Many of the younger people who spent their time skating Thursday were greatly disappointed by the fall of snow that evening, as it spoiled that pastime for some time to come.

We have a lot of garden and flower seeds sent out by Congressman Sinnott for free distribution. Call in the office and get them or drop us a card and we will mail them to you, while they last.

The youngsters are sure having a fine time this winter with the ice and snow. After reading of the two little Boise tots getting frozen some mothers may give their boys and girls a little more care.

The Good Will club, a branch of the Rebekka Lodge, held an evening of entertainment at the home of Mrs. Draper last Friday. Twenty-nine members were present and a good program consisting of musical numbers and games, was arranged.

Saturday the Ontario Cash Grain Company shipped over 4000 pounds of baled hay to Brogan to be used for feeding stock at that place. This is the first shipment of any size that has been shipped out of Ontario, all of which has been produced formerly having been used here by stockmen. This is not a sign that the stock is decreasing in number, but that the farmers are beginning to realize the importance of alfalfa as a wealth producing product. This increase of this crop can best be seen by the fact that more live stock is being fed in this community this winter than in recent years and yet the Cash Grain Company has enough surplus to make the first shipment out of Ontario.

The Grange Hall was the scene of merrymaking two nights in succession last week, when the people of that vicinity held a Basket Social Friday evening and the Hall was occupied the next evening by the Artisan Lodge, who held an opening meeting at that place. They went out from Ontario in a sleigh, but owing to the fact that much of the snow had melted, the occupants spent more of their time getting there than they anticipated. The evening was spent in dancing and other entertainments. Refreshments were served and the party did not break up until about twelve o'clock. Both of these gatherings were well attended and it seems that the Grange Hall is becoming the center of attraction for the people of the Boulevard.

Misses Vanderhoof and Bellingsley were in Vale Tuesday visiting with friends.

Julien Hurley the aspirant for the nomination for State Senator was in Ontario Wednesday shaking hands with the voters.

"Settle-up-week" has become a popular institution in a number of Iowa communities. The week beginning February 6th is devoted to the payment of all past due notes, bills, store accounts and newspaper subscriptions. It's a good idea. This is a Chinese custom that the alleged civilized nations could well adopt.

Rev. Koenig, of the Congregational Church has gone to Lowell, near Everett, Washington, to assist in special services there. He expects to be gone several weeks. During his absence Dr. R. B. Wright, D. D., of Boise will conduct the services here. The Doctor is said to be a very able speaker.

The directors of the Gem Irrigating district have received favorable reports from engineers regarding the locating of power plants on the Boise river. The estimate indicates it will cost not to exceed $6 a horse power to maintain and operate the plant, about one-third of what they are now paying.

Saturday, February 5th, is known as Flag Day among the Child Welfare workers, when small silk flags will be offered for sale. The money to be used by the Parent Teachers association. We believe this move is in connection with the Womens Congress, but honest, now, we do not know anything about it, but have no doubt but what it is worthy, because of the women who are interested. Buy a flag and find out about it when you have leisure.

WILL R. KING VISITS CITY

Will R. King, legal advisor for the Reclamation Service, was here a few days last week visiting among his many friends.

He was accompanied by R. M. Patrick and B. E. Stoutemyer, of Boise, E. W. Burr, of North Yakima, Wash., E. S. Taylor, of Portland, all of his legal division of the Reclamation Service and C. C. Fisher, of Boise, acting project manager of the Boise Reclamation project.

Judge King was in Denver last week attending a meeting of the officers of the Reclamation Service and left Sunday evening for Yuma, Arizona, where John F. Richardson, formerly located here, and others of the service are endeavoring to stop the annual overflow of the Colorado river. The engineers believe that a series of dams in the Grand Canyon will accomplish the task at no great cost.

When Judge King was asked regarding the attitude of the Reclamation people toward the Warm Springs project, said that when the reports of State Engineer Lewis and government engineer Whistler reached the department the matter would no doubt be given due consideration.

At the Denver meeting F. E. Weymouth was nominated as chief of construction and this was later confirmed by Secretary Lane.

Mr. Weymouth has been in charge of the Boise project and this promotion is no doubt an acknowledgement of his good work.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS.

Many of our correspondents were late with their news this week and it was left out, but by another week they will get in line. The school column and some good stuff by Howard and others is in the list. In order to insure the publication of any news it must reach us not later than Tuesday as we print our paper on Wednesdays and have no time that day for outside copy.

Remember the Lincoln banquet at Vale on February 12th.

Mr. and Mrs. T. McParlin Gough report the arrival of a nine pound girl at their home Tuesday. Mr. Gough is the publisher of the Midvale Reporter. Some five years ago the couple were with the Argus. Their friends here extend congratulations.
