AMERICAN PASPORTS ARE NOW LIMITED

(Special to The Argus.)

Washington.—In response to inquiries, Secretary Bryan, in a letter made public, reiterated the announcement that the state department does not deem it advisable to issue passports to persons who wish to visit belligerent countries of Europe for the mere purpose of sightseeing or pleasure.

THREE LOST IN BANDON WRECK

(Special to The Argus.)

Bandon, Or.—One passenger and two members of the crew of five of the gasoline schooner Randolph were drowned when the vessel capsized just off the bar here. Of the three remaining members of the crew one swam ashore and the other two were taken from the engine room alive, one hour later when the boat washed ashore.

R. E. Knorr, a druggist of Gold Beach; Milton Cox, of this city, cook on the boat, and E. L. McConnell, of Langlois, Or., manager and part owner of the craft, were the men who lost their lives.

The Randolph was attempting to make port here when the accident happened. When about 300 feet out, side of the jetty she was hit by a breaker that keeled her over and immediately following this came one which capsized her.

GERMANS CONTINUE ADVANCE IN WEST

(Special to The Argus.)

Berlin, by wireless to London.—Army headquarters gave out the following report:

"We obtained further results at Ypres. The ground captured north of Ypres was retained in spite of the attacks of the enemy. Farther east we continued our attack and took by storm the Solart farm southwest of St. Julien, as well as the villages of St. Julien and Kerselaere, and advanced victoriously toward Gravenstafel. During these engagements about 1000 Englishmen were taken prisoners and several machine guns were captured.

"A British counter-attack against our positions west of St. Julien was repulsed with very heavy losses to the enemy.

"West of Wiel attempts of the British to make an attack were quenched at the start by the fire of our artillery. In the Argonne we repulsed an attack by two French battalions north of Four-de-Paris.

"In the Meuse hills, southwest of Combrès, the French suffered heavy defeats."

Oil Found at Baker Causes Excitement

Baker.—Visions of an eastern Oregon oil field, with this city at the center, are in order here, following heavy seepage of oil in the drill hole at the test well being sunk by C. S. Blackmon and associates. It is known there is oil in the valley, as heavy seepages from artesian and other wells have been noted at many points, but the greasy mud and pure oil in the drill hole was of such quantity that a bucketful was dipped out.

MILITARY OBSERVERS DEEPLY INTERESTED

(Special to The Argus.)

London.—Military observers are deeply interested in the Russian report that Austria unexpectedly greatly increased heavy artillery forces in the Carpathians, and the Vienna report of successes, as follows:

"On the Carpathian front, in the Orava valley, near Koziova, the Austrians have gained a new success. After a six day attack, executed with the greatest doggedness, our troops stormed the height of Ostry to the south of Koziova. Simultaneously the Austro-German troops succeeded in gaining ground on and to the south of Road 652, which the Russians had captured."

The Russian official communication says: "In the Carpathians the enemy recently has been increasing in volume his artillery fire on the whole front. He has apparently brought up fresh units of heavy artillery. During the night of the 24-25th the enemy delivered a series of persistent attacks in the regions of Uzok Pass, which we repulsed with rifle fire and hand-grenades, inflicting great losses on him."

FOUR KILLED WHEN LIMITED HITS AUTO

(Special to The Argus.)

Creswell, Or.—The northbound Shasta Limited of the Southern Pacific company struck an automobile driven by F. E. Sly in front of his home here, smashed it to fragments and killed four small children who occupied the tonneau, besides injuring Mr. Sly so badly that it is thought he cannot recover.

Mr. Sly is an elderly man. He had just brought his automobile from the garage and alighted to open the gate leading to the Southern Pacific track, intending to cross the Pacific Highway, when the four children came along on their way to Sunday school. They were invited to ride and clambered into the car. It was apparent that neither they nor Mr. Sly saw or heard the approaching train, for Mr. Sly got in and ran the automobile on the track directly in front of it.

The horrified witnesses heard a crash and saw the automobile hurled high in the air and fall at one side of the track. The train sped on without stopping, its engine crew unconscious of what had happened.

T. R. GIVES VIEWS ON CONTRIBUTIONS

(Special to The Argus.)

Syracuse, N. Y.—Theodore Roosevelt told on his cross-examination, about his dealings with the "bosses," his personal relations with William Barnes, and his ideas about campaign funds of millions of dollars. He mentioned the famous $500,000 which Thomas Fortune Ryan contributed to the presidential cause of Alton B. Parker, and swore he had never seen a list of the persons who helped swell the fund of $3,000,000 used in connection with his own campaign for the presidency.

In speaking of the Ryan contribution, the witness gave it as his opinion that a leader of big business who contributed $500,000 to help elect a candidate for president of the United States was prompted by the same spirit which would cause him to donate a similar sum to a church, and that such a contributor has no more hope of reward in one case than he has in the other.

