

LIVED ON RAW EGGS

Mr. Richard's Experience With Different Diets. Peaches and Buttermilk for Three Years.

Cecilton, Md.—Mr. George Richards, of this place, during the past 12 years, has probably tried more different diets than the average person would ever use in a lifetime.

What he has to say about his experiments, must therefore be highly interesting to anyone suffering from indigestion or stomach troubles of any kind.

He says: "For more than 12 years, I suffered with stomach troubles, and paid hundreds of dollars for doctor bills and medicines. I was also operated on for piles.

I lived on dried peaches and buttermilk for nearly three years. The only thing that would not give me pain was raw eggs. I was a physical wreck. I could not sleep, and was as near crazy as a man could well be.

I must say that after taking two 25-cent packages of Theford's Black-Draught, it did me more good than all I ever spent for other medicines.

I have been working daily on the farm ever since, and I am as hard as iron. This purely vegetable remedy has been in successful use for more than 70 years. Try it. But be sure that it's "Theford's."

I. W. W. BOMB MAY END OUTRAGES

Police Think That Most Dangerous Agitators Were Killed.

INTENDED FOR ROCKEFELLER

Detectives Sure That Dynamite Would Have Been "Planted" by Reckless Anarchists—Story of Propaganda Reads Like a Dime Novel—Many Girls Aid "the Cause."

New York.—Officials here believe that the premature explosion of a bomb in the hands of members of the Industrial Workers of the World killed four of the most dangerous agitators. Little trouble is now looked for. The tragedy is expected to end the outbursts, although members do not hesitate to assert that one or two deaths cannot put an end to "the cause."

The explosion foiled a plot, the police say, which may have caused great loss of life and damage to property. Efforts to prove that the bomb was being manufactured for use in blowing up some of the Rockefeller property have been fruitless, but detectives say there is little doubt that it was to be put to this use. Surviving agitators, however, assert that the bomb was sent to them by outside parties and are seeking to find the perpetrators of what they call a crime.

Damage which might possibly have occurred had the bomb been "planted" is attested by the fact that the building in which the police say it was being manufactured was totally demolished. Three floors were blown apart and only the outside walls left standing. The death toll would have been enormous had it exploded in a crowd.

The story of the I. W. W. propaganda reads like a dime novel. These men and women, mostly followers of Alexander Berkman, one of the most noted anarchists in the country, one who has served a prison term for an attempt on the life of Henry C. Frick and withal a brilliant writer and scholar, say they will not rest until they receive just recognition. First they began by invading churches of New York city, demanding something to eat and a place to sleep. These riots were stopped when about 100 men and boys were arrested, their leader given a long prison term and others serving from one to two months in jail.

Following this, members of the I. W. W. began what they called a protest against the murder of miners in the recent coal mine war in Colorado, in which many lives were lost. Led by Upton Sinclair, I. W. W. supporters marched up and down in front of the office of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., wearing crape bands on their arms. This continued for some time, and Mr. Rockefeller went to his home at Tarrytown, N. Y. He was followed by the agitators, and a riot occurred there when the town authorities refused to allow the visitors to make inflammatory threats against life and property.

About a dozen of the ringleaders were arrested in Tarrytown. Among these was Alexander Berkman, founder of a school of anarchy and admitted leader of the outbreaks. It is said that Berkman furnishes the brains for the agitators. His school is run regularly, and the attendance is said to be large. Students are taught to protest against present industrial conditions. One of the peculiar features is the number of girls and young women who become interested in the movement. These are considered by the police the most dangerous of the agitators.

BRIEF NEWS OF OREGON

More than 100 ex-Iowans held a reunion at the Albany chautauqua.

The annual convention and camp meeting of the Christian church closed at Terner.

Marshfield's $10,000 school bond election has been held weak by District Attorney Liljequist and another election is advised.

Fletcher Linn of Portland will take over the Union Furniture Manufacturing company of Albany.

Special election will be held at Roseburg to pass on proposed issue of $300,000 bonds to aid in building railroad from Roseburg to Marshfield.

Fishing is good at Tillamook and big run with fair prices is predicted.

State catalogue of the Oregon agricultural college has been printed and is ready for binding.

J. F. Sugrue, manager of the Cashmere Fruit Growers' association, says Hood River growers will receive record yields providing more water can be obtained for the growing crops.

The Bartlett pear crop of the Rogue river valley is of good quality this season and the output promises well. Packing of the new crop will start within about two weeks.

The Eugene Fruit Growers' association is finding a ready market for canned loganberries in the east and carload shipments are being made. A car was loaded this week.

A favorable report was made to the senate on the bill adopting the Oregon box as the standard apple container for the United States. A similar bill is now on the house calendar.

At Astoria the Luckenbach liner Pielades is loading 25,000 cases of salmon for New York. The shipment is valued at $175,000. It is possible that the vessel will go through the Panama canal.

Secretary of State Olcott is having the affirmative arguments of the initiative measures prepared so that there will be no delay in getting the work of printing started as soon as the negative arguments have been filed.

