SECOND DAY'S ATTENDANCE
THREE-THOUSAND PEOPLE

IDEAL WEATHER, GOOD MUSIC, ENTHUSIASTIC CROWDS, ALL GO TO MAKE SECOND DAY OF FAIR BEST ONE SO FAR.

Many Visitors Came Yesterday From Surrounding Towns To Join in Making This Fair Most Successful From Every Standpoint.

Nearly three thousand people were in attendance at the Malheur County Fair yesterday and all were well satisfied with the races and the amusement provided for them. The Weiser band was one of the principal attractions and many hundreds of visitors came in yesterday on trains and in autos from the surrounding towns and country.

One of the principal features of the fair this year has been that the program has started on time and all the events are pulled off on time, avoiding any delay or waits. The trotting races were good yesterday although considerable time was lost in jockeying with the horses in starting. Today the starter has made the announcement that this jockeying will not be tolerated and the trotting or pacing horses will be started without delay.

The boy's saddle horse race was fast and full of ginger. Four horses came four abreast down the home stretch and not until they were within two feet of the wire was it possible to determine the winner. The girl's relay race is always popular. Miss Sage finished first for the second time yesterday and this race will not be run again. The farm wagon race or "farmer's chariot" race, was a good one and somewhat of a novelty. The wild horse race at the conclusion of the program was fine and the horses gave a good exhibition of bucking. Some fancy roping was evident too, before some of the horses were saddled as several got away from the men when they were first taken from the corral and considerable difficulty was experienced in catching them.

The motor cycle race was thrilling and finished in much better time than the previous day. Tilston, a local man, had difficulty in mounting and did not get away in the race. Paul Campbell another local man, made two laps and quit. Oster, who made a good showing in the race Tuesday, skidded into the fence in making a turn in the fifth lap and bruised his head pretty bad. Beagle led the race until the seventh lap when Williams got ahead and kept his position until the finish.

The balloon ascension early in the afternoon was a decided success, the man making the parachute drop from several hundred feet in the air. Mrs. De Garo and Miss Anita De Garo, the two lady members of troupe which has been giving trapeze performances in the arena, met with an accident yesterday while hanging with their teeth at either end of a horizontal bar. One of the girls had a false tooth which pulled loose and both fell to the ground. Mrs. De Garro was badly bruised and her back injured, but both will be out today for a part in the entertainment.

The John Day Indians arrived yesterday and will have a part in the program today.

Dan Holly of the Big Bend Mercantile Company was here yesterday to attend the fair.

A party including the Misses Clara and Anna Anderson of Riverview, Miss Maxwell of Nyssa, Dorothy Pilcher of Nyssa, George Tombs of Nyssa and Gordon Judd of Riverview, motored up yesterday and stayed over last evening to attend the fair and carnival.

"Popearn" Pillsbury of Big Bend, was up yesterday for the fair.

MANY JUDGES KEPT BUSY ON EXHIBITS

(From Thursday's daily)
The exhibit hall belonged to the judges the greater part of yesterday, who were making awards on the vast number of exhibits in every department. H. H. Weatherspoon, district fruit inspector of this district, and J. W. Brewer of the Chamber of Commerce of Portland, have been busy two days on the agriculture and horticultural exhibits. Oren Nelson of O. A. C. arrived yesterday to judge the stock, and the stock will be on parade Friday. G. G. Wherry has finished the judging of the poultry.

It is said by all who visit the fair, and by officials, that so many entries have never before been made in the different departments and it was quite a task for the judges to determine the prize winning exhibits.

THREE MEN HELD FOR STEALING SHEEP

(From Thursday's daily)
Three men were given a hearing in Vale yesterday upon a charge of stealing sheep. They were Wm. Kooser, Jug Kelly and a man by the name of Morrison. They were charged with the stealing of four sheep from Wm. Atnow of Juntura. They were bound over to the grand jury and admitted to $500 bail, and which they had not been able to furnish at a late hour last night, and are still in the custody of the sheriff. Prosecuting attorney Brook appeared for the state.

WITHYCOMBE LEAVES FOR PORTLAND

(From Thursday's daily)
The announcement was made yesterday that Harry Withycombe had sold his interest in the Ontario Pharmacy to C. S. Watson, giving Mr. Watson the entire ownership now. Mr. Watson has been here for three years and a half and is well and favorably known in the county. The Pharmacy will continue under the same policy as in the past. Mr. Withycombe expects to go from here to Portland, but has not decided what he will take up. His many friends regret very much to lose this young business man and hope he may see fit to return to Ontario at some future date.

CATTLE IS SHIPPED FROM THE INTERIOR

(From Thursday's daily)
Fourteen cars of cattle arrived here from the interior Tuesday evening, being shipped here by Henry Blackwell, the well known stockman. Eight cars will go to the market at Kansas City and six cars were unloaded here where Mr. Blackwell will pasture them for a while.

MAN WHO STOLE HAT
GETS THIRTY DAYS

(From Thursday's daily)
James McMillen who stole the ladies hat from the Grove & Riley Millinery store Tuesday evening, appeared before Judge King yesterday and was sentenced to 30 days in jail.

Early Tuesday evening two men entered the millinery store and walking directly back to a table in the middle of the store, McMillen picked up a hat and put it under his coat. When the theft was discovered, the man made a dash for the door and a number of men followed and he was apprehended by Officer Beagle a few minutes later. The hat was thrown into some straw, but found and returned to the owner.

IS ENTHUSIASTIC
OVER GOOD ROADS

If the little town of Hood River can afford to bond itself for $50,000 to bring the Columbia Highway through their little city, why can't the county of Malheur afford to spend a little money, and its citizens unite in an effort, to bring the State Highway over the proposed new route. This is the question being asked by Dr. Prinzing who has just returned from a visit to the western part of the state. The proposed new route is to leave the Columbia river a short distance above The Dalles and take a short cut in a southeasterly direction, connecting with the Idaho State Highway at Ontario and Fruitland. It is claimed that this route will bring the highway through the lowest pass in the Blue mountain and will be 120 miles shorter than the route formerly proposed through La Grande and Baker.

Gilliam, Wheeler and Malheur counties would equally benefit from this route and it is hoped that committees will immediately get in communication with the organizations in these counties and make plans to work harmoniously for the highway. Dr. Prinzing is more than enthusiastic over the scenic beauty of the Columbia Highway. He states that he was over the greater part of it, and believes that nothing in the foreign countries could equal the natural beauty along this road. Every available spot of beauty has been brought out and paved roads or paths lead to all the attractive places.

Portland is spending an enormous sum this year, states Dr. Prinzing, to bring the transcontinental travel through Portland, and so far has succeeded in bringing many thousands of tourists there, who are lavish in their praise of the city and the beautiful drives. That Portland has succeeded in bringing the tourists there in the past few years is demonstrated in the fact that six mammoth hotels have been built in the past ten years, some of them with as many as 750 rooms each.

Baker, Sept. 20, (Special).—Mrs. J. L. Masters was killed here Saturday in an attempt to jump from a buggy, while the horses were running away. The woman was thrown head first to the pavement. She was riding with her husband when the horses became frightened at a motor cycle.

When the animals plunged ahead, Mr. Masters slid out of the buggy, and Mrs. Masters, terrified, stood up to jump and was hurled to the pavement. She died fifteen minutes after the accident. The motorcyclist disappeared. Mrs. Masters was 52 years old. She is survived by a son, W. J. Masters of Baker, and her husband.