Personally, he emphatically declared he would regard just as highly a contribution of $25 from the station agent at Oyster Bay as he would a contribution of $25,000 from George W. Perkins, who, in 1904, was a partner in the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co.

O'Reilly, head of the Diamond O line and interested in waterfront properties, as well as being a member of the Port of Portland Commission, has become the owner of the stock, steamers and other holdings of The Dalles, Portland & Astoria Navigation company, an adjunct of the Spokane, Portland & Seattle railroad. The exact amount of money involved is not publicly stipulated but is generally estimated to be between $65,000 and $75,000 as the property had been held at that figure, it is reported.

SAY THAT APPLE INCREASE UNLIKELY

(Special to The Argus.)

Hood River.—Indications in all parts of the Hood River Valley point to an apple crop no larger than that of last year, despite the fact that numerous young tracts will come into bearing this season. While a few scattered orchards promise a big yield, growers say that the old tracts will bloom scantily. Judging from the expressions of growers who have inspected the orchards, the crop will about equal that of last year, when the Apple Growers' association handled 843 carloads of apples and the Fruitgrowers' Exchange 90 carloads.

Assailant of Egypt's Sultan Hanged. Cairo, Egypt.—The young Egyptian merchant named Khalil, who made an unsuccessful attempt to kill Hussein Kamel, the sultan of Egypt, at Cairo on April 8, was hanged.

IS NOT ENTITLED TO COMPENSATION

(Special to The Argus.)

Roseburg.—Holding that an employer is not entitled to recover money for injuries sustained, even though he has taken advantage of the workmen's compensation act, Judge Skipworth, of Eugene, handed down a decision in which he held that the state industrial accident commission acted within its rights when it refused to pay the claim of E. F. Lang, of Dillard, Douglas county. Mr. Lang, who owns and operates a mill near Dillard, was injured in August, 1914, and later filed a claim for compensation.

CORVALLIS MAN STABBED TO DEATH

(Special to The Argus.)

Corvallis.—The body of Will Purdy was found near his home here by two members of the railroad section crew. Purdy evidently had been murdered. He had been struck just below the heart with a knife. Appearances were that he had jumped through the window after being stabbed, and had crawled or fell forward a short distance.

The sheriff and coroner were notified and George Avery was arrested on suspicion.

MEDFORD BANK ROBBED OF $600

(Special to The Argus.)

Medford.—Throwing a bottle of ammonia in the face of E. R. Rosser, cashier of the Rogue River State Bank at Rogue River, and then gagging him with an ether-soaked handkerchief, an unidentified robber obtained $600 in cash, stepped into a waiting automobile and escaped. Later he was pursued by sheriff's posses from both Jackson and Josephine counties.

According to the cashier's story, he was just closing his books for the day when a strange man entered and, coming swiftly toward him, directed a savage blow at his face. Mr. Rosser put up his arm in defense, while the robber, with his other hand, threw the contents of a bottle of ammonia full in his face.

Blinded and gasping, Mr. Rosser tried to escape, but was quickly overpowered, bound and gagged and soon succumbed to the ammonia fumes.

Fruit is Hurt by Frosts. Pendleton.—Farmers who have made a survey of their crops since the drop in temperature, which brought frost and ice in some sections of Umatilla county, report considerable damage done to fruit and vegetables. The general opinion among wheatgrowers is that the grain has not been injured, but much alfalfa has fallen. The damage in this county is confined largely to the irrigation district around Stanfield and Hermiston, especially in the lower lands.

LATEST WAR BRIEFS

(Special to The Argus.)

The German successes at Ypres is the most important thing they have achieved in the western theatre of war since the battle of Solissons in January.

The German rushes in Flanders and the Woivre, where they claim to have had considerable success, are believed to be the forerunners of another big effort to break through the allied lines in the west.

The attack in Flanders, originally leveled at the French, was transferred to the British lines held by the Canadians, where for two days the men from the Dominion engaged in a deadly contest with the Germans. The latter say in their official report that they have made further progress toward Ypres and that the British counter-attack has been repulsed.

The French account, on the other hand, declares that the allies' counter attacks continue with success and that the British hold all their positions, and repeats the charge that the Germans are using bombs containing asphyxiating gases.

The German attack in the Woivre, or in the Meuse Hills, was directed against the French positions to the southwest of Combrès, and, according to the Berlin statement, the French suffered a heavy defeat. Paris, however, says that in a counter-attack the Germans were completely driven out of the French first line, which they had pushed back.

The eastern front has been enjoying a period of comparative calm except in the mid-Carpathians, where the Russians continue to attack the Austrians in Uzok Pass, and to the eastward, where the Austrians and Germans are trying to crush the Russian flank. Both sides report successes.
