DEATH CALLS MISS RUTH M. WANN

Ruth May Wann died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Ernest Adams, on January 18, 1915. She had been afflicted the past few years with tuberculosis. She was born Aug. 11, 1898 and was 21 years, 5 months and 19 days old at the time of her death. She leaves a host of sorrowing relatives and friends. She was a lovable, christian young lady and during the short span of her life on earth, always followed in the footsteps of her Savior. Always of a cheerful disposition she radiated sunshine wherever she went and had no fear of the Great Beyond.

The funeral was held from the Baptist church Saturday at 11 o'clock a. m. and was largely attended. Rev. D. E. Baker rendered a beautiful eulogy on the life of the departed and Miss Amy O'Dell, tenderly and sympathetically sang her favorite song, "Sweetly Resting."

The steel bridge gang from Nyssa arrived here Tuesday and put in a temporary spur to accommodate their cars. They have been working about a year at the Nyssa railroad bridges, replacing them. The foreman, Mr. Draper, stated that they would put in the first bridge west of Ontario, then they would go to Caldwell for some work and then return and put in the other bridge here. There are sixteen men in the gang and it will take them about two months to put in the first bridge. There is altogether a year's work on the bridges here.

BRIDGE WORKER IS DROWNED AT NYSSA

John Lane working in the Draper steel gang on the Nyssa bridge was drowned last Friday afternoon. Mr. Lane was about thirty two years of age and has worked for the company about two years. The steel gang had just completed their work on the Nyssa bridge and were putting up the false work in the river at the west bridge. Mr. Lane and a companion were in a boat and were fastening the chain to the piles. While engaged in this work the boat was upset, both men clung to the piling which was all around them and were waiting to be taken off. Mr. Lane, who was an excellent swimmer, called to his fellow workmen that he would swim ashore and started out confidently, he had gone about fifty feet when he began to show signs of distress and before a boat could reach him he sank. Efforts were at once commenced to recover the body and the river was dynamited.

Harry Wilson, who used to be in the drug business in Ontario, visited here a few days last week. Mr. Wilson is night foreman of the Cornucopia Mills Co. He states that this mill employs one hundred men and that the Baker Mills Co. employs about seventy five. Three mills run day and night continuously throughout the year. The last named mill is a twenty stamp mill and was just built last summer.

A symphony octette has been organized from the more advanced students, which will practice on more difficult and classical music. More will be heard from the band when the weather gets nicer as they will take up outdoor music and serenades.
