

POPULAR YOUNG CITIZEN GIVES DEPUTY CHASE

One of our very popular young citizens gave our deputy sheriff quite an exciting chase last week. While on a trip out in the country the horse this popular citizen of ours was riding, became too tired to proceed on to the desired destination, so he stopped at a ranch, the owner of which was a friend of his but who did not happen to be at home at this moment, and exchanged his horse for a fresh one. When the rancher came home he noticed this strange horse and that his saddle horse was gone. The rancher, thinking that some horse thief had visited the place, immediately came to town and swore out a complaint and the deputy sheriff and himself started in pursuit and soon overtook him, who by this time was on his return home with the rancher's horse. While greatly embarrassed to be confronted by the deputy sheriff, who was armed with a John Doe warrant for his arrest, the mistake was at once realized, and the young man was not held. However, he was presented with a bill of costs which the deputy sheriff had incurred by telephoning to officers in outside points about the horse thief who turned out to be one of our highly esteemed citizens. —Jordan Valley Express.

BURNS BOY HAS CASE OF "BIG JAW"

Burns.—A physician in Portland has diagnosed the case of Nicholas Robinson as a case of "Big Jaw." Nick Robinson, accompanied by his brother, Dewey, left for Portland a short time ago to enter school and was at that time suffering from what he supposed was an abscess on the face. Not receiving relief he called in a physician who in turn called a consultation of other doctors and the diagnosis was made. This is a disease that is not uncommon among cattle on the range, but is something new among human beings.

Unity, Ore.—The new creamery here is nearing completion and it is expected it will be running within Burns.—While attempting to take one Lloyd Mosely, a drunk, to jail on Tuesday of last week, City Marshal Haines was shot through the fleshy part of his leg. Mr. Haines was given immediate medical attention and is recovering satisfactorily now. The drunk man received a gun wound in one of the fingers of his left hand and had his head badly bruised with the marshal's "billy" but with the exception of a little pain, has practically recovered.

Mosely, who had been employed in a sheep camp near Diamond, started to town, it is said, to attend to some land business, but when a traveling companion gave him some whisky, he became rather unruly on the stage and gave his fellow passengers a little uneasiness with his reckless handling of his 32 calibre automatic pistol.

When the marshal accosted him on the streets here, he stated that he had some business with Chip Smith. The officer accompanied him to the meat market and when he reached there the man admitted that he had no business with the proprietor and when the marshal tried to take the man to jail, he refused. In the struggle that followed, in which the marshal was assisted by Mr. Smith, the shooting occurred, and the drunken man was finally overcome by the officer after numerous bruises on the head. It is likely the matter will be taken up directly with the grand jury.
