CANADA AT THE PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION, SAN FRANCISCO, 1915.

PLANS for the Canadian building at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco in 1915 have been approved, and the work on the great structure has started.

The Canadian Palace, as it is officially named, will be one of the largest and most imposing of the foreign buildings, having a length of 340 feet, a width of 240 feet and a height of 50 feet, and will cost in the neighborhood of $300,000. It will be the largest building ever erected by Canada at an international exposition, covering 65,000 square feet, and will house one of the most elaborate and comprehensive exhibits of the Dominion's resources and products ever shown on foreign soil. Six hundred thousand dollars has already been voted by the Canadian parliament for the building and exhibits, but a further grant, bringing the appropriation up to $1,000,000, will be recommended.

THE WORLD'S FIRST INDOOR AEROPLANE FLIGHT, PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL EXPOSITION, 1915.

THE world's first indoor aeroplane flight was made by Lincoln Beachey, the American aviator, on the grounds of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition in San Francisco. Starting at one end of the Palace of Machinery, which is the largest wooden frame structure in the world, being almost 1,000 feet in length, Beachey attained a terrific momentum and rose into the air to a height of fifty feet, actually flying for a distance of 300 feet. At the opposite end of the building barriers of cloth were held by assistants to lessen the impact of the aeroplane. The machine, however, provided with a hundred horsepower engine, easily tore through the cloth, and the aviator received a severe shaking up. The difficulties of the flight were increased by the fact that the interior arrangement of the building consists of three longitudinal aisles each seventy-five feet in width, and Beachey flew down the center aisle, having to keep a straight course in order to prevent the aeroplane from striking the great columns of the aisle.

HAS PLAN TO SOLVE FARM LABOR PROBLEM

Michigan Man Taking Census to Aid in Colonization.

Lansing, Mich.—Labor Commissioner James Cunningham has started what he thinks will result in the taking of a complete census of Michigan farm hands.

He is sending out blanks to every supervisor with the request that they be filled out and returned. The blanks ask for the number of farm hands employed by the month, the average number of months they are employed, the average monthly wages, the number of farms operated by tenants and whether or not there is a scarcity of farm help in the district. Some of the supervisors close to Lansing have already answered.

"We hope if possible to get some data by which we may be able to start a sort of colonization system which may eventually relieve the farm labor market."

"So far we have found that day farm labor is what is scarce. On the other hand, we have reports from some sections which show that there are many farms—large ones—which are only partially cultivated."

"Our plan is to have the owners of those large farms cut them up into small parts and put on them Hungarians and other foreigners who are natural born farmers. Give them space enough to live on and raise enough for their own needs and at the same time guarantee them a certain amount of day work in the vicinity. We think in this way we can relieve the problem of day farm labor."

Mr. Cunningham has received the co-operation of fifty-three county clerks in his plans to have them act as agents for a free employment bureau at their respective county seats.

LOSES FIRST BATHTUB.

Relic of the Old Days of Seventy-three Sent to the Scrap Heap.

Lorain, O.—Lorain's first bathtub has been dismantled. Installed forty-one years ago in the Farrell House, historic hostelry, once the object of amazement to the entire countryside. It felt the ruthless hand of the plumber and was relegated to the scrap heap.

The Farrell House, still standing, was built by M. J. Farrell in 1873.

It was a wonderful building then, but more wonderful still was the copper-lined, wood encased tub.

A "CRUSOE" IN LAKE ERIE.

Had Been Marooned by Stranger and Left Without Food.

Middle Bass Island, O.—That he was taken to Middle Sister island, Lake Erie, three weeks ago by a man who said he owned the place and who left him food enough to last a week, but who never returned, is the story told by Henry Adair, fifty, who says he lives in Detroit, brought here by members of a fishing party who rescued him in what appears was the nick of time.

Members of the party fishing in Lake Erie off Middle Sister island, isolated near the Canadian line seventeen miles from here, were attracted by the frantic waving of a shirt. Drawing closer, they discovered Adair. He was emaciated and starving. All he had left of his store of food was a few crusts of bread.

Adair told his rescuers that a man accosted him in Detroit and asked if he wanted employment. He said he was to have been employed to look after the premises, although he found on arriving on the island there was practically nothing to look after.

His scanty food supply was eked out with clams he found in the sand. His days he spent trying to signal help from passing boats.

KILLS AN EAGLE IN A TRAP.

Bird Was a Huge One and Boldly Attacked Hunter.

Edmonton, Alberta.—Tom E. Mason, a fur trapper, has come to Edmonton for medical treatment, following a fierce fight with a golden eagle, which clawed and pecked his face, neck and left shoulder and arm. He killed the bird, which had a spread of wings of eight feet two inches from tip to tip.

"I was attracted to a trap," Mason said, "by a strange noise, and as I got closer I saw a huge golden eagle held by one foot."

"My first thought was to release the bird, not thinking that it would venture an attack, but that is where I was fooled. I was quickly made aware of the fact when I was sprawled upon my back with the eagle and the trap on top of me."

Rat Robs a Slot Machine.

Findlay, O.—The discovery of a rat working a slot machine averted suspicion from several boys who, it was thought, had been robbing it in the Toledo and Ohio Central passenger station of gum and pennies. Four hundred sticks of the former and fifty pennies were missed when a rat was seen climbing up the wall near the machine. It jumped on the trap in the machine and in this way released gum and pennies.
