How He Lost the Cook.
 "Well, where's that cook?" demanded his wife. "Don't tell me that she wasn't on the train."
 "She was on the train," timidly explained the commuter, "but I got to playing cards and a Lonelyville man won her at whist."—Atlanta Journal.

FRANK'S THROAT IS CUT
Attack is Made in Sleep by a Fellow Prisoner.
 Milledgeville, Ga.—Leo M. Frank, serving a life imprisonment sentence for the murder of Mary Phagan, an Atlanta factory girl, was attacked while asleep and his throat cut by William Green, a fellow prisoner, at the state prison farm here. His condition is serious but there is a chance for his recovery.
 Frank's throat was slashed for several inches and the jugular vein partially severed.
 Green was placed in solitary confinement. He is serving a life term for murder. In a statement to the prison officials he said he was sorry that he had made the attack, but that at the time he thought he was doing the right thing.
 The attack was made in the dormitory. All lights were out at the time. Green is said to have had the knife secreted in his prison clothing.

A DECISIVE VILLA DEFEAT REPORTED
 Douglas, Ariz.—After a six-hour battle in Anavacachi Pass, west of Agua Prieta, General Calles, Carranza commander in Sonora, was reported to have decisively defeated Villa troops under command of General Jose Maria Acosta. The Calles force was said to number 3000, while those of Acosta were reported as 1500 strong.
 In a message received here by A. Garduno, consul for Carranza, from General Calles at Lamorita, 29 miles west of Agua Prieta, the Villa troops were reported as demoralized and fleeing in all directions.
 In the course of the fighting 300 men of Acosta's command deserted, and joined the ranks of Calles, according to the report, which estimated the Villa dead, wounded and captured at 500. Calles did not report his own casualties, though they were claimed by officials in Agua Prieta to be relatively small.
 Tillman Says Canal is Safe.
 Portland, Or.—Senator Ben R. Tillman of South Carolina declared in an interview here, "that any foreign foe which dares to attack the Panama canal will be highly entertained." Senator Tillman stopped in Portland to visit his daughter, Mrs. Henry W. Hughes. From here he intends to go to Alaska.
 "I studied the canal and its defenses for a week," declared Senator Tillman, "and I found the defenses wholly adequate."

 Scores of letters are being received by Superintendent of Public Instruction Churchill in regard to the Oregon standard school plan and playground manual. Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana and Ohio are among those interested and their inquiries are largely a result of a visit to the state's educational exhibit at the San Francisco fair.
 Many people who played a prominent part in making Oregon history were present at the funeral of Walter P. (Jack) Matthews. Few men in Portland were more widely known than was Mr. Matthews in the years that he was recognized as political dictator of Oregon, and those who came to pay him a final tribute included many who had been associated with him in politics. Judge Henry E. McGinn, who had known Mr. Matthews for nearly 50 years, made a brief address. He reviewed the active life of Mr. Matthews, telling of his early manhood and dwelling particularly on his political career. Many incidents of a personal nature were related.