The commissioner investigating Indian affairs has refused to sit further with Senator Lane or allow expense for him to continue the inquiry, but he is taking the matter up himself, and says proof of frauds is being proved from the records.

Eugene reports that a bumper hay crop will be harvested by local farmers this year, according to reports brought in by Lane county farmers. Large amounts of good quality hay are being offered local produce dealers, the farmers asking $10 to $12 per ton delivered.

Linn county has about completed the harvesting of the largest hay crop in the history of the county. The hay is now cut and in the shock or stacked for the balers, with that for farm consumption being rapidly placed in the barns. The farmers are offering good hay at $5 in the fields.

Called to care for a body, W. M. Jones, of the undertaking firm of J. P. Finley & Sons, of Portland, discovered a spark of life in Mrs. Anna Woods, 60 years old, who lives most of the time alone, and by his prompt restorative methods probably saved the woman's life.

That the state board of control may at its next meeting fix a scale of wages at the state institute of the feeble minded, whereby experienced employes will be paid higher wages than beginners, was announced at Salem. The wage scale at present is the same for experienced and inexperienced employes.

Baker county's first lynching in years occurred between Whitney and Audrey, in the upper Burnt river country when 12 grim and silent masked men took from J. B. Hardman an unidentified prisoner who had confessed to an attempted criminal attack on Hardman's eight-year-old daughter, Grace, and hung him to a tree in a canyon.

Secretary of State Olcott has advised W. A. Shaffer, of Medford, that the secretary's office has nothing to do with policing the Pacific highway, or any highways of the state or the enforcement of the laws thereon. Shaffer requested information as to whether the secretary of state intended to place motorcycle policemen on the Pacific highway through Jackson county.

Standardization of high schools was vigorously indorsed by Assistant State Superintendent E. P. Carlton at the school conference in Eugene. Mr. Carlton told of several counties in the state where rural school standardization was successfully inaugurated and endeavored to give several reasons why the few who oppose it are misled.

Not within the memory of the "oldest inhabitant" have grasshoppers been as numerous or so destructive as at present in the west end of Umatilla county. Reports are that they will greatly reduce the yield of the third cutting of alfalfa. In some cases they have attacked orchards and by eating off the leaves of the trees have stopped the growth for this year. Shade and ornamental trees are also suffering.

BLEASEISM ISSUE IN S. C. ELECTION

Governor Seeking E. D. Smith's Place In U. S. Senate.

BITTER CAMPAIGN GOING ON

Meetings Held in Each County, and Followers of Governor Try to "Howl Down" Other Candidates—Bleese Promises to Cause All Negro Government Employees to Lose Jobs.

Spartanburg, S. C.—A political campaign such as can be furnished only by the state of South Carolina is now in progress. The issue is Bleeseism. United States Senator Ellison D. Smith is opposed by Coleman Livingston Bleese, the stormy governor who has kept his state in the public eye for the past three and a half years—who, his enemies say, has kept the state in disrepute since being chosen governor.

The "biennial circus" has furnished many bitter and denunciatory speeches. For two months prior to an election in this state the candidates campaign in a body. Meetings are held in each of the forty-four counties. Candidates are allowed an hour to present their views. Disorder and chaos frequently attend these meetings, and supporters of Bleese often attempt to prevent other candidates from delivering their speeches by riotous tactics. Personalities are common and bitter. Hence the state campaign has come to be known as the "biennial circus."

The first primary will be held on Aug. 25. The result of the primary is equivalent to an election, as about 95 per cent of the voters of the state are Democrats. The primaries were inaugurated by Senator Tillman to eliminate the negro vote. No negro may vote unless he voted for Wade Hampton and the overthrow of the carpet bag rule and negro domination in 1876. Thus each negro voter must have been twenty-one years old in 1876 or fifty-nine years old today.

Bleese in this election is not opposed by Smith alone. Two of the most prominent and successful farmers in the state have entered the campaign, and the governor is forced to face the rapid fire arguments from three bitter opponents. L. D. Jennings, a planter and politician, mayor of Sumter, S. C., and arch enemy of Bleeseism is aiding Smith in making the fight to overthrow Bleese. W. P. Pollock of Cheraw is also a candidate.

In the various meetings that have been held Bleese has continued his practice of appealing to the race prejudice of the ignorant and in a speech in this city promised if sent to the senate to have all negro government employes discharged and their places filled by "Bleesites." When his pardon record was attacked he answered that his friends demanded no explanation from him, and his enemies could not force him to explain. During the three years and six months that he has been governor Bleese has pardoned and paroled over 1,200 convicts, and prisons are now almost depleted.

When the governor announced his intention of seeking a senatorial toga many of his satellites and camp followers sought his place in the governor's mansion. As a result in this contest there has been a split in the ranks of the Bleese supporters. No fewer than twelve men are running. Perhaps the most unique in John G. Clinckscates of this city, for many years a professor at Wofford college and one of the best known educators in the state and bitter enemy of Bleese. Mr. Clinckscates has made his race on a platform that embodies compulsory education.
