

MRS. LARAMORE TELLS TROUBLES

Lady in Goodwater Describes Her Distressing Experience and Tells How She Was Finally Relieved.

Goodwater, Mo.—"Ever since I was a little girl," says Mrs. Riley Laramore, "I was a great sufferer from dyspepsia. I suffered misery after eating, and had terrible heartburn.

I thought I had to suffer this way as long as I lived, but when I began to take Theford's Black-Draught, in small doses, every night, the heartburn was all gone in a few days, and I could eat without distress.

I took two small packages in all, and although that was some time ago, the dyspepsia has not returned.

I speak a good word for Theford's Black-Draught whenever I have the opportunity."

If eating causes distress, we urge you to try Theford's Black-Draught. It cleanses the system, helps the stomach to digest its food, regulates the bowels, and stimulates the liver.

It acts gently and is without bad after-effects. Try it. Price 25c.

WOMEN DEMAND LINDSEY'S RECALL

Opponents of Head of Juvenile Court Chiefly Suffragists.

MANY GRIEVANCES CITED.

Statement on Strike Situation Called False—Accused of Using Position For Personal Profit—Laboring Men Remain Staunch Supporters of Judge and Fight For His Retention.

Denver.—A very careful canvass of the anti-Lindsey sentiment in Denver, especially among the women, shows that it has grown steadily during the last six months. Leaders in the Women's Protective league and in reform movements outside of that organization are loudly clamoring for the recall of the judge of Denver's juvenile court. Men voters for the most part refuse to commit themselves openly.

Dr. Mary Elizabeth Bates, the head of the Woman's Protective league, which was organized to obtain legal protection of girls, declared that it is "war against Lindsey to the end." She called attention to a statement just issued by the league, which, she said, fully expresses her views. The statement in part follows:

JUDGE BENJAMIN S. LINDSEY.

"Some months ago the Woman's Protective league called attention to the unlawful practice of the Denver juvenile court in virtually protecting men confessing or convicted of crimes against girl children. These statements were supported by verified transcripts of the official records of the juvenile court itself.

"But so shameful was the state of affairs disclosed that Denver and the rest of the country found it hard to believe, especially since Judge Lindsey has long trained the public to believe in his devotion to children and that any one who criticizes the juvenile court does so from some selfish or sinister motive.

"The disclosures of the Woman's Protective league, however, raised doubts and set people to thinking and investigating—something they never did before.

"This, together with his recent shockingly false statements in the east about strike conditions in Colorado, has at last aroused our people to his real character and that of his juvenile court.

"The Woman's Protective league therefore desires to call your attention again to its charges and its efforts to expose this man, begun about a year ago, and to predict his speedy annihilation from the public life of Colorado."

In cities and towns outside of Denver Judge Lindsey is freely censured for his attitude during the strike and his recent public utterances in eastern cities. To offset this a large percentage of the labor vote of Denver is undoubtedly pro-Lindsey.

It was reported that petitions for Judge Lindsey's recall were being circulated, and the report was given much prominence. It now develops that the petitions were prepared, but never left the attorney's hands.

The grounds upon which it is proposed to recall Judge Lindsey, according to one of the petitions, are as follows:

First.—He has repeatedly and continually absented himself from said court and neglected his judicial duties for private and personal matters in no wise connected with said court.

Second.—He has delegated to clerks and subordinates powers and duties purely judicial.

Third.—He has refused to hear competent evidence, has shown bias and prejudice in cases on trial before him and has entered decrees contrary to the law and the facts.

Fourth.—He has required clerks to surrender portions of the salaries allowed to them by law.

Fifth.—He has used his judicial position for personal exploitation and profit.

Sixth.—He has conducted himself in a manner unbecoming a judge and in such a manner as to bring the state of Colorado and its children into public derision and contempt.

Mrs. Mary F. Lathrop, a lawyer and opponent of Judge Lindsey, declared that impeachment proceedings may be resorted to if the women find themselves blocked in their effort to recall Judge Lindsey.

EARLY JULY 4 POEM.

It Tells How Our Great-grandfathers Celebrated Independence Day.

Poets, great and humble, have sung of Independence day. The Revolution, of course, gave birth to its full quota of spirited and patriotic verse, and it has been gathered between covers, but the poetry dedicated to the Fourth of July, though doubtless not easily compassed in a small space, seems not to have been collected by any curious or devout American. But beautiful and inspiring verse has none the less been written.

Here is a poem, though not in a stately measure, that is good fun and worth republication. It was written by Royall Tyler about 1798. It is called "Independence Day."

