MEXICAN WAR NOTES

Rumor that Secretary of State Bryan would resign because of the Mexican crisis is denied.

Every available fighting ship on the Pacific will be assembled in west coast Mexican waters.

Federal soldiers evacuated the garrison at Piedras Negras on the Mexican border, opposite Eagle Pass.

Seventeen Americans killed and about 75 wounded marked the complete investment of Vera Cruz by the United States forces.

The house, without a dissenting vote, passed the Fitzgerald bill appropriating $500,000 for the relief of Americans in Mexico.

Major General Leonard Wood will have complete charge of the army if American troops are called on to invade Mexico.

Coffins to the number of 800 have been loaded onto an army transport at Galveston, for shipment to Mexico ports.

A report from Mexico City to London says that Japanese residents there are making demonstrations in sympathy with the Mexican cause.

The average ages of the men in the fleets now off Vera Cruz is 21 years, said Representative Hobson, addressing the house.

Foreign representatives in the capital of Mexico are prepared for a possible attack by the rabble and most of them wear British flags on their coats.

The interests of the Huerta government in the United States were taken over by the Spanish embassy when Charge Algora asked for his passports and left Washington for Canada.

Secretary Bryan states that no evidences of anti-American feeling or demonstrations had been reported from Mexican territory now held by the constitutionalists.

The German vessel Ypiranga, whose consignment of war munitions for Huerta caused the United States temporarily to seize the Vera Cruz customs-house, was ordered back to Hamburg, Germany, without landing her cargo.

Nuevo Laredo, the thriving Mexican border town, opposite Laredo, Texas, is in ruins, devastated by dynamite and fire by Mexican federal soldiers, who began an orgy of destruction which did not end until they were forced to flee before the guns of the American border patrol.

General Carranza of the Mexican rebels informs President Wilson that the United States has no right to invade Mexico in order to settle grievances with Huerta, whose leadership and authority is not recognized by the constitutionalists. He invites the American bluejackets to evacuate the ground already occupied. President Wilson refuses to yield to the demands of General Carranza for an evacuation of Mexican land captured at Vera Cruz, and reiterates his policy toward Huerta and the Mexican people.

Sells-Floto and Buffalo Bill Coming to Payette, June 5.

Again a visit in the future is promised from the Sells-Floto circus, according to William E. Haines, contracting agent, who is now in the city. But there is one difference. True again, there will come the Sells-Floto circus, but new—again the arena acts, the equestriennes, the lavish display—but all new. For the Sells-Floto circus this year is new in every detail.

Not only is there a new program, greater than ever before, but new performers, new costumes, new presentation; the circus is new in everything that goes to make up a performance that is gratifying in its entirety.

And not only will the Sells-Floto circus be new in these things when it comes to Payette Friday, June 5, but it will be new also in its personnel. For now, let it be known, the Sells-Floto circus has an added attraction greater than all the others—Buffalo Bill himself, his retinue of ropers and riders and cowboys and Indians, exponents of the frontier life that is gone, and the deplorers of the life of the plains as it is today.

In addition to the circus acts, which are new and greater than ever before, Buffalo Bill will present in the performance a spectacle that is not only new, but that presents the life of the plains from a new angle. "War-path" it is called, and it displays the progress of civilization from the time of the frontier to the present day.

When the two-mile-long parade of the Sells-Floto circus and Buffalo Bill (himself) passes through the downtown streets of that city on the day of the performance, that parade will be headed by Col. W. F. Cody ("Buffalo Bill") himself. Following the parade the famous scout intends to hold a reception for children at the show grounds.

And as regards proof that the circus this year is new in every detail, the parade itself is perhaps the best indication of that. Every cage will be open, showing the animals, the actors; Bern's great serenadum, the Vocalina, a new invention in the world of music the nine bands will be playing; the forty clowns will be there to make you laugh; the Indians, the riders, the ropers and the others who go to make up the wonderful contingent of Col. Cody's display will be present, the five United States government Honeys—new in themselves, for they are the first of a new species of animal; Zora and her elephants; Recardo and his wild animals—all will be present. And so in every department there is newness this year in the spectacle offered by the Sells-Floto circus and Buffalo Bill (himself)—in every department save one, that of admission. There the price remains the same—25 cents for two $1.00 shows—and a seating capacity for 14,000 persons. Cheap excursion rates on railroad.

Resolutions of Respect.

Whereas, in view of the loss we have sustained by the decease of our friend and brother, George W. Downs, and of the still heavier loss sustained by those who were nearest and dearest to him; therefore be it
 "Resolved by Ontario Assembly No. 321 of United Artisans that it is but a just tribute to the memory of the departed to say that in regretting his removal from our midst we mourn for one who was in every way, worthy of our respect and regard."

"Resolved that we sincerely condole with the family of the deceased on the dispensation with which it has pleased Divine Providence to afflict them, and commend them for consolation to Him who orders all things for the best, and whose chastisements are meant in mercy."

"Resolved that this heartfelt testimonial of our sympathy and sorrow be spread upon the records of our assembly and a copy thereof be transmitted to the family of our deceased brother and to each of the newspapers of Ontario."

JOHNS
 For REPUBLICAN
Governor

Give this Job to a man who will reduce Taxes and cut down expenses

If you had an interest in a private business you would want it conducted on business principles. You have an interest in the affairs of this State. The State of Oregon is a business institution run for the benefit of the people in it who, in a certain sense, are stockholders in its business interests.

TAXES MUST BE REDUCED!

In the coming primary election, Charles A. Johns, of Portland, will ask the vote of every person who believes the State of Oregon needs to have taxes reduced and expenses cut down. The only way to reduce taxes and cut down expenses is to apply the same principles in running the State that you would apply in running your own business. How many institutions would run along with an increase of operating expenses from year to year? Not many. Well, let's reduce our taxes and cut down our expenses. Charles A. Johns, of Portland, is running on that platform and stands on his platform. Get him on the job! Start thinking about this today!

Will you elect a man who will cut down expenses and reduce taxes, or a politician, as our next Governor? The issue is clear. One will cut down taxes—the other will give jobs to his political friends. Which do you want? Paid Advertisement.
