Important Postscript.

William H. Taft when he was president never overlooked an opportunity for a joke. In the closing months of his administration Henry L. Stimson, then secretary of war, wrote Mr. Taft a very argent request that he give a friend of Stimson a certain federal position.

Mr. Taft wrote to Stimson as follows:

My Dear Stimson-I am sorry I cannot do anything for your friend in response to your letter of today. I would like to ac-commodate you, but it is impossible. Sin-WILLIAM H. TAFT. cerely yours, Under that he write:

Theorem

Then Mr. Stimson read on the other side of the paper:

I couldn't do it today because I gave the fellow the job yesterday.

G. A. R. MEETS IN SOUTH

Scenes of Famous Battles.

Chattanooga, Tenn.-Held for the first time in real-southern territory and in close proximity to some of the most famous battlefields of the Civil war, the forty-seventh annual national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic was officially opened here with a reception at the Hotel Patton.

Not only is this the red letter encampment of the G. A. R. because it is the first meeting south of the Mason and Dixon line, but the present year also marks the semi-centennial of the battle of Chickamauga, Lookout Mountain and Missionary Ridge, all within a short distance of this city. In fact, the exact anniversary of the battle of Chickamauga falls on the last two days of the encampment, September 19 and 20.

RAILROAD WRECK LAID TO EMPLOYES

Engineer, Flagman and Conductor of New Haven Road Held Responsible.

New Haven, Conn.-Three employes of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad are held by Coroner Eli Mix to be criminally responsible for the disastrous wreck at North Haven on September 2, when the White Mountain Express plunged through the second section of the standing Bar Harbor Express, exacting a toll of 21 lives.

Those held to be responsible are Augustus Miller, engineer of the White Mountain Express, and Bruce C. Adams and Charles H. Murray, conductor and flagman, respectively, of the Bar Harbor train.

The Coroner neither blames nor absolves the New Haven road. He finds the signals were in perfect working order, "and whether the banjo signals are obsolete or not the accident would have been prevented if the company's rules had not been violated." He declares the number of violations of rules by employes "makes a sorry record."

Engineer Miller was arrested on a bench warrant and pleaded not guilty before the superior court. Bench warrants have been issued for Adams and Murray.

The Port of Portland commission has offered to the government nearly half a million dollars in aid of work on the north jetty at the mouth of the Columbia river. It was the first unit of a program designed to cut the time necessary to completion of the jetty from six to three years, and to realize within a year such benefits to bar channel deepening as will permit free entrance to the larger vessels of the Panama canal fleets.

Judge J. W. Gerard Named Ambassador to Germany.

The appointment of Justice James W. Gerard of New York to the important post of ambassador to Germany is generally regarded as a recognition of special fitness for the position. The new ambassador, those who know him best say, is a man of strength, character, ability and culture-a worthy representative of Uncle Sam.

The new envoy to Berlin is a native of the Empire State and is forty-six years of age. He was graduated from the New York Law school in 1892 and began the practice of his profession in New York city. He went to the front in the Spanish war, serving as an aldde-camp on the staff of General Me-Coskry Butt. After the war he resumed the practice of law and in 4907 was elected to the supreme court bench on the Democratic ticket for a term of fourteen years. Justlee Gerard is president of the Mexican Society of New York and was one of the three civilian commissioners appointed in 1910 by President Taft to represent the United States at the contennial celebration in Mexico. During the preconvention presidential campaign he was an active Wilson man Justice Ger ard's with is a daughter of the late Marcus Daly, one time copper king of Montana.