Squeak the fife and beat the drum—Independence day is come!
Let the roasting pig be bled;
Quick twist off the cook's head;
Quickly rub the pewter platter;
Heap the nutcakes fried in batter;
Set the cups and beaker glass,
The pumpkin and the apple sauce;
Send the keg to shop for brandy.
Maple sugar we have handy.
Independent, staggering Dick,
A noggin nip of swinging thick.
Sal, put on your russet skirt.
Jotham, get your boughten shirt.
Today we dance to tiddle diddle.
Here comes Sambo with his fiddle.
Sambo, take a dram of whiskey
And play up "Yankee Doodle" frisky.
Moll, come, leave your witch's tricks
And let us have a reel of six.
Father and mother shall make two;
Sal, Moll and I stand all a-row.
Sambo, play and dance with quality.
This is a day of best equality.
Father and mother are but men,
And Sambo—is a citizen.
Come, foot it, Sal; Moll, figure in,
And, mother, you dance up to him.
Now saw as fast as e'er you can do,
And, father, you can cross o'er to Sambo.
Thus we dance and thus we play
On glorious Independence day.
Rub more rosin on your bow
And let us have another go.
Zounds! As sure as eggs and bacon,
Here's Ensign Squeak and Uncle Deacon,
Aunt Tibah, and there's Bets behind her
On blundering mare, than beetle blinder.
And there's the squire, too, with his lady,
Sal, hold the beast; I'll take the baby.
Moll, bring the squire our great armchair.
Good folks, we're glad to see you here.
Jotham, get the great case bottle.
Your teeth can pull its corn-cob stopple.
Ensign, deacon, never mind;
Squire, drink until you're blind.
Come, here's the French and guillotine,
And here is good Squire Gallatin,
And here's each noisy Jacobin.
Here's friend Madison, so hearty,
And here's confusion to the treaty.
Come, one more swig to Southern Demos,
Who represent our brother negroes.
Thus we drink and dance away
This glorious Independence day!

FOURTH 14,000 FEET HIGH.

Artificial Earthquake Was One Feature of Colorado Celebration.

One of the most interesting of recent Independence day celebrations was that of Colorado. It was 14,000 feet high and 100,000 square miles wide.

Cripple Creek and Victor, the two rival capitals of the great gold camp near Colorado Springs, celebrated the Fourth in a unique manner.

A huge bonfire covering fifty square feet at the base and having a height of sixty feet was built on the summit of Pike's peak by the citizens of Cripple Creek.

Thousands of pine logs saturated with barrels of oil and burned with colored light effects were visible over 100,000 square miles in Colorado, Nebraska and New Mexico.

The peak of Mount Pisgah, having an altitude of 12,000 feet, was also the scene of a beautiful illumination. Pine logs saturated with oil and covered with red fire were burned to make a brilliant glow, visible many miles.

An artificial earthquake, caused by discharging tons of giant powder, was the principal feature on the program arranged by the citizens of Victor. Each town did its utmost to out rival the other in making these elaborate preparations to celebrate the Fourth, and the celebration lasted three days.

ARMY AVIATION TO BE PROMOTED

Hay Bill Holds Fate of Service in United States.

BIGGER PAY FOR AVIATORS.

Measure Appropriating $250,000 For Efficiency Has Been Passed by House and Held Up in Senate Until Trust Program is Completed—Provides For More Officers.

Washington.—Aviation is at last being recognized by the United States army as the result of the Hay bill, which has already passed the house of representatives and been favorably reported to the senate by the committee on military affairs. This bill, backed by a $250,000 appropriation, gives the army signal corps, commanded by Brigadier General George P. Scriven, an opportunity to go ahead with the work which has been planned in the past.

At the present time the army aviation corps, which is under the direction of Colonel Samuel Reber, though a compact and essentially efficient body and capable of giving a maximum amount of service with a minimum of equipment, is infinitesimal as compared with the like organizations of other first class powers. In fact it is only through the bill of Congressman James Hay of Virginia that it has been given an official status in the aviation section of the signal corps. It is safe to say that from this beginning there will be results which will show exceptional efficiency for the money expended.

The United States has nothing in the line of fighting apparatus for use in the air, with the exception of aeroplanes, not a single dirigible balloon or other airship which might be used for offensive work. Its fleet of aeroplanes, which is divided into four sections, is located at Galveston, Tex.; San Diego, Cal., and in the Hawaiian and Philippine Islands, and used solely for scouting. This, however, is REPRESENTATIVE JAMES HAY OF VIRGINIA only the beginning and, as Colonel Reber expresses it, is like a baby taking its first exercise. "We must start by perfecting our scouting system, as a child first learns to crawl," he says. "After that he may take up walking, and before long will be fully prepared for running. In this case running meaning that we will have a full fleet of offensive airships."

The aeroplane work during the present trouble with Mexico at Vera Cruz has been handled entirely by the aerohydroplane force of the navy and has been essentially successful. The army force of aeroplanes, with the exception of those needed in Hawaii and the Philippines, has been kept on the border between Texas and Mexico, though mobilized and in such shape that on twenty minutes' notice they might be sent to any point.

Under the Hay bill the aviation section will consist of not over sixty commissioned line officers with rank below that of captain, as well as 200 enlisted men. These shall be detailed for periods of four years. The officers, who will first go through a preparatory course as aviation students, will be selected on the recommendation of the chief signal officer from among the unmarried lieutenants of the army who are not over thirty years of age, but they shall not be assigned to such service against their will.

It is further provided, on account of the extremely hazardous character of the service, that each aviation student, when he shall commence to make flights, shall receive increased pay, and there is increased pay for the enlisted men too.

After the passage of the Hay bill only officers and men who have passed an examination before a board composed of three officers of experience in aviation and two medical officers may be admitted to the aviation corps.

At the present time the qualification for positions as military aviators are severe, as the applicant must not only be able to handle an aeroplane under any and all conditions, but must also have shown himself as especially efficient as a military observer.
