REVIVAL MEETINGS STARTED LAST WEEK

Many People go to Tabernacle to Hear Union Evangelist.

The union meetings in the tabernacle started last Friday night and have attracted many people. The tabernacle is well heated, and lighted and is entirely satisfactory in every way. The choir led by Mr. Pugh, is holding up its end splendidly and Mr. Haudenschield is pleasing everyone by his earnest sincere desire to help in the spiritual uplift of this community.

One of the best features of the meeting is the Bible lecture, every day from

C. R. HAUDENSCHILD

2:30 to 3:30 p. m. In these lectures the leader, Mr. Haudenschield, demonstrates the Power of the Word and points out the need of studying the Bible. Questions are asked and answered by anyone and it is a sort of Roundtable meeting directed along biblical lines.

There is a good attendance at both the afternoon and evening meetings and the tabernacle which will accommodate seven hundred people is apt to prove too small.

Robert Warwick in "The Man of the Hour."

The fourth Wm. A. Brady feature to be released through the World Film Corporation is the five part picture of Robert Warwick in George Broadhurst's famous story of modern political corruption called "The Man of the Hour," which will be shown at the Dreamland Theatre Saturday night.

The story is that of life in a large city. A young man of wealth and social position is elected mayor of the city through the machine methods of the boss politician. He tells the gangster that he intends to do his duty.

The new mayor is ambitious and filled with lofty ideals. He is also in love with the niece of one of the wealthiest men in the city and she promises to marry him if he makes a name for himself.

Not long after he takes office a bill passes the city council giving a sweeping franchise to the company of which his fiancée's uncle is president, and that gentleman and his political helper insist that the mayor sign the bill. This is the crucial point of the play, and here comes in one of the strongest bits of action on the stage. The hero is torn between love and duty, but he does not swerve. The measure is vicious and he vetoes the ordinance. He does not lose by this courageous act, for in the end, his fiancée sees that he is a big man and agrees to marry him. The chief of the grafters and the unscrupulous financier are both sent to jail.

Misses Anna and Maggie McGivern returned to Portland after spending a week with relatives here.
