

NEWS FROM OUR NATIONAL CAPITAL

Administration Trust Program Bills Passed, Are Now Up to Senate.

Washington.—All three bills on the administration trust legislation programme passed the house and were sent to the senate for action.

Opposition melted when the final test came, and the voting went through quickly. The Covington Interstate trade commission bill was passed without a record vote; the Clayton omnibus anti-trust measure received 275 votes to 54 against it, and the vote on the Rayburn railroad capitalization bill was 352 to 12.

The Covington trade commission bill would create a commission with broad inquisitorial powers over corporations engaged in interstate commerce.

Senate May Segregate Bills.

The senate interstate commerce committee voted to report out only the trade commission measure of the trust bills. The action was construed by many as an indication of limitation of the administration's programme at the present session of congress.

There was no record vote. In a general discussion some senators opposed the motion and others declared themselves opposed to the bill at the present time. Chairman Newlands said the committee later might take up supplemental legislation and issued this statement:

"The committee determined to segregate the trade commission from the supplemental legislation and authorized me to present an amendment in the nature of a substitute for my original bill for a trade commission. The committee concluded to name the trade commission the federal trade commission, instead of the interstate trade commission, in order to clearly distinguish it from the interstate commerce commission.

States Secondary in Rate Question.

A long step toward placing railroads under "one master instead of many" was taken by the supreme court in upholding the power of the interstate commerce commission to strike down state rates that discriminate against interstate commerce.

The case arose out of complaint by Shreveport, La., merchants that the Texas railroad commission had shut them out of all Texas business by compelling the railroads to reduce Texas state rates far below what the interstate commerce commission allowed the railroads running from Shreveport to Texas cities to charge.

The court decided that congress had power to control intra-state charges over an interstate carrier to the extent necessary to prevent injurious discriminations against interstate traffic and held that congress had conferred this power upon the interstate commerce commission.

Greatest Wheat Crop Ever in Sight.

Nine hundred million bushels of wheat, almost a half of the average of the world's wheat production, and a new record for the United States, is the prospective total yield of the farms of the country this year, the department of agriculture announced in its June crop report.

The enormous crop will be 157,000,000 bushels more than ever was grown before in the United States in any one year.

There also will be large yields of oats and barley, probably second in size in the history of the nation.

National Capital Brevities.

President Wilson requests that, for sentimental reasons, the Lincoln memorial highway pass through Washington.

Few senators expect debate on the trade commission bill to end in less than two months. At present the prospects for adjournment before the middle of August, or even later, are not bright.

There are indications that the inquiry into the affairs of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad by the interstate commerce commission will be completed this week.

President Wilson went through the evidence on which the Indianapolis dynamiters were convicted. A million laboring men have petitioned him to extend executive clemency.

Narratives of the bravery of enlisted men of the navy and marine corps during the fighting at Vera Cruz on April 21 and 22 were included in Rear-Admiral Fletcher's report of the Mexican port's seizure, made public by the navy department.

Two measures are to be pressed as quickly as the appropriation bill is out of the way. They are the Moon postoffice bill, providing for railway mail pay readjustments and opening up the assistant postmasterships throughout the country to competitive examinations, and the general dam bill, which is before the house for action on a moment's notice.

ROSS SOWARD AND MISS WARD MARRIED AT NYSSA

The very many friends of Ross A. Soward of Vale, Oregon, and Miss Gertrude Ward of Nyssa, were agreeably surprised to learn of their marriage at the home of the bride's uncle, Mr. J. Garden Ginseng.

The things appear to have conspired to knock the bottom out of the market for cultivated ginseng. Too many have embarked in the business and nearly every state in the union now has extensive acreage, producing a supply which is largely in excess of the demand. The Chinese think the cultivated root possesses but little of the efficacy of the wild root, while most people cannot detect a difference in the appearance of one from the other. Just at present they will not touch the cultivated root at any price. It's just so with lovers of golden grain belt beers—nothing else will do, advertisement.

SAFETY FIRST, THE MODERN IDEA OF A SODA FOUNTAIN

Not so many years ago display was the main idea in Soda Fountain manufacture.

The old style Onyx Wall fountain and the later counter service fountain with great massive Onyx draught columns and beautiful Art class canopies and elaborately decorated back bar all were things of beauty, but in both, real utility has been sacrificed for display.

The old wall fountain is now a thing of the past and the later draught column service is being displaced by the low full counter service.

The Soda Fountain of today is built with the idea of service and sanitation uppermost.

The work, board construction is of German Silver and put together in a way so as to leave no laps or crevices to collect dirt, it is built up and finished with Opal glass instead of wood and is always clean and sanitary. The draught arms are built low and soda is always delivered right direct from the ice in perfect condition. The syrup pumps are constructed so as to be dripless and are imbedded in the cooling chamber, insuring them always in perfect condition. The ice cream cabinet is built in the fountain itself and the whole system is refrigerated from the same ice. The whole fountain is built permanently for utility, and display is the secondary consideration.

Our new fountain is built on the modern idea. It will be here in a few days, watch for our opening announcement next week. You are to be invited.

WHY He Wouldn't And WHY :::::

WHO wouldn't wear new clothes in preference to the old, and yet there's many men who won't. Who would not wear the new 1914 Styles and Models in preference to those of a year ago, and yet there are those who prefer the old.

We're Looking for the Man who Will

For men who are willing to wear the newest, the latest that's out, both in FABRIC, STYLE & MODELS— for the men who will wear hand tailored, standard, high grade clothing, even though we charge no more for them than for the ordinary machine made kind.

To Such Men Our Proposition Will Appeal

Today We Offer HIGH ART Rightly Tailored Suits

AT

$13.50

This season's models—not last. This year's patterns—not what was out a year ago; and to all this we add that these suits cannot be duplicated for less than $20.00 a Suit. Strange thing to say—sounds rather dubious—but give us the chance to prove it. Come in and examine these Suits; try them on. No charge for the proof.
