch near the mouth of the Salmon river, after being bitten by a huge rattlesnake while riding after cattle, slashed his own wound, applied what treatment he could to it, rode two miles to the Salmon river with a companion, secured a row boat and took the river course to Lewiston, arriving weak and in almost a helpless condition.

Snyder wanted to get to assistance as soon as possible and, fearing to take a long horseback ride, thought the quickest way would be to shoot down the river. He tied his leg tightly so as not to permit circulation of the blood and drew as much poison from the wound as he could before attempting the long journey. The young men were compelled to pull to shore several times to avoid shooting bad rapids.

BANK PAYS DIVIDEND

Receiver L. C. Wilson Mails Checks Aggregating $28,000 to Depositors.

Wallace.—Another step was taken in the closing of the affairs of the defunct State Bank of Commerce of this city when Receiver L. C. Wilson mailed checks to the depositors of the bank representing an additional dividend of 6 per cent, or $28,000, making in all 71 per cent that has been paid to the depositors to date. The funds just distributed were derived from the payment made by Harry L. Day on July 21, when the petition of Receiver Wilson for the confirmation of the sale of the assets of the bank to Mr. Day was confirmed by Judge Woods of the district court, Mr. Day paying into the hands of the receiver at that time $37,263.89.

Practically all the debts of the defunct bank, including administration charges, attorney's fees and other incidental expenses, have now been paid and it is expected that the deferred payments to be made by Mr. Day, including the interest thereon, will practically pay the remaining 29 per cent still due the depositors. With the distribution of this dividend Receiver Wilson is released from his duties as receiver.

Start Sandpoint Farm.

Sandpoint.—Professor W. H. Olin, in charge of extension work of the University of Idaho, is in town to make preliminary arrangements with regard to the starting of work on the demonstration farm to be situated here on land donated for the purpose by T. J. Humbird. It is Mr. Olin's expectation that work will start at once on the clearing from 30 to 50 acres of land. Buildings to cost in the neighborhood of $5500 are to be erected on the farm, which is within easy walking distance of the town, can be reached by street car and is traversed by the main line of the Spokane International.

Riches in Hogs Demonstrated.

Parma.—Sixty carloads of hogs, bringing to the community over $100,000, have been shipped from Parma during the past 12 months. The number of hogs on the ranches in this section at the present time is twice what it was a year ago, and it is conservatively estimated that the shipments from this point in the next year will aggregate in value $250,000.

Idaho Man is Author.

Moscow.—D. B. Steinman, assistant professor of civil engineering at the University of Idaho, is the author of a new textbook. The title is "Suspension Bridges and Cantilevers—Their Economic Proportions and Limiting Spans."

NEWS FROM OUR NATIONAL CAPITAL

Administration Positively Refuses to Recognize the Huerta Regime.

Washington.—A two hours' conference between President Wilson, Secretary Bryan and the senate foreign relations committee brought about no change in the attitude of the administration toward Mexico.

The president took the senators into his confidence far enough to outline the following:

That John Lind, his special envoy to Mexico City, does not bear any solution of the present situation, but goes to continue this government's effort to induce Provisional President Huerta to redeem his promises for free and constitutional elections.

That under no circumstances does the administration propose to recognize the Huerta government.

That Mr. Lind has gone to Mexico City to be the "eyes and ears" of the Washington administration on the ground and to explain the attitude of this government when he had fully familiarized himself with the situation.

That by withdrawing Ambassador Wilson and sending Mr. Lind, the president planned to have a man on the ground who was in sympathy with the administration here and was in no sense a factor in the situation in Mexico City.

The meeting was entirely friendly. The president did most of the talking and Secretary Bryan, and members of the committee added a word here and there.

While the president disclosed no definite plan for the pacification of Mexico, the implication remained that on Lind's reports would depend to a large extent the future policy of this country.

Mexican Situation is Much Relieved.

Distinct relief is apparent in official circles here over the course of events in Mexico. The statement of Frederic Gamboa, the new Mexican minister of foreign relations, that he had "great faith in the reasonableness of the judgment of the United States," holding the conviction that the difficulties between the two countries "soon would be adjusted," produced a very favorable impression in administration circles.

President Wilson pointed out to callers what seemed to him conspicuous efforts on the part of persons unknown to him through published misrepresentations to involve the United States in intervention. He reiterated that the attitude of his government toward Mexico in the present situation was one of peace and friendliness solely.

With the air cleared of rumors of hostility in the Mexican capital to Mr. Lind's presence there officials were disposed to believe the programme of the American government would be carried out quietly and in such manner as seemed most expedient to Mr. Lind and the embassy at Mexico City.

Espionage Over Judges Charged.

Replying to a senate resolution demanding the information, Attorney-General McKeenolds admitted and defended the course of the department of justice in conducting investigations into certain judges. He refused, however, to say which judges were subject to inquiry, declaring it "incompatible with the public interest" to make the information public.

This report aroused a storm of protest, which Senator Borah, of Idaho, led.

"I know this is a very serious charge," said he, "but I am so reliably informed that I make the statement that within the last four or five years special agents have carried on such investigations with a view to influencing judges."

National Capital Brevities.

The death of Senator Johnston, of Alabama, has reduced the Democratic majority on the bill to one vote.

The first of the international peace treaties embodying Secretary Bryan's plans has actually been signed. It was between the United States and Salvador, and soon will be sent to the senate for ratification.

The end of the senate lobby committee's investigation is not in sight, according to Senator Reed, a member of the committee.

Senator Williams, of Mississippi, in debate stated that he was convinced there was an "organized and syndicated effort" to bring about war between the United States and Mexico.

Senators are divided on the question whether Governor O'Neal, of Alabama, can call an election to name a successor to Senator Johnston without first calling a session of the legislature to provide election machinery under the new federal amendment.

Following a conference of treasury officials and bankers from the middle west, regarding the distribution of government funds to assist in moving crops, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Williams declared that the government was prepared to deposit $100,000,000 if necessary.
