

SUPREME TRIUMPH OF THE EDISON DIAMOND DISC PHONOGRAPH

Proved Before Thousands that It Actually Recreates the Voice in Transcontinental Low Test Tone of Christine Miller.

HAD THE PRESS COMMENTS ON THESE DEMONSTRATIONS

The romance and beauty of scientific inventions were demonstrated at evening when a theatre full of people listened to a woman as she sang a duet with herself, it was wonderful—Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin.

During the test at times the artist stopped singing and it was difficult in some instances impossible to tell that the singer was not still singing—Philadelphia Ledger.

If there was a difference between a record and Christine Miller's voice, the ear was not keen enough to detect it—Johnstown Democrat.

The listeners could not distinguish between the voice of the singer and that which issued from the machine. —Los Angeles Tribune.

One of the most startling proofs of the new instrument to imitate the human voice was when Miss Miller sang a duet with her own voice—Boston (Pa.) Leader.
